County Community Chest Supplies Data on Agencies Served

Presented below is information concerning the activities of some of the agencies supported by the Pennington county Community Chest, which will open its annual fund drive next week.

THE SALVATION ARMY

Founded in 1865 by William Booth, the Salvation Army operates in 89 countries and colonies, and maintains a branch in Thief River Falls which serves the surrounding area by aiding the unfortunates. Its activities cover a wide field of social work as well as in the field of religion. Lieut. Arthur Weir is in charge of the Thief River Falls unit.

MINNESOTA HEART FUND

The Heart Fund devotes a major portion of its resources to research in the cause and treatment of diseases of the heart, carried on at the University of Minnesota medical center. More than 16 times as many Minnesotans will die this year of diseases of the heart and circulatory system as will be killed in traffic accidents.

UNITED DEFENSE FUND (USO)

The USO was organized in 1941 "to aid in the war and defense program of the United States and its Allies by serving the religious, spiritual, welfare and educational needs of the men and women in the armed forces. . . throughout the world, and in general to contribute to the maintenance of morale in American communities and elsewhere . . ."

The USO has a splendid record of service. It has been in operation almost continuously since its inception. We cannot relax our vigilance, consequently our soldiers are scattered around the world. Additional USO Camp Shows and USO Clubs are urgently needed overseas and in this country.

SISTER KENNY FOUNDATION

The Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation is a non-profit organization. Its primary objectives are:

Training—Training of registered nurses and physical therapists in additional post-graduate courses to become Kenny therapists.

Research—Provision of funds and facilities for medical research to find a safe preventive or cure for the disease.

Medical Seminars—Financing and conducting of medical seminars for and by doctors to better acquaint them with the Kenny concept and treatment of polio.

Emergency Aid—Providing for emergency Kenny therapist aid to areas where incidence of polio is at high level.

BOY SCOUTS, GIRL SCOUTS

The benefits to boys and girls resulting from affiliation with the Boy Scout and Girl Scout program are well known to people living in the Thief River Falls community, where scores of children belong, and receive invaluable training for citizenship, as well as in arts and crafts and outdoor living.

Engineers, brought greetings from his organization, and praised the contributions of the veteran employes as well as of the younger generation that succeeded them. He added that rail transportation is a vital part of the nation and this community, and said the workers are proud of their railroad and of the town they live in.

Brooke Jones, general chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen in Minnesota, recalled that he was employed by the Soo Line here for four years shortly after the railroad reached this city. He said that he thought then that Thief River Falls was going to amount to something, and that his judgement had been fully vindicated. Good transportation, he added, has played a prominent part in the city's development, and the railroad men too have helped build the community.

Clive T. Jaffray, former head of the Soo Line and, at 89, still an active member of the board spoke briefly, reminiscing about the early days. He recalled having driven into this city in a buggy in 1903 over the present right-of-way of the railroad in company with Edmund Pennington, president of the system.

Howard I. McMillan, member of the board of the Soo Line as well as president of the Osborne McMillan Co., which operates the terminal elevator in Thief River Falls, said the O M company is pleased with its establishment here. He said the Soo Line is lucky to have Thief River Falls, and that this city is lucky to have the Soo.

The program opened with the invocation by the Rev. J. J. Jacobson. Musical selections included numbers on the electric guitar by Bob Sjulestad and a group of songs by the American Legion auxiliary chorus directed by Miss Judith Halvorson. Ken Gustafson, general chairman of the anniversary celebration, announced the ensuing features of the three-day event.

Safe Wiring

If you have one of those old fashioned electric drop cords hanging from the ceiling of your home, chances are that it has a metal socket on the end with a metal pull chain. Or maybe you've done away with the drop cord, but still have some metal sockets in the ceiling with metal pull chains.

In either case, you have a potential danger you shouldn't ignore. Those fixtures are often found in city homes as well as on farms. Even when old houses have been modernized, these old fixtures often have been left in attics, closets, and basements, and sometimes in the kitchen.

I think that the danger is greater where the drop cords are close to laundry tubs, sinks or in the basements where the floor is sometimes damp. If you touch the metal socket or chain while standing on a damp floor or touching water pipes, you may get an uncomfortable tingle — even an injurious shock.

If the insulation on the socket is cracked or broken, the whole socket can become dangerously energized and even the low voltage household current (115-230) can deliver a fatal shock.

It's safer to have all wiring and drop cords in your home inspected by a competent electrician.

Good Roughage Essentials

How roughage quality affects grain feeding ability is shown by a study by L. S. Mix, formerly of the University of Minnesota and now with an eastern feed concern's research department. One recent Mix project showed that fed excellent quality roughage, a cow needed only about $87 worth of grain to produce 10,000 pounds of milk. But when roughage quality was poor, the scientists had to feed $265 worth of grain to get 10,000 lbs. of milk. The grain prices are eastern states', of course.

Silo Filling Dangerous

Don't let sadness and medical costs strike your family during silo filling time. Here are Glenn Prickett's safety tips. He's farm safety specialist at the University of Minnesota, you know. First, keep children away from the silo filling area. Silage cutters, whether field choppers or at the silo, should be shut off when you have to unclog, service or adjust them. Also, two men should be working in the silo. Many sad instances have involved a lone man working inside.

Parasites Present Big Bill

Three hundred parasites cost the nation's stockmen more than $432 million a year. Deaths were a big loss, of course, and others were condemnation of meat or whole carcasses at the packing houses. Wasted, too, are thousands of hours of labor and tons of feed. But science keeps chipping away at these losses. At the USDA's Beltsville Research Center, sheep given a free-choice one-to-nine mixture of phenothiazine and loose salt have been almost completely free of parasites for 12 years.

Shelterbelts Make Difference

How's your home's humidity? Farm shelterbelts reduce in the home by as much as up to five per cent. So says Parker Anderson, extension forester at the University of Minnesota.

CHATTING with your HOME AGENT

Marge Olsen

Homemakers have been asking for information on caring for their electrical equipment. Check yourself on the points of care—are you doing them now? If you are not, now is a good time to begin.

Refrigerators:

1. Defrost regularly — following manufacturer's directions.
2. Keep clean — wipe up spilled foods promptly. Wash inside with a sudsy warm water, or with baking soda solution.
3. Keep refrigerator level.
4. Protect gaskets. Do not use soapy water to clean rubber gaskets. Soap contains grease and grease softens rubber.
5. Avoid over loading.
6. Do not open door to often or for too long a time.

Home Freezers:

1. Defrosting — follow manufacturer's directions. Seldom needed more than once or twice a year.
2. Avoid overcrowding. Don't try to freeze too much food at one time.

Electric Ranges:

1. Wipe outside with warm, soapy water. Do not let spilled foods dry on range.
2. Do not use a stiff brush or sharp-pointed instruments to remove food spilled on surface units. It will burn itself off.
3. Wipe oven with damp cloth when it has cooled after use. Remove spilled food as soon as possible.
4. Leave oven door ajar after use to allow oven to cool and dry thoroughly.
5. Clean crumb tray under surface units daily.
6. Never turn heat on under empty deep well cooker. Be sure cooker never boils dry.
7. Have serviceman check range periodically — to be sure its' level, that units are operating satisfactory, and that wiring is in order.

Electric Roasters:

1. Take care that the roaster is not plugged into a circuit on which any other appliance with a heating element is connected. (Iron, toaster, coffee maker for instance.) The circuit may be overloaded. Never plug the cord for body of roaster and the broiler grid on the same circuit.
2. Do not immerse outer shell or broiler grid unit in water when cleaning as it will ruin the electrical connections. Wipe clean with damp cloth.

Electric Irons:

1. Keep the bottom of iron clean.
2. When barely warm, wipe off with damp cloth.
3. If starch sticks, while iron is slightly warm, rub it lightly with waxed paper.
4. Never immerse it in water.

Steam Irons:

1. Follow manufacturers' instructions.
2. Directions usually recommend distilled water to prevent rust or lime deposits from forming within the iron.

Next week we will talk about the care of more electrical appliances.

PUBLIC OPINION

To The Editor:

A hearty thank you is due to Ken Gustafson, the chairmen of all the committees, and their fellow workers for the efficient way that the Fiftieth Year Soo Line Celebration was handled. This event was enjoyed by all the visitors from far and near.

The visitors that traveled the longest distance was Fred G. Eagler, 309, East Cook St., Santa Maria, California and Fred Prewert, Clearwater, Florida, both are retired conductors. It was an event that will be long remembered by the old timers, acquaintances of long ago were renewed which would have been impossible except at a celebration of this magnitude.

There was one part that was agreed upon to be left out of all speeches at the celebration and that was that there was not to be any politics. This was not lived up to and that part of the celebration was not well taken by many people who were visitors.

Respectfully yours,
C. E. HELLQUIST

Prowlers Defeat East G. Forks Green Wave Friday Night 28 to 6

Scoring the first three times that they gained possession of the ball, and adding the conversion points on the touchdowns, coach Ralph Skjod's football Prowlers held a 21 to 0 first half lead, and went on to defeat coach Harold Sullivan's East Grand Forks team, 28 to 6, in a 31st district game played here Friday night.

With a record of three wins and no defeats, all in district competition, the Prowlers will meet an inter-district rival on Friday night when the Roseau Rams will invade Lincoln field for a game. In the three years, since 1951, that the Rams have been on the Prowler football schedule, Roseau has absorbed three losses, being beaten 33 to 6 in 1951, 33 to 0 in 1952, and 40 to 7 last year.

Friday night's game was a typical Prowler vs. Green Wave "bruiser." The Prowler had too diversified attack for the East Side defense, and the result was four touchdowns for the winners; while coach Sullivan's squad, handicapped by the absence of Bob Gilmadahl, was forced to rely on the powerful rushes of fullback John Cash. Cash, in addition to being the East Siders "offense", was a tower on defense, playing at left tackle.

The Prowlers, defending the east goal, received the game-opening kickoff and in six plays, from their own 42-yard line, they drove to the East Side 3-yard line. Sid Vraa, circled left end for the tally, and Mark Bjorkman's drive over left tackle added the point, giving the locals a 7 to 0 lead.

The Green Wave accepted the following kickoff, tried a pair of passes, which were incomplete. Ron Nisbet gained four yards around left end, on fourth down from their 40-yard line, Cash booted to Vraa, who was downed on the Prowlers' 34. Eight plays carried to the 1-foot line; an offside penalty moved the locals back five yards, but Vraa skirted right end for a touchdown, and added the point on a placement kick.

In the second period, Pete Froehle set up another score when he intercepted a Green Wave pass in mid-field and raced to the East Side 35-yard line. Mark Bjorkman hit left tackle for 5 yards, and an East Side offside penalty gave the Prowlers a first down on the 25. After Jim Sauve had lost a couple of yards at right guard, Froehle, from a spread formation, broke through tackle for a 27-yard touchdown sprint. Vraa's successful placekick boosted the Prowler lead to 21 to 0.

East Grand Forks, bringing the kickoff back to their 37-yard line on a 10-yard return by Nisbet, began a drive that carried to the Prowlers' 5 yard line as the half ended. The Green Wave, with Cash carrying on nine of the fifteen plays run off, made their yardage through the Prowler line.

The East Siders controlled the play throughout the third period, carrying the ball to the Prowlers' 5-yard line, where Pete Froehle recovered a fumble by Chuck Peterson. The Green Wave recovered the ball a few moments later when Vraa fumbled as he was tackled on the Prowlers' 23-yard line. East Side was on the Prowlers' 13-yard line, fourth down with a foot to go as the period ended.

Cash plunged for a first down to open the fourth period; and then hit the center of the line for 5 yards; Frank Barzen broke through to nail Cash for a yard loss on the next two plays, and on fourth down, Chuck Peterson tossed a pass to Dean Dallum in the end zone for the touchdown. The conversion point was smeared by a fumble.

The Prowlers rebounded after giving up that touchdown, taking the ball from their 29-yard line to the East Side 5-yard stripe, from where Bjorkman, on smash over left tackle, scored the locals' fourth td. Vraa's kick gave the Prowlers a 28 to 6 win.

Jobs Sought for the Handicapped in This Community

Gordon Nohre Chairman of Week's Observance Set for October 3 to 10

The tenth annual observance of national Employ the Physically Handicapped Week will be held from October 3-10, with the Thief River Falls office of the Minnesota state employment service again spearheading the annual effort in northwestern Minnesota to give proper emphasis to the tremendous accomplishments of physically handicapped workers.

A local committee, with representatives from business, government and civic groups, is in charge of arrangements for the Thief River Falls area. Gordon H. Nohre is chairman, with Harlan Elseth serving as secretary.

It is estimated that there are approximately two million persons in this country who have physical impairments that must be taken into consideration in choosing their occupation. State employment services throughout the country have special aids, including physical capacities forms, job analysis techniques and aptitude tests, to assist in effecting placement in suitable jobs. Records indicate that two million placements of disabled workers have been made since 1945 by these offices.

The employment service office in Thief River Falls at present has a total of eight physically handicapped persons registered for employment. This is considerably less than usual, since the fall months are peak months for employment and many disabled workers accept temporary jobs during the period when there is a shortage of workers. Persons with physical disabilities who are interested in employment are urged to contact the office, as are employers who have job opportunities available for these workers.

They must have sufficient financial resources to sustain themselves for approximately four or five weeks from the date of appointment until they receive their first salary check. Applicants with veteran preference who meet all requirements will be given priority over non-veteran applicants.

Enumerator jobs applicants must be licensed to operate and must provide a privately owned automobile in good condition. Pay rates will provide for the cost of operating cars on official census business.

Indians Induct Secy. D. McKay into Tribe

In a highly colorful ceremony in the tourist park Saturday afternoon, Peter Graves, venerable secretary of the Red Lake band of Indians, inducted Douglas McKay, U. S. secretary of the interior, as an honorary member of the Chippewa tribe.

Assisting were a group of other Indians and Richard Butts, superintendent of the Red Lake agency, who read the official resolution of the council authorizing the induction.

Following the singing of a tribal song by the chiefs, Graves gave Secretary McKay the name of Ke-Che-Tau Way-She-Ben-Gaid-Been Dig, translated as "The honorable secretary of the interior."

Graves presented Mr. McKay with a handsome decorated leather jacket and trousers, moccasins and a pipe, as well as with other gifts for members of his family.

The ceremony ended with the singing of a war dance song dedicated to the secretary, who joined in the war dance that followed. He said he would cherish the memory of the ceremony all his life.

The Thief River Falls community enjoyed ideal early fall weather on all three days of the 50th anniversary celebration last week end, the mercury reaching highs of 69 Friday, 73 Saturday and 71 Sunday. Ducks, Very Limited

The 1954 duck hunting season, for Minnesota, opens at 12:00 noon on Saturday, October 2nd, and the prospects for a successful opening day shoot aren't much brighter than they were for the upland game-bird season.

It appears, from sidewalk conversations with a number of the city's duck hunters, that the Roseau bog area will attract most attention. The Roseau bog area is pretty much of a duck-boat water, and some of the hunters will travel north to Badger until they hit the dike, and then go downstream to the hunting grounds; while others will drive north of Greenbush, past Haug, and take the "feeder" ditches and move into the duck marshes. It is reported that the area has quite a concentration of ducks, and with the flooded water conditions that prevail around Lancaster, it's probable that this territory will produce the best duck hunting this year.

As has been the case the past several seasons, a number of local hunters will journey to the Lake of the Woods, and there they will hunt the swamp area along the south shore of the lake, just north of Swift, and in the Zippel Bay duck marsh. On a trip to Zippel Bay a couple of weeks ago we saw large numbers of ducks, but they may have moved out of there by this time as the lake has gone down a foot or two and the feed may be coming scarce.

And, of course, the Thief Lake hunting grounds will hold its annual reunion of the Boys of the Bulrush, and there will be a hunter in every clump of rushes. With the long range weather forecast predicting rain for this weekend, the hunters planning on going to Thief Lake should, if the rains do come, travel by way of Goodridge and Gatzke. The Middle River to Gatzke highway is being rebuilt, and a moderate rain will make that road impassable. An investigation of Thief Lake on Sunday didn't reveal very many ducks, but it's probable with the hunting pressure up north, and some turbulent weather, that the canvasbacks and redheads will move into the lake.

A Workhorse

It will probably be a long time before local high school football fans will witness such an all-round performance as East Grand Forks' John Cash turned in on Friday night against the Prowlers. Cash, a 185-pound six-foot fullback, and apparently tireless, proved to be the "workhorse" of Snooks Sullivan's aggressive Green Wave team.

On offense, Cash carried the ball 39 times, gaining an aggregate of 138 yards, rushing at an average of 3.6 yards per carry. The hard-running fullback lugged the ball 12 times in the second period, picking up 43 yards; carried the ball 21 times in the third period for 82 yards, and added 14 yards in 6 attempts in the fourth period. Seldom was Cash stopped without a gain, and never when the Prowlers tried to stop on a high tackle. Frank Barzen surprised Cash on two successive plays in the fourth period, breaking through the East Side line to down the fullback behind the line of scrimmage.

Incidentally, an interested spectator at Friday night's game was Clarence "Bun" Portier, Red Wilson's chief assistant at Bemidji. Bun was on a scouting mission for Bemidji (the Prowlers meet the Bemidji Lumberjacks at Bemidji on Oct. 22nd) and he expressed concern as to the Jacks' ability to cope with the Prowlers. Bun was impressed plenty by the quarterbacking of Sid Vraa, and the running of Mark Bjorkman.

Along that line, coach Sullivan, whose team had been beaten, 38 to 6, by Bemidji the previous week, stated that the Prowlers would have to show improvement, particularly on defense, if they were to defeat the Jacks. Snooks added, though, that the Prowlers should continue to improve, and with the experience of the Roseau, Detroit Lakes, and Ada games to be gained before the Bemidji game, coach Ralph Skjod's squad provide the Jacks with quite a test.

The Bow Hunters

On Saturday morning the bow-and-arrow hunting season on deer opens, and Doc Jim Disse and Don Johnson have advised their skeptical friends to be lined up along Third Street on Saturday evening when they bring in their deer. For three years now we've been in that group waiting for Doc and Don to bring in an arrow-slain deer, and those two Robin Hoods haven't even brought in a rabbit. It'll be different this year, they hope.

Mandan Refinery to Be Dedicated Saturday, Oct. 2

Standard Oil's newest refinery at Mandan, N. D., like its first — 65 years ago — at Whiting, Ind., was built to open a market for crude oil from a newly-decorated midwestern field.

Soon after oil was discovered in North Dakota in April of 1951, Standard began speeding construction of a new oil processing center at Mandan, along with a crude oil pipeline to the refinery and a products line to eastward markets.

The 30,000 barrel-a-day Mandan refinery will be dedicated Saturday morning, October 2.

"The North Dakota refining in-transit plant will make it possible for North Dakota crude oil to compete—for the first time—in a large market," according to the refinery manager.

The morning program will commence at 10:30 a. m. with Lyman A. Brink, chairman of Region III, presiding. The forenoon session will interpret the function of social agencies in the community. In the afternoon the program will consider the specific needs of the mentally ill and the mentally retarded. It is strongly urged that anyone with mentally retarded children avail themselves of the opportunity to learn about the facilities available on the state level as well as ways of meeting the problem in the home and community.

Participants in the program include Annie Laurie Baker, president of the Minnesota Welfare Conference; Odin Langen, state representative from the 67th district; Harleigh Lincoln, professor of sociology at the University of North Dakota; Dr. R. B. Skogerboe of Karlstad; and Miss Mildred Thomson, supervisor of the section for mentally deficient or epileptic, department of public welfare.

Transportation can be provided for anyone interested in attending the conference, stated Mr. Lynskey. Kindly contact the welfare office if such arrangements are desired.

Sales of Savings Bonds in State Holding up Well

With the sales of U. S. Savings Bonds in Minnesota tabulated for the eight-month period ending August 31, state bond chairman Henry S. Kingman has voiced a feeling of optimism for the attainment of the 1954 goal.

Information released by the state director's office today show that total sales of Series E and H bonds to individuals have reached $59 million or 63% of the $93,800,000 quota for this year. This compares with sales of $49 million a year ago, a gain of 20.4%.

Although optimistic, Mr. Kingman has pointed out to volunteer committees throughout the state that it will take some direct selling to insure success.

"A few well placed sales calls in each county will produce the needed results," Mr. Kingman stated. "After all, it does take a personal approach to ask somebody to buy bonds to bring about extra dollar volume."

Thirty-three counties have reached 66.7% of quota or higher with that per cent of the year gone. Three counties have passed 90%. They are Lac qui Parle (96.5%), Rock (94%), and Nicollet (92.2%).

Sales in Pennington county during August totaled $16,302 bringing the year's accumulation to $127,449 or 41.1 per cent of quota, according to J. M. Roche, county bond chairman. Marshall County has reached 76 per cent of quota, and Red Lake 37.9 per cent.

Across the nation, sales for the first eight months of 1954 were $3,325 million, 13 per cent above the same period of 1953 and a 9-year record. National sales continued to exceed redemptions of matured and unmatured E and H savings bonds.

Elks Salute U. S. Newspaper Week

1,700 Lodges to Join in Tribute Week of Oct. 1-8

The Elks will salute the press as part of the observance of National Newspaper Week October 1 to 8, Alvin Christofferson, exalted ruler of the local Elks lodge, announced today.

National Newspaper Week is sponsored by Newspaper Association Managers, Inc. In a statement endosing the event, William J. Jernick of Nutley, N. J., grand exalted ruler of the Elks, asked the Order's 1,700 lodges to join in a nation-wide tribute "because of the vital importance of our free press to our country's welfare as summed up in this year's National Newspaper Week slogan — 'Your Newspaper — Freedom's Forum.'"

"Our free press has served well to guard our liberties, exposing those who would encroach upon them," the national head of the Elks said in his Newspaper Week statement. "For this, the press has earned the gratitude and appreciation of the Elks, whose first concern is the preservation of our democratic institutions."

Shipments of newsprint to the United States from Canada in 1953 amounted to 85 per cent of their total newsprint production.

THE SENATE'S FAILURE

Now that the Senate committee set up to investigate McCarthy has reported, we would like to suggest that when the report is being considered the members of the Senate might properly give a little thought to the shortcomings of their own organization in permiting the McCarthy investigations to get out of hand.

There is no question as far as we are concerned about the justification for a McCarthy reprimand. As a member of the United States Senate he has many privileges. Time and again he abused those privileges. There was only one power that had the legal right to restrain him and that was Senate itself.

The fact that he was not restrained, and continued month after month to conduct himself in a manner that reflected discredit upon that body, is a failure for which the Senate itself deserves the most severe censure.

PLENTY OF COMPETITION

How fast is atomic power moving in our direction? Charles Bailey of the Minneapolis Tribune has concluded a study of the probable progress of atomic energy with a prediction that residents of the upper Midwest may be using electricity generated by atomic power within five years. He supports this estimate by quoting chairman Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission to the effect that by 1960 ten per cent of all power plants projected will be atomic plants.

Moving into the age of atomic energy however is going to be gradual process, we are told. It is reasonable to assume that present plants will continue in service thruout their usable life. The electric industry has been growing at a rate that requires doubling its generating capacity every ten years and atomic energy plants will probably provide a steadily increasing share of the power for this increasing need.

There seems to be no reason for worrying about a power shortage in the years ahead of us. With Missouri River power and natural gas becoming available and atomic energy not too far around the corner it appears that there will be healthy competition for public favor in this field. The buyers are at an advantage when the services they seek are available from several sources.

HOW BIG THE CROWDS?

How many people were there in the crowds that jammed the streets during the parade Saturday night? One guess is as good as another. The police estimate is 20,000 and that is good enough for us.

Cash register receipts give pageant crowd estimates greater dependability. Bob Lund handled the cash and counted the tickets and allowing one for-free youngster per car he guesses there were between six and seven thousand spectators for the two performances.

With nearly five thousand of these spectators present Sunday afternoon the hillside seating area of the park was not crowded and while we are guessing we think it is safe to say that it will be possible to accomodate a crowd of ten thousand people comfortably in this area when the development is completed. The old tourist park, seldom used and of little calue in the past, has a long life of useful service ahead of it.

STILL REASON TO BE HOPEFUL

Dairymen are discouraged and their discouragement is understandable. Of all the many segments of agriculture their situation has appeared to be the most hopeless.

There still is reason to be hopeful however and justification for the belief that their lot will improve and that over a period of years the dairy farmers of this area who go ahead in dairying will be rewarded for their special efforts.

For the first time in a long time the prospect is brightening. The sales of dairy products to consumers are rising. According to the Dairy Record butter sales for the week ending September 11 were up 7.29 per cent over the corresponding week in 1953 in Chicago; they were up 24.5 per cent in San Francisco; 10.76 per cent in Los Angeles and up 11.42 per cent in Seattle. Last month the government's stock of butter stopped growing when sales exceeded purchases by eight million pounds.

And, most encouraging of all, it appears that the industry now is stepping up its own self-help program. There is much that the industry can do to help itself. Compared to other segments of agriculture it is off to a late start, but not too late if the leaders of the industry will now move with courage. And it will require much courage to break down the barriers that have been erected to protect the special interests of groups within their industry, one of the big causes of its present difficulties.

Now that the preliminaries are out of the way we can settle down to arguing the main issues of the political campaign that will end the first Tuesday in November. And we go along with the suggestion that there are so many questions of present interest in this campaign that we can very properly let the issues of by-gone years remain undisturbed. There are some carryovers that still are important, but, in general, we have enough problems at the present time without rehashing those that were given a thorough airing four and eight and twelve and twenty years ago.

Not all wars are contrary to public interest it seems. At the present time for instance a very great war is in the making that probably will prove to be beneficial to mankind—a war of rates between the fire insurance companies. Reporting on this battle from its ringside seat the Wall Street Journal states that lower rates are on the way.

In the World Series that gets under way today the Cleveland Indians will go into the contest with the good wishes of a lot of fans who hope a New York team will not win the championship again. New York teams have won twenty of the fifty contests played between the two major leagues and too often in recent years the final battle has been between two New York teams; but regardless of the outcome this final baseball classic of the season is a great event. We probably look a little foolish to the foreigners in our enthusiasm over this contest but think of all the other troubles we are forgetting when we go nuts about baseball.

Six billion horsepower is the total capability of U. S. prime movers, the engines which initially turn the energy of coal, oil, atoms and other natural resources into motive power for this country.

'As trim as a Dache' hat and a lot warmer in winter —

This garage design is modern in line, low in cost and comfort-blessed with these finger tip control OVERHEAD DOORS. You can get this complete job done before snow flies. A place for the lawn mower, a place for the garden tools and, if you are a wise builder, a big roomy car area. Bear in mind, too, that the OVERHEAD DOORS may be promptly installed on an existing garage.

This construction service along with any other home improvement may be included on our low monthly payment budget plan. Can include both material and labor based on careful and accurate estimates.

Insulating the ceiling isn't much of a job. And it's a mighty sane investment. Heat does go up and if it can get out . . . so do dollars. Insulating the ceiling with blanket or the "pour" type insulation will give added floor warmth and that's important in winter. This is work you can do yourself or we'll recommend a craftsman if your own time is not available.

Before winter—
Clean garden tools—
Drain gas from power mower—
Repair broken storm sash—
Dust off snow shovel—

Our no down payment plan of financing provides up to $2500 for home improvements. Kitchen remodeling, farm buildings, garage, insulation all come under the plan. All work based on accurate and careful estimates.

A cook can manage, whether gas, coal, electricity, or wood fire heats his pan, but steel mills must be more particular about fuel, and the coke going into the blast furnace along with the iron ore must be made from bituminous coal.

WHO WANTS TO GO TO CONGRESS?

Now that the primary election is over it might be safe to take a look at the accomplishment chart of the 83rd Congress, two sessions. The Senate whiled away 1885 hours in 281 days in session while the House chalked up only 1033 hours in 240 days. Probably "because there are more of 'em". Representatives introduced 11,864 measures compared with the Senate grist of 4,508. That's a total of 16,372 proposals, of which less than 10%, 1,163 found their way into the statute books — the Senate faring a little better proportionately with 435 ultimate winners to 728 for the House. Doesn't seem that life is getting any less complicated.

MONEY MATTERS

A seven-years collection of pennies will make a nice little present for the first grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rollofson, Sandstone, a cereal box weighing 30 pounds yielded $43.87 which it took two persons an hour and a half to count out in 4,387 pennies—A $2,000 ferris wheel ride would be quite an expedition—and that is what Pat Schemel nearly paid for one when his name was called as a prize winner at the Renville fair while he was atop the ride, but he got down in time to claim his prize.—When W. F. Meyer was seven an uncle gave him a 50c piece; pretty soon he didn't have it; when the family home was recently remodeled in Worthington, Mr. Meyer, now a 37-year-old grocer, found his birthday present behind the wainscoting.

Secy. Douglas McKay Presents Local Data in Address Saturday

Following is the full text of the address given in Thief River Falls Saturday by Douglas McKay, secretary of the U. S. department of the interior, in connection with the 50th anniversary of the coming of the Soo Line and the opening of the Eleven Towns on the Indian reservation to settlement in 1904.

Since June when I was invited to Thief River Falls I have looked forward with keen anticipation to joining in this 50th anniversary of two significant events in the history and development of Northwestern Minnesota.

I refer to the coming of the Soo Line to your city and the opening for settlement of the Red Lake Indian lands.

Both events occurred in 1904 and both have continued to contribute to the stability and economic strength of this community.

The Soo Line established by men determined to free the struggling milling industry from the threat of high freight rates on their products moving through the Chicago gateway.

The new railroad was the solution to their problem and through the years has been a strong link in the progress of the milling industry in Minnesota.

While still completing a direct line to the Eastern seaboard the road's founders turned their attention Westward to tap the great wheat country which was just opening up.

Through consolidation of two railroads east and west of Minneapolis with three smaller ones, the Soo Line was incorporated in 1888.

How well and how wisely these early pioneers planned and built has been emphatically demonstrated throughout the half century or more of the railroad's existence.

In good times and bad, the Soo Line has progressed both in management and in service to the communities it serves.

One of the reasons for this can be seen in the manner in which the Soo has entered into the community life of the region it serves. While it has kept abreast with every modern trend in railroad management and has expanded its facilities it has not lost sight of the fact that here in this rich and fertile Northland lies its destiny.

This idea is strikingly illustrated in Thief River Falls. Since 1904 when the Soo established an important divisional headquarters here and extended its line to Kenmare, North Dakota, the railroad played an important role in the development of this city.

Railroaders are good citizens, they contribute to the prosperity of any community. Their independence and their desire to participate in community betterment is always a valuable factor in any area. Encouraged by an understanding management, Thief River Falls has definitely benefitted not only financially, but otherwise because this is an important railroad center, and it is proper and fitting that these facts and this situation are given recognition in this anniversary celebration.

Coincident with the coming of the Soo Line was the opening of eleven townships on the Red Lake reservation for settlement by the white man.

In the past fifty years this too has been responsible for increasing the importance of this community as an agricultural center.

Of equal significance, the opening of the townships marks the beginning of a new era for the Chippewa Nation, and the development of a strong intelligent leadership which has endured throughout the past half century.

While many of the pertinent facts of the opening of the Red Lake lands are obscured by the years, the one fact emerges—the Chippewas knew then as they know now that given the opportunity they could solve their own problems.

In this they have been willing to accept the services of the State and Federal government on the same basis which they are accepted by their white neighbors.

In the management of their logging industry and their fisheries, the Red Lake Band has demonstrated good business methods and managerial capacity.

In the Congress which just closed, the Eisenhower Administration succeeded in having adopted a series of bills of distinct benefit to the several tribes affected.

The interest in Indian affairs and the dramatic developments in the Congress has caused widespread public discussion of Indian affairs which ultimately will lead to a better understanding of this most important problem.

Shortly after Glenn Emmons was named Indian Commissioner, the President called him to the White House and instructed him to go out to the principal Indian centers, to talk to the people, to find out what they needed and what they expected the Federal government to do for them.

Commissioner Emmons returned to Washington after several weeks, better prepared for the monumental task that is before him. His advice and counsel to me have been invaluable.

It is impossible to apply the same yardstick to the nearly 250 tribal groups for which the Department has responsibility. Each one must be considered separately in its own setting and within its special limitations.

Three major problems, however stand out above all others. These constitute the big challenge we face in the administration of Indian affairs.

First is the problem of poor health, which is not found in all tribal areas, but is in high percentage in many.

The second is the lack of proper schools, particularly acute in the Southwest.

The third major problem is the low standard of living and poverty on many reservations. Poor health and inadequate education are the principal factors responsible for this situation.

Here the state of Minnesota and the local community in cooperation with the Indians have worked strenuously and intelligently to remove the handicaps present in other areas.

School administration and enforcement of attendance are under state jurisdiction. The great majority of children of school age are attending public schools under contract with the federal government. A substantial number attend mission schools.

The illiteracy rate in the three Red Lake communities is considerably lower than in many exclusively white communities.

With the consent of the tribe, the state hospitalizes and controls Indian tuberculosis patients who are treated at State hospitals.

The state and Beltrami County maintain a good portion of the highways on the reservation.

Minnesota in the past half century has been in the forefront of states which have endeavored to solve the so called Indian problem at the local level.

Under the administration's policy of permitting states and local communities to share in Federal responsibilities when they are able and willing to do so, it can be assumed that the future years will see continued progress by the Red Lake Band.

Much remains to be done on the improvement of reservation lands and it is encouraging to report that negotiations between the Soil Conservation Service, Pennington county and the Band for a water management plan are progressing. In this program the construction of a drainage canal on or near the western boundry, of the reservation is planned.

Another striking example of local participation in a federal program can be seen in progress on the Mud Lake wildlife refuge in Marshall county.

Here neighboring farmers are cooperating with the Fish and Wildlife Service and are using refuge lands to raise supplemental foods, such as barley, wheat, oats and several kinds of clover, for waterfowl use on a share crop basis. This program serves to prevent migratory birds from damaging crops on private farms in addition to increasing crop production for those farmers who participate.

The Mud Lake refuge is a classic example of the possibilities offered for the restoration and rehabilitation of a wildlife habitat damaged by the efforts of man to expand his economy. This 60 thousand acre refuge, one of the most productive waterfowl meeting grounds in the country, was taken over by the Fish and Wildlife Service in 1937. It was a dry lake bed that had been drained in an attempt to create new farm lands.

Waterfowl usage on the refuge now exceeds 500,000 birds annually. This means that the birds are held in the vicinity and are available for hunting in adjacent areas for a longer period than would be the case if the refuge did not exist.

The new land use program, without the cooperation of farmers and sportsmen would never have advanced to its present successful operation if the Federal government had closed the door to your participation and cooperation.

In our administration of the fish and wildlife resources of the nation we are constantly striving to secure and hold the cooperation of the people who utilize these resources. This cannot be done unless we approach the problems from the grass roots and enlist the assistance and heed the counsel of local groups.

In this fiscal year the Fish and Wildlife Service is expending $28,900 on development at Mud Lake and a substantial sum is programmed for next year on the land use program.

This region will also eventually share in the benefits that will accrue from the development of the Missouri Basin Project.

In this immediate area we are now negotiating wheeling contracts with several private utilities to bring an additional supply of power to the communities in this region. The chief beneficiaries of the power will be the rural cooperatives and municipal's since their power requirements will absorb all of the firm power which will be available for this area.

Since authorization of the Missouri River Basin project in 1944, the Department of Interior has brought into useful production more than a million and a half acres of irrigated lands.

Today, nine years after authorization, 23 storage dams have been completed by the Army Engineers and the Bureau of Reclamation.

Seventeen power plants are in operation on the project with a total installed capacity of nearly half a million kilowatts. With six more units to be added at Fort Randall and the completion of Garrison and Oahe power plants, the ultimate capacity will exceed a million and a half kilowatts.

In order to reach load centers, it is often necessary to construct transmission lines and some 3,225 miles have now been completed on the Missouri River Project. In other instances, such as in this area, it is in the public interest to negotiate wheeling contracts with other power suppliers in the area.

The federal government, through Interior and the other departments has a justifiable pride in the achievements of its citizens in Thief River Falls and elsewhere.

The administration has faith in the ability of its citizens to manage their own affairs. In the development and conservation of the nation's natural resources it believes that the states and local communities have a definite right to participate in decisions and undertakings that affect them.

It believes in the right of the individual to speak out freely if he believes these rights are invaded. It adheres to the principle which guided the founding fathers that he is best governed who is governed least.

Thief River Falls in this celebration today is demonstrating that it is proud of its past achievements which are closely linked with the development of the state. You are also proclaiming that you have unbounded faith in your future.

This is a red letter day in your history. I am proud to have had the opportunity to have a part in your commemoration and to wish you another half century of progress and prosperity.

Reports Required on Car Accidents

Explains State Law Highway Safety Chief

Because it has come to the attention of the Minnesota highway department that many Minnesota motorists are not reporting motor vehicle accidents in accordance with state law, Earl M. Larimer, director of highway safety, today issued a reminder that such reports must be made under certain conditions.

"The highway traffic regulation act," stated Larimer, "especially directs the driver of a vehicle involved in an accident resulting in injury to or death of any person shall, by the quickest means of communication, give notice of such accident to the local police department, if the accident occurs within a municipality, or to a state highway patrol officer if the accident occurs on a trunk highway, or to the office of the sheriff of the county."

The law further requires the submission of an accident report, on a proper accident report form, to the commissioner of highways in any accident involving personal injury, death, or total property damage of $50 or more. Many motorists, said Larimer, are not complying with this requirement, either because they are not aware of the existence of the law or because they willfully ignore the law.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Q—I was seriously disabled in a train wreck while traveling, under orders, to an induction center. Even though I never entered military service, would I still be entitled to VA compensation payments for my disability?

A—Yes. Under a recent law your disability is considered to have occurred in active military service, provided it was not the result of your own misconduct.

Q—Since I am rated 60 percent disabled, I am receiving extra compensation pay because I have a family. I understand that my basic compensation check will go up five percent as of October 1. Will the extra pay for my family also increase on that date?

A—No. The law did not provide for a five percent increase in the extra payments made to veterans for dependents. Only your basic compensation will be increased.

Q—I expect to get out of service within the next few weeks. What is my deadline for starting Korean GI Bill training?

A—Your deadline for starting Korean GI training will be three years from the date of your separation from the armed forces.

Q—Is it necessary to apply for the five percent increase in compensation payments, recently voted by Congress?

A—No. The five percent increase will be made automatically. It will be included in checks mailed at the end of October. It goes in effect October 1.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Celebrate — Together

"Hey, Mom, while you're looking at those curtains, Jimmy and I have some shopping of our own that we want to do."

Pat and Jim hurried off to the household department, and walked round and round the counters making their selections. That night on the dinner table lay two packages obviously wrapped by four young hands, with the greeting "Happy Anniversary from Pat and Jim" scrawled in childish penmanship. They started the celebration by marching in singing, "Happy anniversary to you, happy anniversary to you."

Such a sharing fosters feelings of warmth and loyalty which last through the years. The celebration of important events can be a very happy occasion for all. Celebrations may not be as elaborate or well planned by the children as by adults, and sometimes they may attempt something which cannot be carried out successfully, but the children learn to work together and acquire mutual respect and affection during the process. If each child's talent and individual interests are used to contribute to the occasion, each will feel pleasure in participating.

Each family has its own particular celebrations. A few traditions that center around such days as Easter or Valentine's day which are special in the family may be the most fondly remembered. It is the planning and working together which strengthens family morale, promotes congeniality, and the growth of affection in the family.

ALL OVER THE WORLD

Glance at an atlas or give your globe a spin. It's a vast world, encompassing continents, oceans, mountains, deserts and valleys. Its inhabitants number in the billions, and they in turn are divided into many nations, each with varied tongues, creeds, and religions.

But here at last we have struck upon a common denominator — religion. For all peoples in all times have recognized a superior power — their creator.

On World Wide Communion Day, Christians all over the world unite in their churches to partake of the Lord's Supper, one of the holiest rituals of the Church. Together, in His house, their prayers attain a new significance. Their voices blend into one universal voice, from which stems new power and meaning.

Go to your church on World Wide Communion Day. You will be in the fellowship of millions of worshippers, receiving with them new hope for peace of mind and soul—and peace for the world.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

"I couldn't believe my eyes"

"There's no tractor to compare with it"

These are words of WD-45 Tractor owners.

From coast to coast, farmers who own the WD-45 are praising the performance of this great new tractor. And there's no doubt about the reasons for such high praise — it's performance . . . and price!

The new POWER-CRATER engine gives you the power you've always wanted. This mighty power plant plus AUTOMATIC TRACTION BOOSTER lets the WD-45 pull three bottoms almost effortlessly through fields often considered impossible to plow.

And conveniences, like SNAP-COUPLER, POWER-SHIFT wheels, and TWO-CLUTCH POWER CONTROL add up to a tractor that's unmatched in features and performance . . .

One demonstration will prove it. And the price will save you hundreds of dollars. Let us show you.

Rep. Harold Hagen to Have Office in City October 7th

Congressman Invites Constituents to Meet with Him on Problems

Rep. Harold C. Hagen of the Ninth district will set up a temporary congressional office in the V.F.W. Hall in Thief River Falls on Thursday, October 7, from 9:00 a. m. to noon and from 1:30 to 5:00 p. m. of the same day.

Congressman Hagen will be accompanied by his executive secretary, Earl McArthur, and they will be happy to meet any citizen of Pennington county or surrounding territory, either for a personal call or for some problem of an official nature.

Many men and women of this area may have problems concerning the workings of a governmental department, or possibly of a boy in the Armed Forces, a tax matter, a farm problem or some other issue on which they will want the experienced assistance of Representative Hagen or his executive secretary.

This procedure of setting up a Congressional office in Pennington county, and other counties in the Ninth district, has been followed by Hagen at his own expense several times during the 12 years that he has served Congress.

If the problem requires some research and time, Mr. Hagen advises his constituents to write him at Room 205, Post Office Building at Crookston, Minnesota, which is his permanent Congressional headquarters in the 9th District.

However, Representative Hagen invites all county residents to come in to his temporary office at Thief River Falls, Thursday, October 7, for official business or for just a personal visit. Coffee, milk, cookies and doughnuts will be served free to all visitors. The V.F.W. Hall is located at 123 Horace av. North.

REA Leader Will Talk to Co-ops at St. Paul Meeting

Clyde T. Ellis, executive manager of the National Rural Electric association, Washington, D. C. will be one of the keynote speakers at the annual meeting of the Minnesota Association of Cooperatives on October 5 and 6 at the S. Paul Hotel.

Ellis has been an outstanding figure in the fight of rural electric cooperatives nationally to hold the gains they have made in securing an adequate supply of power for farmers at reasonable rates and in the further development of rural electric cooperatives.

"The Minnesota Association of Cooperatives has an active interest in the progress of rural electric cooperatives," according to Harry J. Peterson, Executive Secretary of the Association, "because rural electric cooperatives have become an important part of the many services provided to farmers by their own cooperative organizations."

THE MINNESOTA STORY

Prepared by the Minnesota Historical Society

THE FIRST COW

When the first animal came is not clear. It is known from various records that those who lived at Grand Portage on Lake Superior more than 110 years ago had milk and butter. The common men who did the heavy work of the fur trade on the portages had pork and hominy. The managers and clerks had cream and butter.

There was but one way that cows could have reached Grand Portage. That was as bovine passengers on the large, heavy lake canoes and the various craft which served the fur trade of the early days.

Cows came up river on the boats on the Mississippi. Most of them came by land to the pioneer farms. Hitched behind the covered wagon was usually a cow, or several of them, making their slow way across the prairies.

The census of 1850 for the Minnesota territory, which included most of North Dakota, listed 607 milk cows.

The pioneers in dairying had no easy time. They had to develop land to provide pasture for summer and hay for the long winters. The products which they produced were apt to be low in quality and price. One early farmer did not expect a gross revenue of more than $35 for a cow in a year. Another lost three head of cattle to the nearby wolves.

By 1860 there were more than 44,000 cows listed by census takers. In 1950 census reported that 147,000 farmers of Minnesota were milking 1,450,000 cows.

NICOLLET AND ITASCA

The Minnesota Historical Society has published many notable books on the history of the state. Among them are the various older works of Neill, Winchell and Folwell. These books are of particular value because they are contemporary with the early life of the state.

Reverend Neill's stories of the early explorers are of especial interest. For instance, there is Jean Nicollet, the Frenchman. His life in France had been one of early poverty and later scientific distinction.

Nicollet came to the United States in 1832 and to Fort Snelling in July, 1836. He left to explore the Upper Mississippi. By lake and river he reached Leech where he was threatened by the Indians because he had no trinkets for them. He then proceeded to Lake Itasca. In the process of its discovery Henry Schoolcraft and his party had spent but two hours on this lake. Nicollet spent three days with sextant, making scientific observations and seeking the sources of the various rivulets which feed the lake. He returned to St. Anthony, accompanied by the famed Chippewa chief, Flat Mouth, and ten of his leading men bound on business concerned with their lands.

Nicollet received a large amount of recognition for his explorations and his memory is kept alive by his name upon a great avenue and a Minnesota county.

MINNESOTA'S GREAT SEAL

The great seal of Minnesota is taken for granted; but it has its story.

Of course, a new state had to have its seal. According to information in the files of the Minnesota Historical Society, the first efforts to create a seal began with the formation of the territory in 1949. The first design depicted an Indian family welcoming a white man with a pipe of peace. This did not appeal for the reason that the white and red men were not then on terms that were quite so amicable. A legislative act was passed authorizing the governor and the delegate in congress to prepare a design and a motto. It was then that the homesteader, his plow, the Indian and the Latin words appeared. However, there were some rather embarrassing deficiencies which continue to this day.

The Falls of St. Anthony were put in the background in a manner in which it appears that the Indian is riding east rather than west.

Governor Ramsey wished a motto that would describe American "goaheadativeness." The Scottish Earl of Dunraven suggested one in Latin that was to mean "I wish to see what is beyond." Then mistakes were made in the Latin to give a motto that is meaningless. However, despite these deficiencies the seal has an obvious meaning and it helps to make official the acts of the state government.

Hunters Urged to Avoid Shooting Whooping Crane

Once again, national and state conservation officials and organizations are appealing to the people to give protection to the remaining few whooping cranes as they start on their long migration from the Canadian wilds to the Arkansas Wildlife Refuge in Texas.

The "whoopers" are due to leave Canada late in September and the migration continues throughout October. Last fall, all 21 of the whooping cranes known to exist, plus three new youngsters raised during the summer, made the long migration south without a single loss and it is hoped that they may again journey across the country unmolested.

Men and boys are asked to refrain from shooting any large white bird.

The world's oceans, which cover 71 per cent of the earth's surface, have greater depths than the highest elevations of land. Mindanao Deep, the ocean's lowest known depth, goes down approximately 35,000 feet as compared with Mount Everest's height of 29,000 feet above sea level.

State 4-H Health Winners Chosen

Nicollet County Boy and Brown County Girl Named

Donna Ganske, 16, Sleepy Eye, and Roger Olson, 20, St. Peter, are this year's state winners in 4-H health achievement.

Leonard Harkness, state 4-H club leader, announced the winners Thursday noon at the closing luncheon of State 4-H Health camp at the University of Minnesota's Forestry and Biological Station in Itasca State Park. The camp was attended by 100 4-H delegates.

The two health champions will receive all-expense trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago in late November. In winning the trip to Chicago, Donna will be following in the footsteps of her mother, Mrs. Edward Ganske, who won a trip to Club Congress as a 4-H bread demonstrator 25 years ago.

Selection of the winners was based not only on their own physical condition but on improvements they have made toward more healthful living and on their community health activities.

Both health champions emphasize the importance of good eating habits in maintaining good health. Each drinks a quart of milk a day and eats lots of vegetables from the family garden. Regular physical and dental examinations are a part of their health program.

The educational sessions are planned as feature events of the North Central Optometric Congress scheduled for October 3, 4 and 5 at Nicollet Hotel in Minneapolis.

Headlining the educational sessions will be a well-rounded quartet of instructors each particularly well known in his field. They include Dr. A. M. Skeffington, O. D., Pacific University; Dr. Fred W. Sutor, O. D., Temple University; Dr. Ralph Barstow, O. D., Chicago, Illinois; Dr. H. Gordon Dorland, O. D., Belle Fourche, South Dakota.

Ticket Sales for Concerts to End Friday

The annual membership drive of the Northwest Concert Association closes on Friday of this week. Memberships have been available since September 10. After the close of the drive memberships will no longer be available, although requests for membership which are mailed in, will be received until the programs are announced, about ten days after the close of the drive.

Returns to Tuesday showed that about one half of the expected goal for this year had been received or pledged. The goal for this year was set at 600 members in order to present one more concert. According to association president Dave Vaaler, the chances of reaching that goal appeared bright, since a heavy final response is usually received.

In the membership poll of favorites, two strong favorites were noted. Doc Evans with his "History of Jazz" is now the favorite, with the Mannes Opera Company production of "La Boheme" a close second. The Knickerbockers are third and the Harp-Vocal quartet fourth with the two piano team of Hanson and Dedell in fifth place.

The results from this membership poll will be announced at the close of the drive. As the late memberships are returned some change is expected in the standing of these artists as favorites among association members.

The association's board of directors asked every person who is interested in membership to contact headquarters, whether they received a mail invitation or not. The list was very carefully compiled, but many folks were missed. Everyone is a welcome member of the association, although memberships must be received this week.

Final results of the talent poll and the final choice of programs, along with the results of the membership drive will be announced about ten days after the drive is closed. Membership cards will be mailed at the same time.

Cass Lake and Red Lake Agencies to Be Merged Dec. 1st

Combined Agency to Have Headquarters in Bemidji, Bureau States

Indian agencies now located at Cass Lake and Red Lake in Minnesota are to be classified into a single agency at Bemidji on Dec. 1, the Indian Bureau announced last week in Washington.

Glenn L. Emmons, Indian commissioner, said the superintendent of the new office, to be known as the Consolidated Minnesota Agency, has not been selected as yet. Currently, J. W. Kaufmann runs the Chippewa Agency at Cass Lake while Richard D. Butts is the Red Lake superintendent.

Emmons said the merger, affecting about 15 per cent of the bureau's personnel in Minnesota, is expected to result in saving about $11,000 per year. He said that the bulk of workers now serving Indians in the area would continue to be stationed at Warroad, Nett Lake, Cass Lake and Red Lake.

The bureau said the Red Lake band of Chippewas had formally approved the merger and that it had been endorsed Aug. 21 by the executive council of the Minnesota Chippewa tribe.

Use of the new kitchen facilities will not begin until the day of shifting of all patients from the old to the new area.

It is expected that there will be a two-week period, during which representatives of the Asleson Company of Minneapolis will thoroughly instruct all dietary personnel in the use of new equipment. This period will also be used in setting up the revised organization of dietary personnel that will be necessary since the dietary area will be radically different than it has been.

Board Discusses Future of Oakland Park Sanatorium

Pennington Board Told RRV Old Peoples Home Is Interested in Lease

Rev. Alfred Larson, superintendent of the Red River Valley Home for the Aged in this city, and Waldie Christensen, board member, told the county board at its October session Tuesday that their institution was interested in leasing Oakland Park sanatorium, to be vacated shortly, and converting it into an old people's home.

They were informed that any action along that line hinges on joint agreement among the boards of the four counties sharing in the ownership of the sanatorium — Pennington, Marshall, Red Lake and Roseau. The commissioners indicated that an effort would be made to arrange for a joint meeting of the four boards sometime next week.

In a talk at the Lions club luncheon meeting last Wednesday noon, Wm. Wettergren of St. Peter, executive secretary of the Minnesota School Board association, painted a glowing picture of Minnesota's economic position to support his contention that the state can afford to spend more money for education.

He said more funds are needed because of the steady increase in the number of school children. The school board association, he said, is advocating an increase in basic state aid from the present figure of $80 per pupil to $92.

The association, he added, is also in favor of the withholding plan for state income tax payments, and is opposed to placing a ceiling on state trust funds.

Action was deferred on a request by Judge H. O. Chommie for additional office help to assist in handling the mounting detail work in connection with the office of municipal judge.

Henry Bothman, in Iron Lung, Views World Series

Henry Bothman, engineer at Radio Station KTRF and an avid baseball fan, didn't miss the World Series after all. Altho he has been in an iron lung in Deaconess Hospital in Grand Forks since August 20, when he was stricken with bulbar polio, he witnessed the World Series games on a television set provided by a group of friends. The picture above, supplied by the Grand Forks Herald, shows Bothman viewing a game thru a mirror above the iron lung. The only unfortunate feature was that his favorite team, the Cleveland Indians, lost the series in four straight games to the New York Giants. Bothman's condition is reported as showing gradual improvement.

Captain John Oven, commanding officer, stated that the local drive is part of a statewide campaign being staged by all Minnesota units. He invited other young men between the ages of 17 thru 35 and any war veterans to follow the example of these twelve men.

They include the following veterans: M-Sgt. Harvey R. Hanson, Sgt. 1c John A. Gullingsrud, Sgt. Walter Franke, Sgt. Iver M. Karlstad, Cpl. Derwood Lund and Pvt. E2 Kenneth L. Burrous.

Others signing up are Pvts. E-1 Leslie A. Molskness, Joseph W. Poole, Robert W. Johnson, Robert P. Packer, Clayton T. Thompson and William J. Swick.

Absconding Warroad Banker Is Back Home

"I didn't want to be running away all my life."

That was the explanation Ben Bakken gave his wife Monday night shortly before surrendering on charges growing out of a $30,000 shortage at the Security State Bank at Warroad.

She said her husband told her he had driven to Mexico and back since he disappeared at the close of the bank's business on Sept. 23. She said he appeared in good health but tired. He was well dressed and groomed, she reported.

"We talked things over for about a half—hour and agreed that I should call the Warroad village marshal," Mrs. Bakken said. Her husband made no comment about the missing money.

When he wasn't talking with his wife, the 37-year-old Bakken spent the brief time at home with his children—Ben Jr. 11, Thomas, 3, and 8-month-old Christine.

"It's no fun to be running away all the time," he told his wife. He said he made the trip to Mexico in his own car, a 1953 Pontiac.

"Everybody is happy he's back," said Mrs. Bakken, referring to people in the community where Bakken had been a pillar of civic life for nearly two decades.

Cal Howard, FBI agent in charge at Minneapolis, said his agents were taking custody of Bakken.

Bakken had been employed in the bank for 20 years, starting when he still was a high school student. As cashier, he had been in virtual charge of the bank's affairs for the past several years.

He was taken into custody on a federal warrant, issued after an audit revealed the shortage. Officials said it was fully covered by insurance.

Rural Campaign Also to Start Monday; Business Area Canvass Under Way

The Pennington County Community Chest drive will get under way next Monday, October 11, in the residential section of Thief River Falls and in the rural areas of the county, the Rev. Walter M. Pedersen, campaign chairman, announced today.

Residential area canvassers, under the direction of Mrs. L. B. Hartz, will assemble at dinner in Zion church Monday evening at 6 o'clock, following which they will start making their rounds. It is hoped to complete the canvass that evening, with the exception of necessary call-backs.

Workers in the rural solicitation are being arranged for by Clarence Peterson of Goodridge, Vern Lindquist of St. Hilaire and Carl R. Anderson.

Rev. Pedersen reminded prospective contributors that their donations will go toward the support of seven beneficial agencies, and that the objective of the current drive has been set at raising $10,547.58. This needed goal, he said, will not be achieved if many give only $1 to be divided among the seven agencies.

The canvass of the Thief River Falls business district got under way Monday morning of this week following a kickoff breakfast in the Rex Cafe attended by 25 workers. Rev. Pedersen spoke briefly, telling of the urgent need for making the campaign a success.

A huge thermometer is being set up adjoining the Tunberg Motor Co. to indicate the progress of the drive.

The participating agencies, all of which at one time conducted separate fund drives, include the Minnesota Heart association, United Defense Fund, including the USO, for the benefit of men in service; The American-Korean Foundation, Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation; Salvation Army, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts.

Her finger tip veil of nylon net was edged in chantilly lace and held in place with a pearl studded head piece. The fan shaped bouquet she carried was of white and yellow mums with pink carnations. The tradition of something old, something new, borrowed and blue was carried out with something old being a half moon shaped pearl and gold necklace, belonging to the great grandmother of the bride. Miss Lull also wore matching pearl earrings.

Miss Myrtle Lull, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her gown was green floor length with a matching lace jacket. The fan shaped bouquet of white daisies centered with yellow dahlias was made to match her headpiece. Her pearl necklace and earrings were gifts of the bride.

Marilyn Runnestrand, friend of the couple, was attired in a pink gown of nylon net over taffeta with lace jacket. Her bouquet of white daisies centered with yellow dahlias, was formed in the shape of a fan. She wore a matching head dress and a pearl earring and necklace set, gift of the bride.

She wore a matching white necklace and bracelet set. Danny Carriveau of Grand Forks, nephew of the groom was ring bearer. He carried the rings on a white satin and crocheted pillow, made by the grandmother of the bride. He wore a checked navy blue suit.

Attending the groom were Russell Floberg, and Lester Floberg, cousins of the bride, and Roger Carriveau of Grand Forks, brother-in-law of the groom. They all wore gold tie clasps, gifts of the groom.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors for 150 guests. A three tiered wedding cake decorated with pink roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom centered the bridal table. Pink and white streamers also decorated the room. I have been notified by Jack Henson, secretary of the Legislative Board of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, that at a meeting of the joint boards of the Railroad Brotherhoods held in Minneapolis on Wednesday, September 29, I was endorsed for re-election to the State Senate.

While I have had the personal support of many of the members of the Brotherhoods here in Thief River Falls in past elections, this is the first time I have received the official endorsement from your organizations and I want you to know that I appreciate it very much.

My relations with those who speak for you in matters of legislation have been very friendly in the past. They have been fair to me and I have tried to be fair to them. I will make every effort to continue this good relationship. Thank you.

Educators Claim Income Tax Should Go to Schools Only

Oppose Raids on Income Tax in Coming Session of State Legislature

Any attempt by the 1955 legislature to spend income tax funds for anything other than the public schools will be vigorously opposed by education groups, the Coordinating Committee for Education warned Monday.

The committee, headed by William A. Wettergren, St. Peter, represents seven statewide education groups, all intent on reminding legislators that for more than 20 years income taxes have been dedicated to school support.

Raiding the income tax fund for other purposes will merely create the problem of raising money for schools from other sources, Wettergren warned.

State aids to public schools for the two years starting next July probably will cost about 85 million dollars the first year and 87 million the second year, the education groups estimate. The estimate is based on the proposed increase in basic school aid from $80 to $92 per pupil unit.

Income tax funds mey be sufficient to cover these costs, the Coordinating Committee figures, but it does not believe there will be any surplus for other purposes.

Stafford King, state auditor, has estimated that the balance in the income tax fund next July will be about 45 million dollars. Income tax collections for the school fund may be about 55 million dollars a year —as they were this year.

"It is apparent," Wettergren said, "that the income tax fund can't be stretched to cover anything but school needs."

New Eye Testing Equipment Added by Local Schools

The latest addition to the public school health equipment is an instrument called an Ortho-Rater. This new instrument is used for checking eyes. Previously, eyes were checked with the "Snellen E" and "Letter" charts which picked up only the distant vision difficulties. Other eye defects were picked up by observation.

The Ortho-Rater picks up both near and distant vision weaknesses, as well as color blindness and depth perception.

Because each student checked takes 10 to 15 minutes, it will be impossible to check all school children this year. The present plans are to check all students referred by teachers, after they have checked with the Snellen chart, and all students in grades 12, 9 and 3. More eye defects are found in 3rd and 9th grades than in other grades.

Mrs. Margaret Race, school nurse, will welcome requests from parents who have observed symptoms of eye weakness in their children.

Republicans to Observe Precinct Day Friday, Oct. 8

President Eisenhower to Broadcast Address over Radio at 8:30 p. m.

Based on the premise that "knocking on your neighbor's door" will win the 1954 elections, a new chapter in American political history will be written Friday, Oct. 8, with observance of Republican National Precinct Day.

A year's planning will be climaxed Friday night when President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon address party caucuses across the nation on the biggest TV-radio hookup ever used politically. The half-hour simulcast will be carried over an augmented CBS-TV network of 158 stations and the NBC and Mutual radio networks of 531 stations. Broadcast time is 8:30 p. m.

Starting at 8:15, Governor C. Elmer Anderson also will speak.

Precinct Day begins at dawn Friday when GOP Congressional and local candidates begin meeting new and old party workers at small "powwows" in neighborhood homes.

Emphasizing the importance of recruiting new workers at the powwows, Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall said: "This election will be won by knocking on your neighbor's door.

"National Precinct Day sets the stage for two vital goals: recruiting workers who will help us get out again the 34,000,000 voters who selected President Eisenhower and a Republican Congress in 1952, and signing up in Republican ranks the 5,000,000 voters who failed to cast their ballots for Congressional candidates of either party in 1952."

DALE CARNEGIE

WILLIAM D. SMITH, R #2, Berlin, Maryland, at eleven years of age lived with his family on a farm and helped with the work.

One day he was helping to put hay into the barn when his foot became entangled in the rope which pulled the hay up into the barn. This resulted in a serious accident and he was rushed to the hospital. When he regained consciousness he looked down and saw that one of his legs was missing. It seemed impossible that this had happened to him. He must be dreaming. He pinched himself so that he would wake up and everything would be all right. But he did not wake up from that dream.

CARNEGIE

In the days that followed he looked forward most to his mother's daily visits, recognizing her footsteps as she came down the hall.

Then fear started to creep upon him as he realized that he would probably never be able to play ball again—he loved all sports—that he might never run, swim and dance again.

But as the days went by he realized what had happened was final and that worrying about it could not help. So he made up his mind to face it and to do the best he could.

After being taken home he was fitted with an artificial leg and he tried to improve his walking. He found he could still swim, and he learned to run and to dance.

Now, during the summer he plays first base on the softball team, not as well as some of the others, but still running and playing.

Conservation Loans Available from FHA

Soil and water conservation loans are available to eligible farmers in Pennington and Red Lake counties, Joel P. Rosengren, county Farmers Home Administration supervisor, said this week.

The loans may be used to carry out measures for soil conservation, water development, conservation and use, and drainage. This will include the construction and repair of terraces, dikes, ditches, ponds and tanks, the establishment and improvement of permanent pastures, basic application of lime and fertilizer, tree planting, and well drilling.

The new loan program was made possible by legislation recently passed by the 83rd Congress.

Soil and water conservation loans may be made from funds supplied by private lenders and insured by the government or from funds appropriated by Congress. Loans from appropriated funds will be made only when insured funds are not available. Loans, either direct or insured, will only be made when the applicant is unable to obtain the credit he needs at reasonable rates and terms from other sources.

Applications for all loans, insured or direct, will be made at the county office of the Farmers Home Administration located at Thief River Falls. A 3-member county committee will certify the eligibility of the applicants. Applications from veterans will receive preference in processing. Members of the Pennington county committee are Stanley Nelson, Clarence Peterson, and Patrick W. Culkins. For Red Lake county, Edward Kapler, Oscar Lovaas, and Millard Dailey are committeemen.

Loans will be made to carry out only types of soil and water conservation practices that are in accord with the recommendations made by the extension service and the soil conservation service.

Soil and water conservation loans will not be available for annually recurring costs that are generally considered as farm operating expense.

To be eligible for a soil and water conservation loan, a farmer must have sufficient experience or training to indicate that he has reasonable prospects of conducting successful farming operations and be unable to obtain the necessary credit on reasonable terms and conditions from private and cooperative sources.

The loans will be scheduled for repayment within the shortest period consistent with the ability of the borrower to repay. No loan will be scheduled for repayment over a period which exceeds the useful life of the improvement or the security, whichever is less. In no case will the repayment period on loans to individuals exceed 20 years.

Individuals can borrow amounts up to $25,000. It is expected that the average loan to a farmer will be less than $5,000.

Water facility loans last year averaged $4,500. Loans to associations have a ceiling of $250,000. All loans will be secured by the best lien obtainable on chattels or real estate to the extent necessary to adequately protect the government's investment.

Applicants will obtain whatever technical assistance they need from the Soil Conservation Service, Extension Service, other agencies, individuals and firms.

Aerial Survey Shows Possible Iron Ore in N. W. Minnesota

Existence in northwestern Minnesota of several extensive belts of strong magnetic attraction which possibly indicate iron-bearing rock formations was reported today by Dr. G. M. Schwartz, director of the Minnesota Geological Survey and University of Minnesota geology professor.

The magnetic belts are outlined distinctly on maps, released today by the United States Geological Survey and the Minnesota survey, based on an aeromagnetic survey of the northern half of the state which has been underway since 1947 as a joint project of the two agencies.

All or part of eight northwestern counties are covered in the nine maps released today, according to Professor Schwartz. Counties involved are: Kittson, Roseau, Marshall, Pennington, Polk, Beltrami, Clearwater and Red Lake.

Three major zones of abnormally high magnetic attraction stand out on the maps, Professor Schwartz reported:

1. Two parallel belts extending through northern Kittson and Roseau counties parallel to the international boundary.

2. A series of belts extending from the northeast corner of Marshall county southwestward through Marshall, Pennington, Red Lake (passing between Thief River Falls and Red Lake Falls) and Polk counties to the Red River of the North. Two southern forks of this zone straddle the city of Crookston.

3. A curved belt through southern Polk county running from Erskine westward through Dugdale and then south to Beltrami.

Previous maps released by the two surveys have indicated numerous potential iron formations in other sections of northern Minnesota.

Professor Swartz emphasized the necessity of checking the results of the aeromagnetic survey readings by means of careful ground surveys and core drilling in zones which appear "promising" before making any predictions as to the existence in these areas of commercially interesting iron deposits.

The new maps outlining these promising areas in the northwestern corner of the state were placed on public display today (Oct. 7) in the office of the Minnesota Geological Survey, Pillsbury hall, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis; the office of the United States Bureau of Mines, Federal building, Duluth; the Bureau of Mines office, 2908 Colfax avenue South, Minneapolis; and the office of the Division of Lands and Minerals, Hibbing.

Used in the aerial survey work on which the maps are based is an instrument known as the airborne magnetometer, nicknamed the "doodlebug," a device which detects and records variations in the earth's magnetic intensity while being flown by an airplane over the survey area at an altitude of 1,000 feet in paths one mile apart.

Enclosed in a bomb-shaped container, the magnetometer's detector unit is suspended on a long cable from a specially equipped airplane operated by experts from the United States Geological survey. The recording device is carried in the airplane cabin. The instrument is similar to a device developed during World War II for detecting submerged submarines from the air.

In addition to their value in locating and outlining possible iron formations which may contain valuable deposits of iron ore, the maps and data based on the Aeromagnetic survey are of great value in determining and understanding the geology of the state, Dr. Schwartz explained.

hospital building is now entirely complete, and new equipment for the hospital is being stored there. The second floor, the maternity area, is nearly done, and this floor also is being used for storage of new equipment. The first floor, or surgical area, will be finished shortly, and new operating lights, operating tables and the 100 milliamp X-ray generator for the Cystoscopic room will soon be installed under the supervision of the various companies providing the equipment.

S. L. Stolte, architect, stated in his visit Saturday that a radical change in the appearance of the interior of the building may be expected from now on as all phases of its construction become closely coordinated toward the end. Plans are being made by the hospital administration to provide for a smooth switchover of all facilities, supplies and patients to the new addition.

Warroad Banker Is Lodged in Jail

Ben Bakken Arrested after Return to Home

His 12-day flight ended Monday night by his return to a waiting family, Warroad, cashier Ben Bakken Tuesday was lodged in the Koochiching County jail, at International Falls on charges growing out of a $30,000 shortage at the bank where he worked for 20 years.

"I don't want to be running away the rest of my life, and I had to see the children," explained the 37-year-old man, who surrendered to Warroad village marshal Guy Sealy.

Arraigned Tuesday before a U. S. commissioner, Bakken waived preliminary hearing and was bound over under $5,000 bail for trial in federal District Court in St. Paul. When the bond was not immediately furnished, Bakken was kept in confinement.

According to the FBI the $30,000 missing from the Security State Bank was taken over a 10-year period, with the last $10,000 disappearing on Sept. 23, the day Bakken vanished from his home on a trip that took him as far as Mexico.

The FBI said the cashier had $8,300 on his person when he returned to Warroad. Disposition of the remainder of the money was not known.

PUBLIC SERVICE

When a person is elected to a public office, it is generally agreed that in all fairness they are entitled to at least one more term, unless there has been dishonesty, flagrant disregard of public opinion, and/or inefficiency. During the last two years of my term in office and while I was chairman of the board there was never a delegation, nor an individual who appeared before the board who did not get a courteous, and respectful hearing.

There was no criticism and no serious complaints except in one case that I shall explain later in the campaign. I am going to conduct a clean campaign, but intend to disclose the work that has been done by the present board member who is my opponent, especially the one year he was Chairman of the County Board.

Winter Beef Calf Food

Several common Minnesota silages were found to be efficient, low-cost wintering through rations for beef calves in University of Minnesota experiments.

The experiments began in October, 1953, when 50 good-grade Hereford steer calves were brought to the University's rolling, 210-acre Beef-Cattle Grassland Farm on the Rosemount Agricultural Experiment Station.

Professor A. L. Harvey started six lots on different rations. Each lot was fed five pounds of good alfalfa hay per head per day to start. One lot remained on hay, being given as much as they would eat as their appetite grew. Some calves eventually ate up to 13 pounds of hay a day.

Each of the other five lots went gradually on one of five silages — pea vine, alfalfa, alfalfa brome, corn and grass silage. Their hay was cut down gradually to about four pounds a day as they began getting silage.

By spring, 1954, Harvey found that the "hay only" lot put on weight at the ideal pound-a-day for 12.1 cents a pound gain. Hay was the cheapest of the six rations. Cost per pound of gain on the others ranged from 13.1 cents on the corn silage to 14.3 cents on the alfalfa-brome silage.

As time went on, each silage had to be supplemented with corn and cob meal . . . the corn silage group also received linseed oil meal . . . to keep all the calves gaining a pound or slightly over a day.

Apparently calves do not have the ability to eat enough silage to meet their growth requirements and must have some other feed in addition.

Harvey's costs are based on these prices: alfalfa hay, $20 a ton; alfalfa, alfalfa-brome and grass silage, $7 a ton; corn silage, $8 a ton; corn and cob meal, $1.40 for 70 pounds; linseed oil meal, $80 a ton; mineral mixture, $48 a ton; common salt, $25 a ton.

Fire Prevention Week

Have you any idea how many farm fires there were in Minnesota last year? Nearly 300, according to Glenn Prickett, Extension Farm Safety Specialist at the University of Minnesota. The losses were 14 lives and slightly over a million dollars. A total of 89 farm homes and 71 barns went up in smoke. Leading causes of fires: defective wiring, stoves, chimneys; lightning; spontaneous combustion; careless smoking and use of matches; careless use of gasoline and other farm fuels.

Information on Rodney

We've all heard of Rodney, the new Canadian oats that resists Races 7 and 8 of stem rust at temperatures below 85 degrees. Edwin H. Jenson, extension agronomist at the University of Minnesota, gives us these facts about the newcomer: It grows tall, has a large, plump seed and high test weight per bushel. Its main drawback for Minnesota farmers is that it matures late. Certified Rodney, available from private growers and companies, should be quite reasonably priced, so look around. Nearly 2,000 acres of Rodney were certified this year by the Minnesota Crop Improvement Association and this should have produced about 1000,00 bushels of seed.

CHATTING with your HOME AGENT

Marge Olsen

We will conclude the discussion of caring for electrical appliances this week.

Electric Mixer:

1. Before using mixer, be sure turn-table has been adjusted so that the beaters just touch the bottom of bowl.
2. Handle bowls with care and avoid sudden temperature changes to prevent cracking.
3. After each use, wipe mixer with damp cloth. Wash beaters and bowls.

Electric Waffle Iron:

1. Be sure waffle iron is disconnected and cool before cleaning. Wipe outside with damp cloth, polish with dry cloth.
2. Never immerse in water.
3. If grids were vegetable treated, never wash them. Wipe with clean, dry cloth and brush with wire brush.
4. If grids were silicone treated, wipe with damp cloth and never use a wire brush.

Electric Toaster:

1. Never immerse in water. Use a damp cloth to wipe off outside.
2. Use small brush to remove crumbs if toaster has no crumb tray.
3. Never clean or store toaster while hot and never wrap cord around base until toaster is completely cooled.
4. Be sure cord is disconnected before cleaning and storing.
5. Never try to clean inside heating element. It is self cleaning when current is on.

Electric Coffee Mixer

1. Never immerse the heating element in water.
2. Keep inside very clean for best flavor coffee. Occasionally put baking soda and water into metal pot or bowls (except aluminum) and proceed for making coffee. Rinse with clear water.
3. Use special cleanser for aluminum.
4. Cloth filters should be carefully rinsed after each use.

Vacuum Cleaner:

1. Check tension of belt often — replace when needed.
2. Empty bag after each cleaning, never wash cleaner bag. Turn bag inside out and brush thoroughly instead.
3. Keep revolving brush free of hair and threads. Replace or adjust when necessary.
4. Clean attachment brushes after each use.
5. Wind cord loosely when storing cleaner. Avoid running over cleaner or stepping on it. Keep free from knots or kinks.

Electric Heating Pad:

1. Unless completely water proofed, never allow to become wet.
2. Never use pins or other metallic fastners to keep pad in place.
3. Never crush pad or fold it more than necessary — when not in use.
4. Store pad in cool, dry place.
5. Avoid knotting or kinking in the cord.

FREEDOM'S FORUM

The freedom of the press is basic to all your American freedoms. Only as your newspaper is free to print the facts, can you be free to know them. Only as you know the facts, can you act wisely in the best interests of your country, as you see them. In America, there is plenty of room for difference of opinion. There is no room for restrictions on the people's right to know the truth. Your newspaper is freedom's forum. To each, it brings the facts. Upon all, it imposes the obligation to keep forever open the channels to knowledge that mean freedom for all.

Report to the People

By Governor C. Elmer Anderson

Less Crime in Country

The annual report of the State Bureau of Criminal Apprehension, just now being compiled, should bring a considerable degree of satisfaction to residents of rural communities. Whether persons in rural districts naturally are better behaved or whether living in rural communities promotes good behavior, the conclusion stands out in this report that crime rates are higher in urban centers than in rural communities. Including all offenses, says the report, the urban crime rate, on the basis of the current year, is 4.6 times greater than the rural crime rate.

Though only 53.9% of Minnesota's population is found in urban centers, John Tierney, director of the Bureau of Criminal Apprehension, points out in a statement prepared for this report that more than 84% of the crimes commited in the state in 1953 were committed in urban communities, and only about 16% in rural territories.

Rise in Crime

Though urban centers lead in number of offenses committed, both rural communities and urban areas have contributed much to the rising toll of crime, the report brought out. Taking all offenses, major crimes in Minnesota rose from 23,327 offenses in 1952 to 26,139 offenses in 1953, which makes an increase of 2,802 offenses, or 12%. The increase was reflected in all categories of crime, but non-negligent manslaughter showed the highest increase, 47%.

Every citizen should support the Pennington Co. Community Chest, which is now conducting its annual campaign for funds.

Archer poultry balancer
Easy on the pocketbook
The more grain you can feed to your hens, the less out-of-pocket cash is needed for egg mash.
That's why the Archer Poultry Balancer feeding plan makes such good sense. Here's a plan that's really easy on the pocketbook. For example, with a 20% mash, you need two parts grain to two parts egg mash. With Archer Poultry Balancer you need only one part Balancer to THREE parts of grain.
In other words, you need only about half as much supplement when you buy Archer Poultry Balancer. Buy a supply. It's economical . . . and it's a work-saver because it's made for free-choice feeding.

Prowler Team Whips Roseau Friday 35 to 0

In an inter-district football game played here Friday night coach Ralph Skjod's Prowlers, scoring in every period, defeated coach Elton Erdahl's Roseau Rams, 35 to 0.

This week the blue-and-gold will make the long trek to Detroit Lakes for a game against the Lakers. The Prowlers vs. Lakers football series will be in its third game on Friday night, and the locals will be out after their first win. In 1952 the Lakers defeated the Prowlers, 34 to 6; and last year the Lakers with the state's second ranked team, trounced the Prowlers, 44 to 6.

Coach Skjod started a lineup that was liberally sprinkled with reserves, and these boys turned in a fine performance to gain a 7 to 0 lead in the first period. George Gifford set up the first marker by recovering a Roseau fumble on the Rams' 31-yard line. Jack Quesnell, Ronnie Reese, Rod Collins, and Sid Vraa carried to the Roseau 6-yard line, in six plays, and then Quesnell sliced through left tackle for the td. Vraa, booting the first of five successive placement kicks, added the conversion.

The Prowlers, with the "first stringers" in the lineup, ripped through for a pair of touchdowns in the second period. Vraa, on a nudge from the 1-foot line, scored early in the quarter, and then added the point to give the locals a 14 to 0 advantage. A blocked kick, with the Prowlers recovering on the Roseau 31-yard line, moved the locals into scoring territory late in the period. Jim Sauve and Pete Froehle hit the tackles for yardage to the 19-yard stripe; Mark Bjorkman, on a lateral, raced to the 9-yard line, and two plays later, Bjorkman, from the six, scored a touchdown. Vraa's kick gave the Prowlers a 21 to 0 lead at the intermission.

Vraa notched a touchdown and an extra point in the third period, scoring on a plunge from the 1-yard line, with the Prowlers beginning their touchdown march from their own 40-yard line after forcing Roseau to kick. A pass, Vraa to Lee Kjos, was completed for a 23-yard gain for the big yardage gainer during the sequence of plays.

In the final minutes of the game, the Prowlers, hurrying to beat the clock, scored their fifth touchdown with hard-running Jim Sauve knifing over right tackle for 2-foot scoring rush. Vraa's fifth placement boosted the lead to 35 to 0.

The Rams were out-rushed by the Prowler forward wall, with the result that Roseau was able to pick up but five first downs, and were held to a net yardage gain of 40 yards. The Prowlers, who relied in the main on their Split T offense, even though they used a few single wing formations, rolled up 23 first downs, and 373 yards from scrimmage.

DETROIT LAKES HUNTER FINDS PARTRIDGE AT HOME

Lyle Davis of Detroit Lakes pounded the brush and woods Wednesday in a vain hunt for partridges.

Arrived home, he found one of the birds, cooked and ready for him on the dinner table. The partridge had flown thru a window of the Davis home in the nimrod's absence. Mrs. Davis did the rest.

Game Refuge Set up Near Marcoux

Taking of Deer in Area Forbidden, Says Warden

A new game refuge has been set up in the Crookston area and is now in force, according to Ed Weiland, state game warden in Crookston. The refuge is located 10 miles east of Crookston on highway 2, says the Times of that city.

It starts at the 10 mile ridge and continues east to Marcoux Corner, a distance of six miles. From there it runs south for four miles to Dugdale, west again six miles to Benoit station and north to the highway, an area of 24 square miles.

Weiland said the refuge was established through petition by land owners in the area and would be a boon to game management, especially deer for it gives them a refuge during the season. He said in open, brushy area such as that the deer have little chance of survival and often an entire herd is wiped out. This refuge should save part of the herd each year.

Weiland pointed out that it is unlawful to carry an uncased gun in a state refuge without a permit. Farmers within the refuge can protect their property from predators but no indiscriminate hunting will be permitted.

The area is posted with signs, 12 to the mile and double signs on every entry and corner. The signs read "State Game Refuge."

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

The Honeymoon Is Over

Coach Ralph Skjod and the football Prowlers move into the second half of their 1954 schedule, and from now on in the blue-and-gold gridders, boasting a four wins and no losses record, will be tested plenty. On Friday night of this week, under the lights at Detroit Lakes' Washington Park, the Prowlers will meet the Lakers in a resumption of a football series that began in 1952, and coach Skjod's squad will be endeavoring to rack up their first gridiron victory over the Lakers.

For the past couple of years, Detroit Lakes has been one of the state's football "powers," and coach Jim Gustafson's club has been highly-regarded again this season. In 1952, behind the able quarterbacking and passing of burly Jack Campbell, who is now on the varsity at North Dakota, the Lakers defeated the Prowlers, 34 to 6; and last year, with a great team sparked by Rich Borstad, the Lakers trounced the locals, 44 to 6.

Last Friday night, in a game against the Park Rapids Panthers, the Lakers had their 16-game winning streak broken when they lost a 26 to 6 decision to Red Mathre's squad. That Laker loss may react against the Prowlers on Friday night, for coach Gustafson shouldn't have any difficulty in bringing his boys "up" for the tilt against the locals.

A couple of weeks ago the Bemidji Lumberjacks were hard-pressed to score a 24 to 6 win over Park Rapids, so that loss that Detroit Lakes absorbed last week shouldn't be rated an upset.

Both the Lakers and the Prowlers are split T formation clubs, so it's probable that Friday night's tilt will be a high-scoring affair. The Lakers, though, won't have as adept a quarterback operating the split T as Sid Vraa of the Prowlers, and Sid should provide the Prowlers with the offensive margin. The problem facing coaches Skjod and Mrkonich is whether or not the Prowler defense can contain the Laker offense.

Following Friday night's game at Detroit Lakes, the Prowlers will play Ada here on October 15th; Bemidji there on October 22nd; and Crookston Central there on October 29th. If the Prowlers win two of their remaining four games they will be posting a creditable record.

Goose Feathers

It is the consensus of the city's duck hunters that this was the poorest duck hunting season-opening week-end ever, and the prospects are that this 1954 season will go into the records as the poorest.

There were a number of limit shoots made on Saturday, particularly by hunters that were well-situated in the Roseau bog; but on Sunday the vast hordes of ducks, mostly mallards, that had made the Saturday afternoon shooting good, had disappeared. Thief Lake had a very poor opening day, but that may have been due to the warm weather, the blue sky, and the south wind that prevailed. The supervisors at Thief Lake agreed that blustery north-west winds, overcast skies with a threat of rain are needed to stir the ducks on the lake, and then the hunters, with decoys and duck boats, will get shooting.

The pass-hunters, waiting for mallards to come off the Mud Lake refuge, had poor shooting, too, for it has only been during the past two or three days that the ducks have been coming out to feed, and they haven't formed a "pattern."

But while the duck hunters were grumbling, the goose hunters were having a grand time. Harold Elofson, Gene Sjoberg, and Al Purdy came in with a goose each on Sunday; and we hear that Otto Rupprecht bagged a couple of geese on Saturday. The Rantanens and the Gullicksons had a big goose shoot on Saturday, with the party being reported as bagging a dozen of the big birds from a field west of Mud Lake. Pete Klungness was another successful goose hunter, getting a "cackler" while hunting around Ditch Twenty.

"Mark Trail" Langevin and his squad of gun-bearers were out on Saturday afternoon, opening the duck hunting season; but the only game that was bagged was credited to Bring-Em-Back-Alive Clinton, who shot a sharptail. Bob "Line Drive" Carlson, well-hidden in the rushes, took a shot at a big flock of teal, and when he came to retrieve his birds he found that he had bagged eight blackbirds. The only unfortunate incident of the happy day occurred when one of the boys lost the cork for his lunch.

A Face-Lifting Operation

That's quite a project that is being completed at the Fair Grounds, and local baseball fans, who haven't taken a drive out there will be surprised at the overhauling that is being done to the race-track and the baseball diamond.

When completed, and we learn that the infield is to be sodded next week, the Fair Grounds baseball field when rank with one of the best in the Northwest, and the Thieves, and the Prowlers, and the junior Legion, and the Midgets will have excellent facilities.

Old-age Insurance Payments Increased

When the monthly old-age and survivors insurance checks were delivered Monday, October 4, all retired persons and all families on the rolls found their payments increased.

These increases, which range from very modest amounts to individual members of some families, up to as much as $31.50 to some widows with several children, result from the 1954 amendments to the Social Security Act, signed into law by President Eisenhower on September 1.

All the six and a half-million people receiving monthly social security payments will benefit from the changes, said Walter D. Kistler, district manager of the Grand Forks social security office. That includes approximately 5,000 beneficiaries in the area serviced by the Grand Forks office, he said.

The present minimum payment of $25 to a retired worker goes up to $30. The highest monthly payment to a retired worker was $85; beginning with the September checks, this will be raised to $98.50. Comparable increases will be made to other retired workers.

Dependents and survivors now receiving monthly payments get proportionate increases, Kistler declared. The largest total payment to a family was raised from $168.50 to $200. As heretofore, however, the largest monthly benefit payable to a family cannot be more than 80% of its insured worker's average monthly earnings or one and one-half times the insured's monthly payments whichever is larger. In all cases all families will receive an increase of at least $5.00 monthly in their total benefit payments.

Kistler said that in cases where 80 percent of the insured worker's average monthly earnings would reduce the total payment to a family below $50, the family will get $50.

Northern Pike Season Ends Soon

Minnesota nimrods making advance plans for the current hunting season are reminded that October 22 is the closing day of the angling season for Northern pike — in case they are planning on a little fishing along the way.

They may, however, fish for walleye, saugers, muskellunge, rock bass, and white bass and catfish through the hunting season; largemouth and smallmouth bass through November 30, and, of course, angling is continuous for crappies, sunfish, bullheads, and the rest of the panfish family.

Federal Official Backs Amendment No. 2 in Election

FDIC Head Says Double Liability on Bank Stock Is No Longer Necessary

Amendment No. 2, on the pink ballot in the Nov. 2 election, has been endorsed by the chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation.

Amendment No. 2 gives the Legislature authority to remove the double liability now imposed on stockholders in state banks.

H. E. Cook, the chairman, in a letter to K. O. Sattre, Blue Earth banker who is chairman of the Citizens' Committee for Amendment No. 2, termed double liability "unnecessary and a disservice rather than a service to banks and bank depositors.

"The Federal Deposit Insurance corporation has repeatedly gone on record as being in favor of the dual banking system," Mr. Cook said. "To that end, it encourages legislation which tends to place the national and state banking systems on a parity so they can operate on a mutual competitive basis. In the few states which still impose the so-called double liability on bank stock, the state banks operate at a disadvantage in this respect, particularly in attracting new capital.

"The purpose of the so-called double liability was to give depositors additional protection for deposits," Mr. Cook said, but "this protection was of little practical value.

"With the advent of federal deposit insurance, any protection afforded to depositors by such double liability would seem unnecessary. Congress thought so in 1933 when it removed such liability from stock in national banks.

"With depositors now protected by federal deposit insurance up to $10,000 on their deposits in each insured bank and, as the latest survey of the FDIC indicates, approximately 98.5 per cent of all depositors in insured banks are now fully protected by such insurance, the double liability on book stock is unnecessary and a disservice rather than a service to banks and bank depositors."

Duck Hunters Are Urged to Send in Every Duck Band

3,000 Ducks Were Banded in Minnesota This Year; Supplies Valuable Data

Minnesota's duck hunters are urged to mail in any duck bands encountered during the '54 waterfowl season. Band recoveries should be mailed to the Bird Banding Office, Patuxent Research Refuge, U. S. Fish & Wildlife Service, Laurel, Maryland.

There is a good reason for promptly reporting the recovery of banded ducks and other birds, according to the bureau of wildlife development, Minnesota department of conservation.

One of the most extensive duck banding projects in history was carried on this summer in the United States and Canada. Thousands of young ducks were banded. Three thousand were banded in Minnesota alone. Information from the recovery of banded young ducks is especially valuable since the data pertains to birds from definite areas of the breeding grounds.

Minnesota, for instance, will be able to determine many things about local breeding duck population, and what percentage of our Minnesota-raised ducks are harvested by Minnesota hunters.

The bird banding office prefers to examine the actual band, if possible. Bands will be returned, if they are mailed in with such a request. A band can be conveniently mailed by flattening and attaching it to the form or sheet of paper on which the recovery information is written. Data requested includes complete number inscribed on the band, as well as the species, date and location of the recovery. It is important to give the exact date the band is secured. Locations should indicate the lake or nearest town and the county where bands were recovered.

If a band has been carried for a long time by a duck, it may have become so worn that the numerals are no longer legible. Send it in anyway! Such bands can be deciphered by means of a chemical process and the information may be most valuable and interesting.

World Series Seen in Valley on TV

From their own "box seats" in homes, stores, barber shops and clubs thousands of Red River Valley residents viewed their first "live" World Series baseball telecast last week.

Both stations KXJB-TV of Fargo-Valley City and WDAY-TV at Fargo carried an "on-the-spot" report of the first game of the 1954 series from New York between the Giants and the Cleveland Indians. A micro-wave hookup from Minneapolis to Fargo was used to bring the game action to the Valley.

Traffic Toll in State Declines; 58 Die Last Month

Total of 452 Deaths Is Recorded in Nine Months, Down 32 from Last Year

Minnesota motorists headed into the final quarter of 1954 seemingly intent on making a sizable reduction in the number of traffic accident fatalities, as compared with 1953 high figures, but still having a long way to go to approach the record of 1952, according to Earl M. Larimer, director of highway safety.

The 58 deaths reported in preliminary records for September were not only 32 below the record high of 90 in last September, but were also the fourth lowest during any September for the past 10 years. The nine-month toll for the current year is 452, which is 32 less than the 484 during the comparable period of last year, but still 78 more than during the first nine months of 1952.

"If all types of traffic accidents," commented Larimer, "would show the same reduction as have pedestrian deaths this year, we would be in a very favorable situation. With seven deaths reported during September — the lowest for any September during the past 10 years — our nine-month figure stands at 77, which is 22 less than during the comparable period of last year and only five above the 72 deaths at the end of September in 1952."

More than half of the September deaths resulted from collisions involving two or more vehicles, with 30 deaths reported in this category and 16 people dying from injuries sustained in seven multiple-death accidents. Included in this latter group were two youngsters killed while riding on a single bicycle near Rochester.

Cooking Is Health Hazard for Hubby, State Medics Say

The greatest current hazard to the health of American husbands is not the annual tussle with the storm windows, or even the general weighty responsibilities connected with being breadwinner and traditional head of the family.

As summed up in a bulletin issued by the Minnesota State Medical association today, the greatest hazard is likely to be an eager, affectionate wife plus a modern kitchen and a cookbook.

"Results of this combination are too often coddling, calories and rich dining — and enough excess pounds, in spite of occasional wrestling with household tasks, to take years off the lives of receptive husbands, say about a year to every extra five pounds, the doctors declare.

Actually, the menace of rich dining is serious, the bulletin says, for both men and women. Excessive weight, and especially excessive fat in the diet, is now generally recognized as one of the major public health problems of this country.

SHARING IN THE SACRIFICE

A Michigan farmer is contesting the government's right to tell him how many acres of wheat he can plant. His complaint raises an interesting question. Obviously we have wandered far afield from some of the old traditions of liberty and the rugged individualism that contributed so much to our greatness as a nation.

But the Michigan farmer probably will not get much more than a sympathetic nod for his effort. The need for reasonable production controls is well established. We recognize the right of the wheat growers and other segments of agriculture to protect themselves against the disastrous results of overproduction. We have created government agencies to assist in establishing and maintaining the necessary controls. We have done this in the public interest and not merely in the interests of the growers themselves.

The Michigan farmer will find that he will have to share in the sacrifice in order that he may also share in the benefits that will come with the controls he does not like.

NATURAL GAS

Our Canadian neighbors have concluded that they have more natural gas than they need and therefore are now offering to sell it to us. The problem now is to get our government to permit the sale of this product in our country. There is opposition to the proposal. Gas is a highly competitive fuel, so competitive in fact that other types of fuel have great difficulty in competing with it. It is understandable therefore why there is opposition to its importation.

But to prohibit the importation of natural gas would be to deny to many of our people the advantages of cheaper fuel and that is neither good nor fair. In this area where we are far from the sources of other fuels, and fuel costs are therefore comparatively high, to prohibit the importation of a product that would tend to equalize these costs with fuel costs in other areas would be an unjustifiable discrimination.

EUROPE UNITES

It now appears likely that the nations of free Europe will be able to agree upon a plan for restoring Germany as a free nation. At any rate the representatives of the nations that were a part of the proposed European Defense Community, meeting in London, have adopted a plan that probably will be approved by the respective governments of those nations.

Thus unity is being achieved out of what a couple of weeks ago seemed to be a hopeless division. Under this plan the new Germany will contribute substantially to the defense of Western Europe. How well this plan will work only time and experience can tell.

There are several encouraging aspects to this development. It is encouraging to know that there has been a real desire among these European nations to unite in a defense pact. That is not good news for the Reds.

It is encouraging, too, to know that the plan for the defense of European nations, as finally approved, is one of their own making. It has been forced upon them only by the common danger with which they are confronted and not by outside pressure.

And it is encouraging to know that our representatives have finally concluded that we cannot pressure the rest of the world into a pattern of our making. For too long a time we have been attempting to dictate policies for the rest of the free world, and our telling others how they should conduct their affairs, while justifiable in some instances, nevertheless has led to resentment.

The London conference has been successful mainly, we are told, because of our recognition of the fact that the defense of Europe is a problem for the Europeans to work out. That policy applied to Asia might bring equally good results.

OUR BEST ASSURANCE

After nine long years of bickering, and several explosions that might have started another war, Italy and Yugoslavia have finally settled their differences over Trieste. With these differences adjusted the door is now open to further gains in the establishment of a united front against Red aggression in that corner of the world.

Yugoslavia, Greece and Turkey are already allied in a Balkan defense pact. Italy, Greece and Turkey are members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Thus, through two separate pacts, the four nations are pledged to help each other in the event of a Red attack, and that is the best assurance we can have that there will not be an attack.

BE PREPARED

Four years ago Canada and the United States joined in establishing a radar aircraft warning system across the continent from coast to coast. Canada alone is installing another radar screen across a more northerly portion of the Dominion. Now a third detection system far up in the arctic region, to be installed by both nations, has been agreed upon. These alarm systems are undoubtedly good.

The steadily increasing speed of jet bombers however probably has reduced the effectiveness of these warning systems. The advance notice of an impending attack is not going to be far enough in advance to permit much last-minute preparation. Only to the extent that we are already prepared to meet such an attack could we hope to resist it effectively. The Boy Scouts' "Be Prepared" might well be adopted as a national slogan.

Community Chest time is here and once again we have an opportunity to support several worth-while organizations in one united effort and one contribution. This seven-drives-in-one deserves support. It is the efficient way to give and the right way to give. If the Community Chests fails it will mean another half dozen solicitations added to the already-too many and too costly drives for funds. The Community Chest deserves to succeed. Do your bit to make it succeed.

This is National Newspaper Week and it gives us an opportunity to remind ourselves again of the great responsibility that goes hand in hand with a free press. Freedom of the press is one of the basic liberties of our people. The press, in itself, is not entitled to any special privilege. Freedom of the press means the freedom of expression for all of the people. It is a guarantee for the free exchange of ideas that is fundamental to our conception of liberty. Upon the press falls much of the responsibility for guarding that freedom.

Proposed Amendments to the
Constitution of Minnesota

J. A. A. Burnquist, Attorney General
State Capitol, St. Paul, Minn.

March 11, 1954

Honorable Mrs. Mike Holm
Secretary of State
State Capitol
Dear Mrs. Holm:

Pursuant to Minnesota Statutes 1953, § 3.21, you are hereby furnished a statement of the purpose and effect of each of the following proposed amendments to the Constitution of the State of Minnesota. They are to be submitted to the voters for their approval or rejection at the November 2, 1954, general election as directed by Laws 1953, Chapters 759, 760, 761, and 762.

L. 1953, c. 759
PROPOSED AMENDMENT RELATING TO PROBATE COURT JURISDICTION AND QUALIFICATIONS OF JUDGE

The only two existing sentences involved in the proposed amendment are those of art. 6, § 7 of the State Constitution, the first of which relates to the office of probate judge and the second to the jurisdiction of the probate court, which read as follows:

> " * * * It shall be held by one judge, who shall be elected by the voters of the county for the term of four years. * * * A probate court shall have jurisdiction over the estates of deceased persons and persons under guardianship, but no other jurisdiction, except as prescribed by this Constitution."

If the proposed amendment is adopted, the first provision above quoted will read as follows:

> " * * * It shall be held by one judge, whose qualifications may be established by law. The judge shall be elected by the voters of the county for a term of four years."

The second provision above quoted, if the amendment is adopted, will read as follows:

> " * * * A probate court shall have jurisdiction over the person and estate, either or both, of persons under guardianship; over estates of deceased persons; and such further jurisdiction as the legislature may from time to time establish by a two-thirds vote."

The purpose of the amendment is to empower the legislature to prescribe by law the qualifications of a probate judge and, by a two-thirds vote, to extend the jurisdiction from time to time of the probate court. The effect of the adoption of the proposed amendment would be a change in the probate court section of the Constitution to enable the legislature to enact laws to prescribe the qualifications of the probate judge and, by a two-thirds vote, to extend the jurisdiction of the probate court.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT RELATING TO LIABILITY OF STOCKHOLDERS IN CERTAIN CORPORATIONS

This proposed amendment involves art. 10, § 3 of the State Constitution, which in its existing form reads as follows:

> "Sec. 3. The legislature shall have power from time to time to provide for, limit and otherwise regulate the liability of stockholders or members of corporations and cooperative corporations or associations, however organized. Provided every stockholder in a banking or trust corporation or association shall be individually liable in an amount equal to the amount of stock owned by him for all debts of such corporation contracted prior to any transfer of such stock and such individual liability shall continue for one year after any transfer of such stock and the entry thereof on the books of the corporation or association."

If amended as proposed, said section will read as follows:

> "Sec. 3. The legislature shall have power from time to time to provide for, limit and otherwise regulate the liability of stockholders or members of corporations and cooperative corporations or associations, however organized."

The purpose of the amendment is to delete from the section as it now exists the provision that "every stockholder in a banking or trust corporation or association shall be individually liable in an amount equal to the amount of stock owned by him for all debts of such corporation contracted prior to any transfer of such stock and such individual liability shall continue for one year after any transfer of such stock and the entry thereof on the books of the corporation or association". The effect of the adoption of the proposed amendment would be the termination of the specific individual liability of every stockholder in a banking or trust corporation or association in so far as the same exists by virtue of the above quoted § 3 of art. 10 of the State Constitution. However, the proposed amendment does not deprive the legislature of the power of enacting laws to provide for, limit, or otherwise regulate the liability of stockholders or members of a corporation or association, however organized.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT RELATING TO REVISION AND ADOPTION OF NEW STATE CONSTITUTION

This proposed amendment would add to art. 14 of the State Constitution a third section, which would read as follows:

> "Sec. 3. Any convention called to revise this constitution shall submit any revision thereof by said convention to the people of the State of Minnesota for their approval or rejection at the next general election held not less than 90 days after the adoption of such revision, and, if it shall appear in the manner provided by law that three-fifths of all the electors voting on the question shall have voted for and ratified such revision, the same shall constitute a new constitution of the State of Minnesota. Without such submission and ratification, said revision shall be of no force or effect. Section 9 of Article IV of the Constitution shall not apply to election of the convention."

The present Constitution does not provide that a revision by a convention shall be submitted to the people for approval or, if submitted, by what vote it shall be ratified. The purpose of the proposed amendment is to provide that a revision of the State Constitution by such convention shall be submitted to the people for their approval or rejection at the general election held not less than 90 days after the revision by the convention and that the affirmative vote of three fifths of all electors voting on the question shall be required for its adoption. The further purpose of the amendment is to provide that § 9 of art. 4 of the Constitution, which, among other provisions, forbids a member of the legislature from holding any other office during the time for which he is elected, shall not apply to the election of members of a constitutional convention.

The effect of the amendment, if adopted, will be the adding to art. 14 of the Constitution of a third section, which will provide that, before a convention revision of the Constitution shall go into effect, it shall be submitted to the people in manner above stated and be approved by three fifths of all electors voting thereon at the general election and further provide that a member of the legislature may serve as a member of the constitutional convention.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT RELATING TO FILLING VACANCIES IN ELECTIVE OFFICES BY GOVERNOR

The provision in art. 5, § 4 of the Constitution relating to the filling of such vacancies by the governor reads as follows:

> " * * * He shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed. fill any vacancy that may occur in the office of secretary of state, treasurer, auditor, attorney general, and such other state and district offices as may be hereafter created by law, until the next annual election, and until their successors are chosen and qualified."

If the proposed amendment is adopted, the provision in question will read as follows:

> " * * * He shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed, fill any vacancy that may occur in the office of secretary of state, treasurer, auditor, attorney general, and such other state and district offices as may be hereafter created by law, until the end of the term for which the person who had vacated the office was elected, or the first Monday in January following the next general election whichever is sooner, and until their successors are chosen and qualified."

The purpose of the amendment is to eliminate the so-called "short term" which prevails under the present Constitutional provision, as thereunder the appointment by the governor continues only until the next general election and until a successor is chosen and qualifies. As, under the present provision, the person elected for the long term does not assume the office in question until the first Monday of January following the election, there is a short term between the general election and the first Monday in January following. The effect of the adoption of the proposed amendment will be to enable the person appointed by the governor to fill the vacancy to continue in office until the first Monday in January following the next general election.

Very truly yours,
J. A. A. BURNQUIST,
Attorney General

FAMOUS TRICHOLOGIST WILL DEMONSTRATE HOW TO GROW THICKER HAIR -- AND GUARANTEES IT

DEMONSTRATION TO BE HELD HERE

This new method of home treatment for saving and growing thicker hair will be demonstrated in Thief River Falls, Minn., Thursday ONLY, October 14, 1954. These private individual demonstrations will be held at the Pennington Hotel on Thursday ONLY, October 14, 12 Noon to 9 p. m.

OKLAHOMA CITY, October 4 —In an interview here today Mr. Wm. L. Keele, internationally famous trichologist and President of the Keele Hair and Scalp Specialists, Inc., said "There are 18 different scalp disorders that cause most men and women to lose hair. Using common sense, a person must realize no one tonic or so called cure-all could correct all the disorders," he explained.

GUARANTEED

"The Keele firm, recognizing that most people are skeptical of claims that hair can be grown on balding heads, offer a guarantee," Keele said.

Once a person avails himself of the Keele treatment his skepticism immediately disappears. To insure this, we offer this guarantee: "If you are not completely satisfied with your hair progress at the end of 30 days your money will be returned."

HOPELESS CASES DISCOURAGED

First the Trichologist is quick to tell hopeless cases that they cannot be helped. But the "hopeless" cases are few. Only if a man is completely shiny bald is he in this last category.

If there is fuzz, no matter how light, thin or colorless, the Keele treatment can perform wonders.

FREE EXAMINATIONS

This examination is very thorough and highly technical. It requires 20 to 30 minutes. The Trichologist makes no charge for this examination and no appointment is necessary. After the examination the person is told the required length of treatment and how much it will cost.

After starting treatment, the person makes regular reports to the Keele firm at Oklahoma City to check the progress of the home treatment.

To spread the opportunity of normal, healthy hair to the thousands who are desperately looking for help, independent trichologists are visiting various cities throughout the United States to conduct examinations and start home treatment.

NO CURE-ALL

"We have no cure all for slick, shiny baldness," Keele emphasizes. "If there is fuzz the root is still capable of creating hair and we can perform what seems to be a miracle."

There is one thing Keele wants to be certain every man and woman knows. If a recession appears at the temples or a spot begins to show up on the crown of the head, there is something wrong and it should be given immediate attention.

HAIR FOR A LIFETIME

"If clients follow our direction during treatment, and after they finish the course, there is no reason why they will not have hair all the rest of their lives," Keele said. "Our firm is definitely behind this treatment. It all depends on the individual clients faithful observation of a few simple rules."

HOW'S YOUR HAIR

If it worries you, call Trichologist L. G. Evans at The Pennington Hotel in Thief River Falls, Minn., Thursday ONLY, October 14, 12 Noon to 9 p. m. The public is invited. You do not need an appointment. The examinations are private and you will not be embarrassed or obligated in any way.—Adv.

SMILEY . . .

By Mrs. Jim McCrum, Rt. 3, City

It is very evident that the wonderful season of Fall has arrived, not only with the autumn chill, nor the radiant display of colored leaves, but of church dinners, carnivals, and festivals. Smiley will be host to two events as a starter: The first is the Smiley 4-H club's carnival to be held Friday evening, October 8 at the Smiley Hall. A cordial invitation is extended to one and all to come and spend the evening by helping those good young souls to swell their treasury. Lunches will be served and a novel idea of a rake walk will be featured.

The second event will be the famed chicken dinner at the Bethany church served by the good cooks of the Ladies Aid. A day in the country is always a tonic and especially in a church. Take a drive out about 12 noon when the serving starts and will continue serving until everyone is fed with the excellent menu. This means everyone who likes good food.

THE MINNESOTA STORY

Prepared by the Minnesota Historical Society

GRASSHOPPER DAYS

The year 1873 was a tough one for the people of Minnesota. It was a year of financial depression throughout the nation. The winter was very cold and it was estimated that more than seventy people perished in the wind and snow.

Then came the grasshoppers. They were called the "Rocky Mountain locust." Hundreds of families were left destitute as crops were completely destroyed. Crops were again planted in 1874 and again the hoppers appeared and took everything before them. The same thing happened in 1875. The following year damage was on a wider scale than before. The 1877 pestilence was met with organized resistance. Fires were set, ditches were dug and grasshoppers were caught in pans filled with tar.

When destitution first appeared the Minnesota legislature voted aid to those who had suffered. That action was repeated in ever growing amounts as additional years produced more devastation. Seeds were purchased to replant the fields and make them ready for another attack. Townships and villages were given authority to raise funds to help farmers. Those living in areas where crops were still harvested gave clothing, food and money. A large part of the population was discouraged by year after year of poverty and distress.

In the last year of infestation the governor of the state issued a proclamation setting aside a day for fasting and prayer. For some reason, natural or supernatural, the pests disappeared.

FIRST GOLD RUSH

Everyone who came to Minnesota in the earliest days expected to find minerals. So many new lands had yielded gold or silver that the men on the Minnesota frontier expected to find rare metals. In this hope there was some basis in the various geological formations to be found in the state, particularly in Northeastern Minnesota.

One of the acts of the early state government was to hire a geologist, H. H. Eames, who submitted a 23 page report in 1866. This man was not conservative for he described Minnesota as "one of the richest mineral caches of the world."

Eames immediately found gold in the Vermilion lake country. There was some evidence of it and that was all that was required to start a dramatic trek through the winderness. Mining equipment came in the hard way from Duluth and other places. Newton H. Winchell, Minnesota's great geologist and historian, said that hundreds of thousands of dollars were squandered in the two years which followed the report.

A town was laid out on the south side of the lake and many people came in. Mr. Winchell said the craze was maintained by unscrupulous assayers, prospectors and geologists. This famed authority went even further when he stated that — "A would-be geologist and spiritualist, who subsequently aspired to be peat commissioner to the state of Minnesota; located the precious lodes at Vermilion lake by the necromancy of spiritualistic mediums."

This premature gold rush soon subsibded and the legislature cut off the Eames salary.

SHIN PLASTERS

The first bankers in Minnesota had to be very shrewd men. They not only had to know people in a new land and take chance with pioneers and speculation, but they also had to know their bank notes and currency.

Handling money on the frontier was very hazardous. The various states and territories issued money of their own and most of it had little value. The American Fur Company transacted a banking business for its customers. One transaction involved $645.50. Of this amount, $71.50 was counterfeit and the balance was in Wisconsin notes of no value. The early day territorial papers carried long lists of valueless or counterfeit money of which the public should beware.

The first, regularly established banking houses had many hazards. The banker profited from an interest rate as high as five per cent a month and he may have made all kinds of money from real estate and speculation, but he was fortunate to survive. One complained of his losses from "the shin plasters of Michigan, the wild cats of Georgia and Pennsylvania and the wildest of all red dogs from Nebraska and Indiana."

Five banks were established in St. Paul in the years of 1853 and 1854. Then came the panic of 1857 and not one was left.

During the last fiscal year, Red Cross provided financial assistance to servicemen, veterans and their dependents amounting to $12,578,400.

The state's total indebtedness on June 30, 1954, was $94,708,331, or a drop of almost 17½ million since June 30, 1953, State Auditor Stafford King disclosed in his quarterly report last week.

During the fiscal year, the state paid outstanding obligations of $31,925,567 but approximately 14½ million in new certificates were issued.

Hunters Urged to Cooperate with Farmers This Fall

The department of conservation urges hunters to cooperate with farmers and other landowners during the current hunting season.

This means asking the owners permission to hunt, even though the land is not posted; making certain to not disturb livestock; do not leave gates open or block landowner's driveway; stay away from vicinity of buildings; don't leave any refuse behind; make certain that buildings or livestock are not in line of fire; do not start fires to smoke out squirrels, or for any purpose; stop in and thank the owner before you leave — whether you were successful or not.

These are just a few signs that you are a sportsman.

One major U. S. coal organization, comprising 14 companies, with mines in Missouri, Kentucky, Kansas, Ohio, Oklahoma, Illinois, Indiana, and Iowa, last year produced 8,761,838 tons of bituminous solely by surface mining methods.

EVERY SPARTON SET IS "Custom-Built"
Because Sparton Builds For Quality—Not Quantity— No Mass Produced Set Can Match These Custom-Built Sparton Features:
1. Unlike most TV manufacturers, Sparton makes 70% of its own parts instead of buying them.
2. Sparton owns its own furniture factory—custom-builds its cabinets like your own fine furniture is built.
3. Every Sparton connection is hand-soldered—obviously impossible in mass produced sets.
4. All Sparton TV sets are completely assembled in Sparton plants.
5. Every Sparton set is individually inspected as it comes off the line. There is no spot checking as in mass production factories.
Sparton sells direct to the dealer. This eliminates the middleman markup and gives you a finer set at no extra cost.
COMPLETE ANTENNA INSTALLATION as low as $64.95

Will you help Johnny with his homework?

Of course! You are willing and eager to help. If Johnny is to be happy and make a real contribution in life, he must have every educational advantage possible. You want to prepare him.

But what about Johnny's church school homework?

To prepare Johnny for life, he must have more than a head full of history and geography and multiplication tables. Johnny must have a heart full of love and a soul dedicated to God. To find purpose and meaning in life, Johnny must have faith, not just fact and figures.

Bring Johnny to Church School and Church every Sunday.

Afterwards, help with his papers and talk over the lessons. Make his church school homework as much your responsibility as his public school homework.

Help Johnny prepare for victorious, Christian living!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

From where I sit . . . by Joe Marsh

"Blind Man's" Bluff

You know how Handy Turner down at the hardware store goes in for weird advertising stunts. Well, when it came to plugging his new Venetian blind department, his enthusiasm nearly landed him in trouble.

Handy painted a warning on the tailboard of his truck "Caution—blind man driving."

"Had driven about a mile," Handy says, "when a state trooper stopped me and told me that sign might cause trouble. Guess he was right. From now on I'll advertise in the Clarion."

From where I sit, I agree—the highway is no place for jokes. We all ought to be considerate of the other fellow when we're driving. In fact, let's respect our neighbor's right of way always. Then, when we have differences of opinion—say about the best route to Centerville, or whether beer or buttermilk is better with lunch—there will be less chance of anybody developing any "blind" spots.

NEWSPAPERS IN THE NEWS

The Fergus Falls Journal was a weekly newspaper when Leo Peterson first subscribed for it in 1903, 51 years ago; the Journal has been a daily 30 years and now, living at Backus in his 80th year, Mr. Peterson still subscribes and reads every issue . . . Carl J. Saltee has been on the Canby News subscription list 57 years . . . The Valley Herald, published weekly at Chaska, is now in its 93rd year — which, even in relatively youthful Minnesota, is not unique — there are several older newspapers. The unique feature of the Chaska Herald's venerable age is that the newspaper is still only in the second generation of management. Fred E. DuToit Jr. took over the reins of the Herald from his father in 1922 and is still in very active charge, giving the Herald the distinction of almost a century in two generations of the same family.

It's my job to put out fires. It's your job to prevent them. Ill risk my life to save yours. But your caution can safeguard both. Eliminate fire hazards from your home. GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Being Tactful With Children

Mrs. Brown closed the book on child rearing she had been reading and addressed her husband, "John, we should make Susan do more things for herself. She's three and a half years old now and can't cut up her own meat." The Browns were both professional people who, during their busy days, really did not give Susan much consideration. She was left mostly in the care of an elderly aunt who lived with them.

In fact, at mealtime was one of the few occasions that Susan could enjoy personal attention from her parents. That evening Susan was given the usual piece of meat with a potato. As was customary, she handed her plate to her father, saying, "Please Daddy, cut up my meat for me." "No, Susan, you're big enough to cut up your own meat now," answered her father bluntly, pushing the plate away from him.

Susan's feelings were hurt that her father apparently did not want to be of friendly help to her anymore. Nevertheless, she sliced up some of her meat and proceeded to eat it with a spoon. "Use your fork!" snarled her father "You're too old to use a spoon." Susan began to cry.

If Mrs. Brown had not closed the book quite so soon, she might have read something about being tactful with children and that dependent children cannot be changed into responsible people overnight. What could Mr. Brown have done? His approach might have been something like this. "I think, Susan, you're almost strong enough to cut some up yourself. You watch how I do it. We can both work on it together."

The challenge could good-naturedly be extended on the next day by words such as "Let's see how many pieces you can cut up," and help given if necessary. Susan in the end would be proud of her new accomplishment and receive commendation from her parents.

The change to a fork could better have been postponed until Susan had mastered the other situation, simply because it is easier to make one new adjustment at a time. If, after tactful suggestion, Susan still preferred using a spoon with meat, there is no reason why she should not use a spoon.

WASHINGTON quiz

Q—Can you give the revenues obtained from sale of electricity in the public power projects of the Bureau of Reclamation?

A—Revenue from 14 hydroelectric power installations in the western states in fiscal year 1954 totalled $50,812,300 as compared to $44,963,879 in fiscal year 1953. These projects are self-liquidating, eventually cost the taxpayers nothing and revenue is applied to retire construction costs of the plants and facilities and such irrigation costs beyond ability of water users to pay.

Q—Does the constitution provide qualifications for membership in the Supreme court?

A—No. There is no qualification either as to age, citizenship, legal ability, background or political beliefs.

Q—When was the National Bureau of Standards established?

A—March 3, 1901, by Act of Congress. Prior to that time a Bureau in the Treasury Department known as the Office of Weights and Measures functioned as a regulatory agency.

Q—When did the United States first begin its exploration of the Arctic Ocean?

A—In 1850 a civilian expedition commanded by U. S. Naval officers made the first exploration. Since 1610 many nations have been seeking the "northwest passage" from the Atlantic to the Pacific through Polar waters. Only recently this passage was found by two U. S. icebreakers through the McClure strait which will permit passage of naval vessels during summer months.

Red Lake County Plans Trees

Thirty Red Lake county farmers will improve their farms with new trees in 1955. They are preparing the land now, summer-fallowing to save moisture and kill weeds. They will order trees this fall for spring delivery. The County's Soil Conservation District tree planters will put the baby trees to bed in their new homes. The recommended windbreak for Red Lake county is ten rows of trees and shrubs—four rows of evergreens, two of elm and ash and four of fast-growing willows. The windbreak usually gets off to a fast start and gives some protection in the second winter. Evergreens will come up in front for a good tight windbreak and grow more beautiful each year.

SCS Technicians Train Scouts

Leaders from the Red River Valley Boy Scout Council met at their 2,000-acre Wilderness Camp to plan camp conservation measures. They watched SCS technicians demonstrate erosion control, stabilize the slope for scout traffic and plan trails and travel lanes. The Council also set up a program to give each Troop a chance to do a "conservation good turn" by taking care of at least a part of an area that needs attention. They thus hope to solve the camp maintenance problem and insure proper care of ground used as rifle range, archery range, water supply and corrals.

Fertilize Hay Fields Now

Now is a wonderful time to fertilize your hay fields for next year. Here are the advantages, listed by Wallace W. Nelson, agronomist at the Northeast Experiment Station in Duluth: First, the work load is usually a little lighter now than in the spring and you're sure of getting the fertilizer on. Then, too, the ground is firmer and easier to drive equipment on. And it's easier to get the fertilizer proportions you need—you don't have to buy it just to be sure of having it and then store it all winter. Finally, tests show fertilizer put on in fall is as effective as that put on in spring. Result of careful fertilizing: higher-yielding, more nutritious and tastier hay for your cows next summer. Healthier, happier cows, too, of course.

WANT TO SING WITH THE MET?

At some stage in life everybody either wants to write a book or become a concert artist. Some succeed. Aspiring vocalists thruout the Upper Midwest won't have to go out looking this season — Opportunity with a capital O, in the person of authorized representatives of the Metropolitan Opera of New York, will audition all comers February 21 and 22. Winners will have a second hearing, and the chosen Regional Representative will go to New York for a try at the Met. Complete details may be had for the asking from "Metropolitan Auditions of the Air, 109 Northrop Memorial Auditorium, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis 15, Minnesota." Iowa, North and South Dakota, Wisconsin, and Minnesota are in the District. An Anoka wife and mother was last year's winner and while she didn't quite reach a Met contract she and several runners-up found their prestige and popular demand most encouragingly enhanced by their showing.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES

Highway signs directly opposite each other: "Worthington 30 Miles" — Worthington 31 Miles" . . . Odd names along the highway: Alleven, Flygare . . . Street sign: "Slow Children Playing" . . Roadside stand: "Toot 'n' Tote" . . . Marking a simple by-pass as a "Detour" is confusing to most motorists . . . Something new in motel service: The Edgewater, on the North Shore highway just out of Duluth, regales guests with a delightful "continental breakfast" at any specified morning hour.

Political Roundup

By Arthur Naftalin

How serious is the threat that faces the Minnesota Republican Party in this election?

GOP'ers are frank to admit that their chances of unseating United States Senator Hubert H. Humphrey are not bright, but they insist, however strong Humphrey may be, they will gather in the necessary votes to retain the governorship and the other state offices and may even increase the number of congressional seats held by Republicans.

DFL'ers, in their zooming enthusiasm, decry such Republican optimism as being entirely unjustified. They are proclaiming that a DFL sweep of state offices is in prospect and that, if any congressional shift occurs, it will be in favor of the DFL.

Threat Biggest Since '30s

However viewed, there can be no denying that this year's election poses for the Republicans their most serious threat since the 1930's when the old Farmer-Labor Party took over most statewide offices, including the governorship, and there are certain factors that compel attention and should give the Republicans reason for the most serious concern.

Among these factors are the results of the September primary, in which the DFL for the first time since its creation outpolled the GOP; the serious defection among farmers who ordinarily vote Republican; the growth in organizational strength of the DFL Party; the weakness in the state GOP ticket relative to other years, resulting from the loss of many well-known incumbents, and the fact — perhaps most crucial of all — that the DFL campaign is being paced by that Party's best vote-getter.

Meaning of the Primary

The report of the state canvassing board, issued last week, showed a total of 351,389 votes cast in the DFL primary to 290,617 on the Republican side, giving the DFL 54 per cent of the total primary vote to 46 per cent for the Republicans.

Various observers have attempted to analyze individual contests, but these analyses have little meaning. What is significant is the fact that the DFL outpolled the GOP, providing a strong indication that a clear majority of voters will begin marking their general election ballots for DFL candidates. The question is, will they continue down the ticket with DFL candidates or will they do, as Minnesota voters have so often done in the past, jump back and forth between the two Parties?

Comparison With 1948

In the election of 1948, when Humphrey was first elected, he paced the DFL ticket with 729,494, defeating the incumbent Republican, Joseph H. Ball, who received 485,801, by a margin of 243,693 votes. Humphrey's total, which was 60 per cent of the votes cast, was 36,000 more than President Truman received and 86,000 more than Governor Youngdahl was accorded.

In that election, with Humphrey pulling the votes to the DFL ticket, Youngdahl outran the DFL candidate, Charles Halstad, by 97,806, polling only 53.2 per cent of the two-party Gubernatorial vote. Youngdahl's margin that year included a majority of 23,863 in Hennepin county, which the DFL stoutly believes will go strongly DFL this year.

As the GOP candidate for lieutenant-governor in 1948, C. Elmer Anderson had a close squeak over John T. McDonough the DFL nominee, winning with only 51 per cent of the vote to McDonough's 49 per cent.

Adds Up To Even Race

All this adds up, in the thinking of DFL partisans at least, to mean that Orville Freeman, the DFL nominee for Governor, has a 50-50 chance of unseating Governor Anderson. DFL'ers insist that Anderson in 1954 is not as strong a vote-getter as Youngdahl was in 1948 and that Freeman in 1954 is a stronger DFL candidate than Halsted was in 1948.

Moreover, a much more vigorous campaign is being waged in Freeman's behalf than was put on for Halstad, and, also, Youngdahl in 1948 was especially energetic in his drive for votes, certainly more so than Anderson is this year. Add to this the observation that in 1952, when Freeman opposed Anderson before, the governor won with a majority of 55.7 per cent, but at a time when President Eisenhower was pacing the GOP ticket. Now, with Humphrey as the election lodestar, Freeman could conceivably wipe out the governor's advantage of two years ago.

Split Results Foreseen

This year's election promises to produce an unusual amount of ticket-splitting. There were scattered reports from election judges that more than the ordinary number of primary ballots were spoiled by voters who insisted upon jumping between the Party columns.

Minnesota voters are known for their independence in voting. They do not hesitate in picking and choosing among the nominees of the two parties. With so many vacancies among the state offices there may even be more of it this year than ever. This could mean a strange combination of state office-holders, resulting in a sort of bi-partisan state administration.

Farmington Man Champion of State Buttermakers

Helge Quist, 44, churnman at Twin City Milk Producers' Association, Farmington, is Minnesota's new champion buttermaker. This honor was earned by Mr. Quist when he came through with an average score of 99.63 in the four state-wide contests conducted periodically throughout 1954. These contests have been held each year since 1930 to determine the state champion and are jointly sponsored by the Minnesota department of agriculture, dairy and food, the Minnesota state fair and the Minnesota Creamery Operators' and Managers' association.

Sharing an honorary suite of rooms with the champion at convention headquarters of the Minnesota Creamery Operators' and Managers' Association in the Hotel Nicollet, Minneapolis, October 5-6, are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Nickel, Pequot Lakes, and Mr and Mrs. Robert E. Anderson, Almelund. Mr. Anderson won the association's 1954 spring contest with a score of 99.34.

Mr. Nickel was high man in the convention contest, which was the fourth and concluding contest in the championship series, his score being the phenomenal 100, which he attained for the first time in the spring contest in 1951. It is believed that Mr. Nickel is the only man in the history of modern buttermaking in Minnesota to have achieved the coveted perfect score twice.

Clifford Skime of Roseau was the winner for this area, Districts 3 and 4.

Vegetable Storage

Vegetables must be well matured when harvested if they are to store successfully. Store only the high quality produce — for quality will not improve with storage. Avoid storing vegetables with defects or disease.

• • •

Harvested vegetables are still alive and continue to grow in storage. For this reason, the temperature and moisture conditions in the storage room must be controlled to retard the growth processes and lengthen the life of the stored products.

• • •

Modern basements are usually too warm for successful storage. It's best to construct an insulated room at one corner of the basement for a storage room. The temperature of such a room could be regulated by using a ventilator shaft connected to a basement window.

• • •

Many of our vegetables require moist, cool conditions. Temperatures between 32 degrees F. and 40 degrees F. are best for apples, carrots, beets, rutabagas, potatoes, celery and cabbage. Carrots and beets can be stored in 10-gallon crocks. Remove part of the crown of the root with the top of the carrots before placing them in storage. A burlap bag over the top of the container will keep the air moist inside.

• • •

Onions require cool, dry conditions which are usually found near the ceiling of the storage room or in an attic that can be kept above freezing.

• • •

Squash and pumpkins are kept best in a warm, dry room. Shelves built near the furnace would be ideal for storing these crops. Successful storage will depend on the curing of the squash for a few weeks at high temperature to harden the skin.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Q—I am a World War II veteran training under the original GI Bill. Next month I expect to finish my course. Since I have some entitlement remaining, would I be allowed to enroll in another course in a different field?

A—No. Once you complete or discontinue a course under the World War II GI Bill, you generally are prohibited from taking another course, even though you do not have additional entitlement.

Q—I enrolled in college under the Korean GI Bill for an AB degree in English. Several weeks after class started, I changed my mind and decided I would rather go after a BS in business administration. Would this be considered my one-and-only change of course?

A—Not necessarily. You may change from one baccalaureate degree to another, without having it count as your one-and-only course change, so long as your new course won't take any longer to complete than the old.

Q—If I simply send an application for Korean GI term insurance to VA within the 120-day deadline, will I be able to get the insurance? I'd like to pay my first premium at a later date, if possible.

A—An application alone, submitted within the 120-day period, would not be enough to entitle you to Korean GI term insurance. You also must pay your first premium within the 120 days.

County Boards Get Inquiries for San Lease

Committee from Four Boards Chosen to Make Further Investigation

Nearly all county board members from Pennington, Marshall, Red Lake and Roseau counties, which jointly have operated Oakland Park sanatorium in Thief River Falls, met in this city Monday evening to discuss ways and means of converting the institution into an old-peoples home after the remaining tuberculosis patients are transferred this fall to Sunny-rest sanatorium at Crookston.

The board members considered the possibility of leasing the property to a private group, and also the feasibility of a county-operated home similar to those being maintained by several other counties in this section of the state.

Rev. Alfred M. Larson, Waldie Christensen and Rev. Carlson of Warren, associated with the Red River Valley Home for the Aged in this city, told the board members that they have set up a new organization with the objective of taking over the operation of the sanatorium property.

County Auditor C. W. Rodekuhr stated that a proposal had also been received from Rev. Carl Berg, of the Good Samaritan Home at Clearbrook, indicating that his group is interested in purchasing the institution buildings.

After discussing the various possibilities in closed session, the boards selected a committee consisting of one commissioner from each of the four counties to investigate all proposals and to report back at another point meeting here Monday night, October 25. In the meantime the committee will visit other old-peoples homes in the area and also will go to St. Paul to confer with the state board of health and state department of welfare.

Trailer Court Discussed at C & C Session

Committee Appointed to Seek Establishment of Modern Court Here

A discussion of the need for a modern trailer court in Thief River Falls featured the luncheon meeting of the Civic and Commerce association last Thursday noon in the Rex Cafe. Presenting the problem were Randall Noper and Bill LaFave.

A report on the recent successful 50th anniversary celebration was submitted by Kendall Gustafson, general chairman; and Hilmer Lunke, chairman of the agricultural committee presented an outline of future activities.

Discussing the trailer park problem, Noper, chairman of the tourist trade committee, told of the emergency court opened by the city several years ago for the accomodation of pipeline workers, and which the council has indicated it plans to close down. This court, said Noper, is lacking in modern facilities.

Bill LaFave told of efforts made this spring by himself and associates to set up a modern court on a 32-acre tract on which they had obtained an option in the southeast section of the city. Plans, he said, were abandoned when several owners of nearby property registered objections to the project.

LaFave said he is still is interested in establishing a court. Arthur Christianson, C & C president, was instructed to appoint a committee to assist in working out a solution.

Hilmer Lunke reported that the agriculture committee is working on plans for the annual 4-H banquet to be held in November, and is already at work arranging for a Hay Day to be staged next June on the Oen farm on the airport road. Results of fertilizer tests will be demonstrated, and men from the U. of M. extension service will speak.

Ken Gustafson said that the 50th anniversary celebration was a success in all respects, including financially. He added that he had received many favorable comments on the three-day program from Soo Line officials and veteran employes and others.

Secretary J. M. Roche announced that arrangements had been made to serve breakfast Sunday morning, October 10, to out-of-town visitors, particularly the large influx of Canadians expected to take advantage of the Canadian Thanksgiving Day observance Monday.

Membership Drive of 4-H Clubs under Way

Both old and new members are enrolling for the 1955 4-H program in order to get an early start on project work and to participate in the fall as well as the coming year's activities. 4-H work is a year-round program, with activities and projects planned on twelve-month basis.

Four-H members and leaders will attempt to reach their club's enrollment quota by National 4-H Achievement Day, November 13.

Anyone between the ages of 10 and 21 is eligible to join a 4-H club. There is no membership fee.

A 4-H member carries at least one of the many projects offered in homemaking, livestock production or crop production. Or he may choose one of the general projects such as junior leadership, home beautification, tractor maintainance, soil conservation, forestry or electrification. Each project is a definite planned piece of work. In each one, the member "learns by doing."

In addition to the projects, there are 4-H activities like health, safety, fire prevention and conservation. They are not required for membership but designed to add to the 4-H'ers enjoyment of rural living.

Boys and girls interested in joining a 4-H club should see their local club leader or county extension agent as soon as possible. The county extension office can supply the name of leaders and clubs in the different locations in the county.

Head of Grand Rapids Ag Station to Speak to Dairy Clubs Oct. 19

C. L. Cole, superintendent of the North Central School of Agriculture at Grand Rapids will be the featured speaker at a dairy meeting which will be held in the Civic and Commerce room in the city auditorium Tuesday evening, Oct. 19, at 8:30.

Mr. Cole is recognized as one of the outstanding dairy authorities in Minnesota and has an interesting message to everyone connected with the dairy industry.

The Thief River Falls Dairy club and the Holt Dairy club are sponsoring the meeting. These two dairy groups hold monthly meetings for the purpose of discussing dairy problems. In addition they offer an owner-sampler testing service for their members. These groups encourage dairy farmers to test their individual cows for butterfat production and thus enable dairymen to cull the poor producers.

The Thief River Falls Dairy Group has now completed two full years of owner-sampler testing with a total of 372 cows tested for butterfat production during the past summer. Both groups invite additional dairy farmers to join and take advantage of their educational meetings as well as to test their herds either thru a Dairy Herd Improvement Association or thru owner-sampler testing.

The first commercial oil well was only 69½ feet deep. Today, the search for new supplies of oil has taken drilling bits down more than four miles.

Five Farm Groups Back Amendment 2

Would Eliminate Double Liability on Bank Stock

Constitutional Amendment No. 2 was endorsed today by leaders of five Minnesota farm groups.

On the pink ballot in the Nov. 2 election, Amendment No. 2 gives the Legislature authority to remove the double liability now facing stockholders in Minnesota state banks.

Double liability means that in case of a bank liquidation, a stockholder may not only lose his own stock but also can be sued for an equal amount by depositors.

All five farm leaders are members of the Citizens' Committee for Amendment No. 2 which is working for passage of the measure.

Those who endorsed Amendment No. 2 include J. L. Morton, president of the Minnesota Farm Bureau federation; M. W. Thatcher, general manager of the Farmers Union Grain Terminal association; M. Estelle Thompson, secretary of the Minnesota State Grange; William Moscrip, president of the Minnesota Dairy Industry commission; and Norris K. Carnes, manager of the Central Livestock association, Inc.

Huge Dairy Show to Open in Chicago

Event Scheduled to Open Saturday for Eight Days

The spotlight of the dairy world will focus on Chicago October 9-16 when the continent's top dairy herds will be on view in the International Amphitheatre in Chicago.

The 2nd annual International Dairy Show, and world championship rodeo in conjunction, will attract the year's largest showing of the five dairy breeds and Milking Shorthorns—known as dual purpose cattle for their production of both beef and milk.

Holsteins lead in number with 482 head registered for the show from 13 states, Canada and Cuba. It will be the year's biggest showing of this heavy milk producing breed that was first brought to the United States from Holland. Holsteins are coming from California to New York and from Canada to Texas.

Jerseys rank second in number. There are 371 head listed from 15 states. It will also be the largest show of the year for this breed. The Chicago show has been designated by the American Jersey Cattle Club as their National Show of the year.

State Congress of PTA to Convene in St. Paul Oct. 25-27

BERTRAM M. BECK

When the 32nd annual state convention of the Minnesota Congress of Parents and Teachers meets in St. Paul Oct. 25-27, one of the program's principal speakers will be Bertram M. Beck, director of the special juvenile delinquency project of the U. S. Children's Bureau.

Mr. Beck's address to the PTA Life Membership luncheon on "New Approaches to Juvenile Delinquency," will relate to the general convention theme of "Learning For Living" as one phase of how well our schools, homes, churches and communities are preparing our children for adult life.

"Up to now delinquency has not been a major problem in rural areas, in the suburbs, and in so-called better communities," Mr. Beck told an audience at the 1954 convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. "But today delinquency has spread to these . . . better neighborhoods. This is a danger signal that must not be ignored."

The convention, which opens at 2 p. m. on Oct. 25, will conclude with a banquet Wednesday night, Oct. 27, at which Dr. Paul A. Witty of Northwestern University will be the speaker.

The intervening days will be filled with workshops on various phases of PTA work, panel discussions on school and community problems, dinners for delegates from the five PTA regions of the state, a breakfast "for fathers only," a smorgasbord dinner, entertainment, music, tours, movies, business sessions, and election of several state officers. Mrs. John P. Livingston, Duluth, state president of the Congress, will start the second year of a 3-year term.

Rapid growth in state PTA membership, now totaling more than 200,000, has made it necessary to engage the St. Paul auditorium for all general sessions, Life Membership luncheon, and banquet. Headquarters will be at the Lowry hotel, with special sessions and workshops there and at the Hotel St. Paul.

Lights Checked on 342 Cars by Patrol

119 Headlights Found to Be out of Adjustment

The state highway patrol checked lights on 342 motor vehicles Friday night on Second st. north of the Auditorium and found 119 lights to be out of adjustment.

Drivers licenses also were checked and four persons were arrested for not having a license in their possession, and 10 others warned for having failed to change the address on their license cards after having moved.

Among the violations reported by the patrol were three cars with insufficient light, five with no rear light, six with one head light out, three license plates unlighted, four exhaust not muffled and one case of illegal brakes.

Army Simplifies Address System

An efficiency minded United States Army today snipped a line from its overseas address system.

The former four line address for soldiers stationed overseas was streamlined to three when the Army dropped the phrase "c/o Postmaster." The new system, according to officers at Fifth Army Headquarters, was adopted because postal clerks have a habit of looking at the last line in routing mail to its proper channels.

The change is the first made in APO procedure since June 23, 1941. The Air Force also is adopting the new plan.

Grady Mann Gives Talk on Wet Lands, Illustrated with Movies and Slides

With 65 members present, the Pennington County Sportsmen's club at its October meeting last Wednesday evening, Oct. 6, enjoyed a talk on marsh lands by Grady Mann, biologist with the U. S. fish and wildlife service. He illustrated his remarks with a motion picture and colored slides.

Mann stated that drainage of lands adapted to agriculture has resulted in putting into use some of the most productive land in the state, while at the same time drainage work has been carried out on lands that was not suitable for farming, with the result that good duck marshes have been ruined without any compensating return.

Mann pointed out that the soil conservation service and the agricultural conservation program had set up thousands of stock water ponds in the western Dakotas, and that as a result huge flocks of ducks are raised there where there were none before.

Robley Hunt, manager of the Mud Lake refuge, reported on work being done on refuge lands to encourage geese to use the refuge as a nesting area.

Jaycees to Aid in Olympic Day Drive

To Raise Money to Send U. S. Teams to '56 Games

Milton Reierson, president of the local Junior Chamber of Commerce, said today the Jaycees here will participate with 2,750 other Junior Chamber chapters in a nation-wide drive to send U. S. teams to the 1956 Olympic Games and to the 1955 Pan American Games in Mexico City.

Reierson said the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce, in cooperation with the U. S. Olympic Committee, Life Magazine and other organizations, is spearheading a nation-wide "Money March" to finance expense of sending U. S. athletes to Australia, Italy and Mexico.

The drive began this week and will continue through December 15.

Local Jaycees will circulate money containers at the Prowler-Ada football game Friday evening to help raise the more than $1 million dollars needed to finance the team.

In contrast to "Iron Curtain" countries where athletic teams are 100 per cent government subsidized, the U. S. Olympic team will be a truly representative "people's" team supported by the nickles, dimes, quarters and dollars donated by the American people.

Fertile Pastures Prove Best

Fertilized pastures again showed their superiority as steer fatteners in the second summer of grazing tests at the University of Minnesota's Beef Cattle Grassland Farm at Rosemount.

On May 20, a group of 35 Montana-born Hereford steers went on three 7½ acre alfalfa-brome pastures to be grazed in rotation.

One half of each pasture had been fertilized in the spring of 1952 with 500 pounds of 0-20-20 per acre. Final weighings on September 14 showed that the steers gained a total of 3,477 pounds on fertilized pasture, 1,557 on fertilized.

The value of beef produced per acre was $66.46 on fertilized and less than half—$29.06—on unfertilized pasture.

A. L. Harvey, professor of animal husbandry who conducted the experiments, figures that at a $5-an-acre pasture charge for four months, 100 pounds of beef costs $5.87 on unfertilized and $2.50 on fertilized pastures.

These figures do not include fertilizing cost or their expenses such as veterinary care, interest and possible death loss. At present prices the fertilizer would cost $3.20 per acre per year, distributing the cost over a five-year period.

The steers gained an average 1.71 pounds per day on fertilized pasture, but only 1.14 pounds a day on unfertilized. Fertilized sections gave 177.2 "steer days" of grazing per acre, unfertilized only 121.1.

The Beef Cattle Grassland farm, a rolling, 210-acre section of the 2,500-acre Rosemount Agriculture Experiment Station was created in 1952 to help prove that beef cattle can be grown profitably on land too sloping to be cropped safely.

Loans Made to Students Needing Financial Aid

The Thief River Falls Woman's club has a student loan fund at the disposal of anyone interested in using it to help secure a college education, Mrs. Robert Robarge, president, stated this week.

The fund was set up and used two years ago at a low interest rate. Since it has been repaid and is growing thru the efforts of club members, it is desirable that it be used if needed.

Anyone interested is asked to contact Mrs. Robarge or any of the committee members, Mrs. G. H. Mayer-Oaks, Miss Ethel Bennett or Mrs. G. L. Biddick.

CHATTING with your HOME AGENT

Marge Olson

Now that fall weather is here for sure, you will be putting away your family's summer clothing for winter storage.

Cotton and rayon garments are in no danger from clothes moths and carpet beetles but they are frequently damaged by silverfish, the tiny insects that resemble fish in shape and in their quick slithering or darting movements. Silverfish feed on starch or on cellulose materials like rayon, cotton and paper. So one reason for not starching cottons before packing them away is to make them less attractive to silverfish.

The simplest way to control silverfish, however, is to spray the closet, chest or clothes bag with 5 per cent DDT surface or residual spray. This helps against clothes moths as well. A point to remember is that silverfish like heat. They may spend the summer in a hot attic but if it gets cold, they move to warmer quarters.

It pays to put clothes away clean because the longer spots and stains remain on fabric, the more likely they are to become set and difficult to remove. Also it's wise to remove any pins or metal ornaments that might leave marks on fabrics in storage.

If storage space is limited so that you must pack clothes closely, then ironing them first will help and leave them fewer creases in the spring. Otherwise you may want to save time now by putting washable summer clothes away "rough dried". The more expensive garments, like men's summer suits or coats or women's "best" dresses, will keep in best shape if carefully placed on hangers in clothes bags to ward off dust.

Be sure accessories, too, are cleaned before you store them. Wrap scarves, gloves and purses in tissue, and stuff purses with tissue to help them keep their shape.

Finally, save time by labeling all containers as to contents and, if possible, keeping a list in your household files.

Lincoln PTA Met Wednesday Night

Resolution Condemns Late-hour Baby-sitting

The Lincoln High School Parent-Teachers association in its first meeting of the year last Wednesday evening passed a resolution urging cooperation on the part of parents and employers of baby sitters not to keep their youth out into the wee hours of the morning.

This action, said the Rev. W. P. Clausen, president, that many youngsters were coming to school bleary-eyed unfit for studies and often wanting to leave the class rooms saying they were ill. The association felt that high school students and others as well should not be hampered in this way in their school work.

There was also discussion on the point of high school girls dressing their part when going out on dates and to social functions rather than to appear in jeans which do not make for proper dignity.

Rev. Clausen, in his introductory words, point to the socially maladjusted and distressed world as a need for people in the community to give their earnest support to such organizations as the PTA. He pointed to the emotional break-downs, broken homes, the problem of the aged, the pessimism of the day, and difference in economic status among people as symptoms of the maladjustment.

Among other resolutions adopted was one to have six meetings this season, the next one to be a joint one with the PTA's of other schools on November 15th. Seventy four were received as members. Pleasing musical selections were rendered by Ara Peterson, Floydeen Lillstrom, Jeanne Dahlen, Marilyn Hafdahl, Joyce Heigeland, Marilyn Waale, under the direction of Miss Throm.

Washington PTA to Meet Monday

By all indications, the Washington PTA meeting scheduled for next Monday night, October 18th, will be one members won't want to miss.

Open house will be held at 7:30. The teachers will be in their respective rooms, enabling parents to meet them, discuss problems, or just look around.

Rev. Robert Abbott, president, will be in charge of the meeting beginning at 8 p. m. Introduction of officers and teachers will be followed by an interesting skit, presented by the PTA board. After a brief business session the hospitality committee, led by Mrs. Arthur Bredeson, will conduct a "get acquainted" program. There will be community singing with Mrs. Max Jensen leading.

Lunch will be served by the 4th grade mothers.

Mrs. Olaf Dahlen, membership chairman, urges all Washington school parents to join and attend these meetings regularly.

New Models Are Priced Lower Than Last Year

The new Studebaker-Packard Corporation has unveiled to the public its completely new line of higher-powered, lower-priced Studebaker passenger cars for 1955. The new cars are on display at the Taxeraas Implement Co., local dealers.

Studebaker announced that prices on its 1955 models would be set $37 to $287 under those on similar 1954 models to place every Studebaker model in a strong competitive price position.

The new line, the most complete in Studebaker's history, features increased horsepower and includes 21 different body styles, high-lighted by medium-priced, power-packed, luxury President models.

Studebaker's new line also features the popular Champion and Commander series of sedans, sports cars and station wagons, designed to further increase Studebaker's leadership in styling and engineering soundness and advancement.

The 1955 Champions, now priced to compete fully in the low-price field, are powered by a "Victory Six" engine stepped up to 101 horsepower.

The new Commander V-8's — while retaining the sturdiness, smoothness and economy for which they have become notable—now set new performance standards with a new "Pace-setter" V-8 engine developing 140 horsepower, according to the company.

School Notes—1st and 2nd grade

We extend our sympathy to Leonard Kaspriwicz who broke his arm on the tractor during potato vacation. We wish him a speedy recovery. We are happy he can come to school although handicapped.

The first graders are happy they can print their first names so now they can put them on their papers.

We have made our Home and Family Booklet, and our next project is to make a health booklet.

Our teacher read a book concerning twins which told about their birthdays until they were six years of age.

We had a make-believe cake with real candle holders and candles. One candle was placed on it for each year they grew bigger. One day Leland Kleinvachter had a birthday. He held the cake with seven candles. We sang "Happy Birthday" to him.

Second and Third Grade

Dennis Chwialkowski has been absent a few days because of potato picking; otherwise our attendance has been perfect so far this term.

We enjoy our "visiting period" on Wednesday mornings. Many of the children have responded well with their little impromptu talks. The second grade is studying the subtraction facts. Thursday they had a quiz.

We received many new library books. Thursday is the day we set aside a period when we read and enjoy them.

Grades Four and Five

We are back to work after potato vacation. Adele and Arlis have been absent this week, but we hope they will soon be back.

Marilyn Sjoquist was a lucky girl during vacation. She made a trip to visit her aunt in Sioux City, Iowa.

Grades Six and Seven

We have made decorative leaf designs this week in our art class.

2,805 Workers Reported Here on September 15th; up 148 from July First

Employment in Thief River Falls as of September 15 totaled 2,805, a gain of 148 compared to the last previous figure of 2,657 reported July 1, it was announced Thursday by S. S. Eldevik, manager of the local office of the state employment service.

He added that the pickup was due largely to the return of school payrolls to full strength following the summer vacation and to the fact that fall turkey processing got under way. Eldevik stated that while construction employment fell off in September, it still remained 38 per cent higher than a year ago.

It is interesting to note, says Eldevik, that unemployment insurance payments for the 5 northwestern counties of Minnesota which are served by this office dropped from a high of $61,069 in March, 1954, to $4,130 in August. For the first six months of 1954, the Thief River Falls office paid out over a quarter of a million dollars ($251,563) in unemployment insurance benefits.

Prowlers Fumble but Defeat Detroit Lakes 27-19; Ada Team Coming for Homecoming Friday

The Prowlers will celebrate their own Homecoming this week, and the feature will be the game with the Ada Vikings on the Lincoln field on Friday night, with the kickoff slated for 8:00 p. m.

The Lakers, "fired up" by the combination of Homecoming and the 26 to 6 defeat they had received from Park Rapids the previous week, played tough football against the Prowlers, and gained a lead in the first period of play on Friday night. The locals, receiving the kickoff and defending the east goal, fumbled on the first play from scrimmage, with Darold Thompson recovering for the Lakers on the Prowler's 21 yard line.

Whitey Krump gained four yards at left tackle, a pass, Phil Meyer to Emil Marlozke, was completed for a first down on the 8-yard line. A Prowler off side penalty moved the ball to the 3, and, after a short gain on a line play, Meyer hit Marolzke with a pass for a touchdown. The Lakers failed to add the conversion point.

The Prowlers took the ensuing kickoff, which was short and downed in midfield, and marched down to the Laker 1 foot line, where Sid Vraa was held on a fourth down plunge. The Lakers' Dean Weimer kicked out to Vraa on the 37 yard line. Jim Sauve broke through right tackle for a gain to the Lakers' 13 yard stripe, and four plays later Vraa drove over left tackle for a 5 yard touchdown run. Vraa placekicked the conversion and the Prowlers led, 7 to 6.

The Prowlers lead was short lived for the Lakers sturdy little outside runner, John Kertscher took Vraa's kickoff on the Detroit Lakes' 12 yard line, and behind fine interference he sprinted down field, raced along the south line and crossed the east goal line for a touchdown. Krump failed to add the point on a line plunge, but the Lakers held a 12 to 7 lead.

After stopping a Laker threat early in the second period holding for downs on the Prowler 27 yard line, the locals, in six plays drove for a touchdown, with Mark Bjorkman barreling through left tackle for six yards and the td. Vraa added the point by making his eleventh successive placekick, giving the Prowlers a 14 to 12 lead.

The Prowlers added to their lead when, late in the period, and on a drive that started from their 31 yard line, the locals scored from the Lakers 5 yard line, with Bjorkman getting the tally. Vraa's place kick attempt was wide of the uprights being to the left of the goal posts. During this touchdown drive, fullback Pete Froehle and Vraa made big gains, turning in runs of 15 and 29 yards, respectively.

The Lakers moved back into contention by scoring a touchdown early in the third period, with a neatly executed passing play, from Meyer to Krump, being completed for a fifty yard touchdown. With the ball on the 50 yard line, Meyer whipped a pass off the left to Krump, who made the catch on the Prowlers 20 yard line and scampered across for the td. A pass, Meyer to Kertscher, added the point, and the Prowler lead had narrowed to a point, 20 to 19.

Lee Kjos, who played an alert and effective game for the Prowlers, set up the locals 'insurance' tally when he intercepted a Laker pass on Detroit Lakes' 29 yard line. Froehle, Vraa, and Bjorkman, in three plays, carried to the Lakers' 18 yard line. Two rushes, by Vraa and Froehle, advanced the ball to the 9 yard line and then, on a sweep around left end, and with Froehle cutting down Kerstcher the defending secondary man, Vraa scored standing up. Vraa's placement gave the locals their 27 to 19 win.

The remaining minutes of the game found the Lakers attempting to tally for a touchdown, but the Prowler defense after giving up a first down, smeared the Lakers' "spread" formation, and took over possession of the ball, on a kick, on the locals' 30-yard line. The Prowlers "ate" up the time by driving into the line, and a fourth down ended the game on the Lakers' 32-yard line.

Warroad Man Elected at Meeting Here Last Week

At an organization meeting held here last week, Cal Marvin of Warroad was elected president of the Northwest Hockey league for the 1954-55 season. Harvey Hadland of Grand Forks was named vice president. As has been the custom the past several years, the secretary treasurer will be selected by the league president.

Teams represented at last week's meeting were Thief River Falls, Roseau, Crookston, Grand Forks, and Warroad. Considerable controversy was caused by the "import" problem, with Roseau and Crookston contending that they required six "imports," while Grand Forks and Warroad maintained that last season's limit of four "imports" should be continued. In an effort to break the deadlock, the Thieves representative proposed that a limit of five "imports" would be a fair compromise. On a vote, that motion was carried.

Final plans, and the adoption of a league schedule, will be made at a meeting to be held in November.

EILEEN LARSON NAMED TO CONCORDIA COLLEGE POST

Miss Eileen Larson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence O. Larson, has recently been elected president of Grose Hall, a womens' residence at Concordia College in Moorhead.

An Educated Toe

When Sid Vraa, late in the second period of the game at Detroit Lakes, and following the touchdown scored by Mark Bjorkman, hurried his placekick try for the conversion point and booted the ball off to the left of the uprights, it marked the first time in twelve attempts that Sid had missed a placekick.

Not since the third period of the Red Lake Falls game, when his kick was wide and to the right of the goal-posts, had Sid missed a placement, rolling up a record of eleven straight conversion points. Sid, to date, has a record of 15 successful placekicks in seventeen tries. And that record has been compiled in this manner: two for two against Warren; two for three against Red Lake Falls; three for three against East Grand Forks; five for five against Roseau; and three for four against Detroit Lakes.

While Sid is entitled to much credit for this excellent record, the Prowler extra-point specialist wouldn't have had this success if it weren't for the accurate centering of Louie Wedul, the quick and nimble holding of Jimmy Sauve, and the blocking of the players up front. Not a kick has been blocked.

They're Gentlemen

A proprietor of one of the restaurants in Detroit Lakes paid a fine compliment to the Prowler football squad when he stated, in the presence of a group of fans, which included several from Thief River Falls, that coach Ralph Skjod's boys were a well-behaved and gentlemanly squad, and that it was a pleasure to serve the team.

Such compliments reflect much credit on the boys, on their coaches, on the school, the parents, and the city. Fact is, it appears that the better a team is, the better behaved the boys are—and the football Prowlers are a good team.

Strikes and Splits

The league bowlers have surely been scrambling Irv Wilson's new pins. Last Monday night, during their match with the Red Owl team in Service League competition, Ray Mattson's Ace Hardware squad rolled a 1002 total. In compiling that 1000-pin score, Shorty Perkins chalked up a 182, Sid Vraa posted a 213, Ray Mattson rolled a 216, Larry Gilbertson a 215, and anchor Jack Hoppe a 184.

That 1002 pin mark didn't hold up very long as a season's record for on Tuesday night, in a Business League match against the Spuds, Al Holzknecht's Northern Chevrolet team posted a 1018 total. In posting that mark in the record book—and it's going to cost Happy Holz plenty—Berdeen Nornes had a 224, Wally DuChamp a 198, Ray Ranta a 214, Phil LeGault a 191, and Emil Dostal a 188.

In the individual bowling efforts, Ed Hamerski, a member of the Soo Mainliners of the Friday night City League, scored a huge 662-pin three-game series last Friday. Ed had games of 257-191-214.

Miscellany

Bill Robinson, the stick-handling wizard who played forward for the senior hockey Thieves last year, and who was a standout with the Winnipeg Maroons in the Allan Cup playdowns, has signed a contract to be player-coach of the Souris, Manitoba, Elks this year. The Souris club is a member of the Manitoba Big Six hockey league. . . Mario Davidson, a former all round Prowler athletic star, being co-captain, with Swede Lund, on the 1947 football Prowlers, the champions of the North Valley Conference, and a captain of the 1947-48 Prowler basketball team, is a member of the coaching staff at Detroit Lakes. Mario handles the junior squad, and in addition he's the Lakers' chief scout. . . And speaking of scouts, the Bemidji Lumberjacks had Jack Louma, one of their assistant coaches, in attendance at the Prowlers vs. Detroit Lakes game on Friday night, and that marked the second or third time that the Jacks has had a scout making a "book" on the Prowlers. It is an indication that Red Wilson and his boys aren't taking the Prowler game, on October 22nd, very lightly.

Guard Units in State in Recruiting Drive

A state-wide "Man the Guard" recruiting campaign was opened last week by the Minnesota National Guard according to Major General J. E. Nelson, adjutant general of Minnesota. The objective of this state-wide campaign is to increase the strength of Minnesota Army and Air National Guard units by 1900 men on December 4.

At the present time the strength of the National Guard units in Minnesota is approximately 7100. Achievement of the recruiting goal of 1900 will bring the strength to approximately 9000 men and officers.

This recruiting campaign marks the end of the reorganization phase for units of the Minnesota National Guard. Achievement of the campaign goal of 9000 men and officers approximates the strength of the units at the time they were called to duty for the Korean Emergency in 1951.

"Because of the advantages offered, enlistments in the National Guard are growing at a rapid rate," said Major General J. E. Nelson. "During the past 9 months the strength of Guard units has increased 20% and nation-wide strength is fast approaching the 375,000 man ceiling set by Congress."

"All young men and former service men," continued General Nelson, "owe it to themselves and their families to investigate the opportunities and advantages offered by membership in the Minnesota National Guard."

The present universal military training and service act provides many advantages for guardsmen which they previously did not enjoy. In addition to being able to choose the manner in which he will fulfill his military obligation, a guardsman earns pay, is entitled to retirement benefits and learns important skills at regular Army service schools.

Information on enlisting may be obtained from National Guard armories which are located in 67 communities throughout the state, including Thief River Falls. In Minneapolis the Armory is located at 500 South Sixth Street and in St. Paul information may be obtained at the Armory at 6th and Exchange, or from the Air National Guard located at Holman Field.

Pumping Station at Clearbrook Now Being Expanded

Structure Housing 3 Huge Electric Pumps to Be Started Shortly

Plans and specifications for the new pumping station and tank farm of the Minnesota Pipeline Company to be located at Clearbrook arrived this week, reports M. B. Kite construction superintendent for Williams Brothers, line contractors, in the Clearbrook Leader.

Mr. Kite reports the new building will be 25x85 feet of steel frame construction and will have aluminum siding.

The building will house three 500 horsepower electric motor driven pumps, all electronically controlled. Otter Tail power company will run in a special line to furnish power to the motors.

Also on the site will be four 100,000 gallon tanks. Mr. Kite explains the oil will come into the tanks from the Lakehead station and will be pumped from the tanks into the Minnesota pipline to Pipe Bend, south of St. Paul. A booster station will be built at Little Falls, however, there will be no storage tanks there.

Already under construction are two other tanks at Lakehead Pumping Station. Chicago Bridge and Iron Co., is building the tanks both at the Lakehead site and will construct those on the Minnesota Pipeline site. Completion of the entire project is expected about next June.

Home Accidents Often Caused by Faulty Eyesight

Faulty depth perception and other eyesight problems account for a high proportion of home accidents involving "do it yourself" enthusiasts, area optometrists learned at the annual North Central Optometric Congress held in Minneapolis last week. More than 400 optometrists from a five-state area and from Canada attended the annual educational sessions and "refresher" course.

The report came from Dr. A. M. Skeffington, nationally known vision authority from Pacific University on the West Coast, who cited National Safety Council statistics pointing to a recent rise in self-injuries among home tinkerers.

"Vision adequate to read a newspaper may be inadequate and unsafe for tasks requiring hand and eye coordination," he said.

President Asks Noting of Nurse Week Oct. 11-16

Public Called upon to Pay Special Attention to Progress of Profession

President Dwight D. Eisenhower has proclaimed the week of October 11 to 16 as National Nurse Week.

"Progress in nursing means better health for the nation." This is the theme of National Nurse Week which President Eisenhower has asked us to celebrate in honor of American nurses. Nursing has come a long way since Florence Nightengale nursed the wounded at Crimea a hundred years ago. Today nurses are skilled workers with excellent preparation for their jobs in caring for the sick and in teaching people to stay healthy. America will pause the week of October 11 to 16 to salute these nurses who are making the nation the healthiest in the world.

Minnesota has a right to be proud of the number of student nurses it graduates each year. According to 1953 Facts About Nursing, 1465 nurses were licensed for the first time in 1952. This record was only exceeded by five states—Illinois, Massachusetts, New York, Ohio, and Pennsylvania.

The supply of professional nurses continues to increase but it cannot keep up with the demand for nursing personnel which is increasing by leaps and bounds — 3,500 beds have been added in Minnesota in the past seven years. It is estimated that 13,900 beds more are needed in all hospital categories.

Practical nurses are helping to relieve this shortage of personnel — approximately 3,000 have been licensed since the LPN law was first passed in 1947 in Minnesota. Another important source of nursing care is being given by nursing aides. Plans are being made to utilize this group of people to their fullest ability through a planned program of instruction.

The married nurse is rapidly becoming a key figure in every hospital throughout the U. S. Over 50% of the nurses employed in hospitals are married. More nurses are working now than ever before.

Minnesota Canned Vegetable Week Noted Oct. 25 to 30

Canners Association Cites Superior Quality of Minnesota Product

The Minnesota Canners Association, comprising 20 of the nation's leading processors of canned vegetables, yesterday announced that the week of October 25 to 30 has been designated as "Minnesota Canned Vegetable Week."

Purpose of the week, it was revealed at a meeting of the assn's. merchandising committee, will be to acquaint the state's residents with the superior qualities of vegetables raised and processed here.

Robert Cosgrove, president of the association, in making the announcement, stated, "There is no question but what our canned vegetables are the best in the world. Here, in Minnesota, nature has given us a near perfect soil and growing conditions, and the canners of the state have been in the forefront of a continuing effort to improve canning methods, so that the original flavor and nutritional qualities are retained to the fullest degree. Further, we have succeeded in improving our methods to the point where Minnesota canned vegetables cost even less than they did 20 years ago."

Mr. Cosgrove also pointed out that the entire state economy stands to benefit from the promotion of canned vegetables, with the crop now hitting sales of close to fifty million dollars annually. Of this amount, Mr. Cosgrove stated, more than 40 million dollars comes from sales in the rest of the United States and foreign countries. Some 20,000 persons are employed in the canning industry in the state.

Crude oil is almost useless in its original state. Each of the hundreds of useful oil products made from it has to undergo a lot of processing in an oil refinery.

HOPE SPRINGS ETERNAL

The results of recent aerial surveys of possible ore deposits in this corner of the state, released last week, encourage the hope that somewhere in the ground beneath us there are minerals of commercial value. The report, released by Dr. G. M. Schwartz of the University of Minnesota and director of the survey, states that there are three zones of "abnormally high magnetic attraction" in this area.

This interesting result no doubt will lead to further exploration by actual drilling. The quest for rare metals has led to extensive exploration in other areas of the country and in some instances with surprising results. We should know more about the insides of the world on which we live.

EQUALIZING OPPORTUNITIES

The St. Paul Pioneer Press, considering the demands for further increases in state aid to schools, wonders, "—are the taxpayers of every district bearing the full burden of local taxes for schools?" It follows with the suggestion that "before the 1955 Legislature votes its aid appropriations the whole matter should be thoroughly explored."

There is reason to wonder, and the suggestion is a good one. The primary purpose of state aid is to equalize educational opportunities thruout the state. In recent years all of the pressure, including, alas, the pressure of the metropolitan press, has been for larger grants of basic aid, in which the rich share equally with the poor.

Because of the large reserves in the income tax fund it has been able to meet these demands quite plainlessly. Now, with the reserves depleted, and confronted with the necessity of finding 22 million dollars in new revenue just to continue aids on the present level, all will agree that this matter of state aids "must" be reviewed.

Through equalization aid the state makes it possible for school districts with low taxable valuation to maintain at least the minimum standards of elementary and secondary education. Equalization aid helps such districts meet their maintenance costs. These poorer districts however still must pay all of the other costs and carry the burden of building construction and maintenance. The cost of education in these poorer districts is a heavier burden on the taxpayers in relation to their ability to pay than in many of the richer districts.

It is important, as the Pioneer Press points out, that all taxpayers share in this cost of maintaining our schools. There are school districts, as there are individuals, that are tax dodgers and are not paying their fair share of the costs. Our present formula for determining ability to pay probably needs an overhauling. Distributing the costs fairly and equalizing the tax load will always be a problem.

But from now on, with the dollars harder to get, in order that there may be at least an approach to equal opportunities for education thruout the state, more emphasis must be made on equalization in the distribution of state aids.

THE TREND REVERSING ITSELF

Drouth, floods, plant diseases and pests of various kinds have already assisted materially in reducing those surpluses that have caused so much worry. Even dairy products have been in short supply in recent weeks, in terms of current production. During the last two weeks of September the government actually sold some of its butter, cheese and milk powder on the commercial market at a slightly higher price than its support level, and that is a most encouraging development. In addition to such small sales a big dent was made in the stockpile through new unloading authority, mainly through welfare and relief outlets. The future prospect at least has brightened a great deal.

For the year ending June 30 the government's loss in the farm price support program was less than a half billion dollars. That was probably the most difficult year in the transition from a wartime to a peacetime economy. During that year the government's investment in surplus commodities nearly doubled to about six billion dollars, but that trend now seems to have definitely changed.

That half-a-billion dollar cost certainly can be justified in terms of a stabilized economy for the nation as a whole. Without the price support program the surpluses would have completely demoralized the markets and we would have been going through another bust such as we experienced in the early 'twenties following the first world war. That half-a-billion is a low cost for the protection it has afforded us in this period of adjustment to normal production needs.

BOOM AND BUST

The Federal Trade Commission states that "unlawful restraint of trade" by the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange, "contributed to and promoted" a sharp boost in coffee prices this year. This conclusion followed extensive hearings on the question. There will be denials by those accused but the FTC is recognized as an impartial agency and its charges will receive general acceptance.

Thus it appears that a frost and extensive crop damage in Brazil was used as an excuse to boost coffee prices excessively, no doubt to the profit of a few operators to whom the consumers paid tribute. But the big loser in this operation is the industry itself. As a result of the high prices two things detrimental to the industry have resulted. There has been a big increase in coffee tree planting that will result inevitably in overproduction. And there has been a big decrease in consumer demand.

Thus it appears certain that the industry, faced with increased production and a curtailed market, can look forward to several years of operation under most unfavorable conditions. The industry is the heavy loser in this unfortunate incident that probably was one of the causes of the recent suicide of the head of the government of Brazil.

COMMISSION CUTS CLAIMS AGAINST STATE

Ever hear of the State Claims Commission? Elmer J. Ryan of St. Paul is Chairman, and four members are from Crookston, Maple Lake, St. Paul, and Springfield. Louis C. Dorweiler Jr. is clerk, with offices in Room 109 of the State Capitol. On October report to the state legislature indicates that 59 claims were referred by the legislature, totaling $436,000, and 76 claims were filed direct, totaling just over $291,000. Of the 135 claims amounting to $857,420.82, 70 were allowed for a total of $291,256—40 from the legislature, 30 of the direct claims. The commission has under consideration certain recommendations to the legislature for the future handling of claims against the State of Minnesota.

13 DID NOT PROVE UNLUCKY

Caught on the airwaves one Saturday afternoon. At 3:13 p. m. the score in a football game stood 13 to 7 when the Minnesota Gophers scored 7 points to make it 20 to 7 for "an unlucky" difference of 13 points. Which margin the Gophers considerably widened before the game was over, thus breaking the "13 jinx."

Some Additional Facts

The published "statement of facts" as to the source of income of the Register of Deeds by the opposing candidate for that office is correct. It has always been so.

To enlighten the public more fully he should have added the fact that the fees were increased in 1947, after my term expired giving the office a boost of 60% per entry for abstracts and 300% increase for certificate thereto, and a proportionate increase in recording and other fees.

This increase in fees and some added volume has more than doubled the income of the office, bringing the gross receipts up to $8,192.55 and $8,902.00 for 1952 and 1953 respectively, compared to a total gross of $3,372.00 and $4,051.50 for the years of 1945 and 1946 respectively, my last two years in the office.

Consequently the income for the past eight years exceeds the income of the previous sixteen years. For example, in 1930 the gross income of the office was $2,155.00.

Phillips 66 brings you the first All-Weather Motor Oil which has proved it meets the most exacting standard ever established for automobile lubrication... Mil-0-2104, Supplement 1 level.

Phillips 66
THE ALL WEATHER MOTOR OIL

This toughest standard ever set up for automobile lubrication is the Mil-0-2104 Supplement 1 test. New TROP-ARTIC is the first all-weather motor oil to meet the requirements of this test. It is an oil which will serve you winter and summer . . . an oil so good it can double the life of an automobile engine!

Compared to ordinary motor oils, new TROP-ARTIC reduces ring wear 40% or more. It cuts oil consumption 15% to 45%. It keeps pistons and bearings cleaner . . . longer-lasting. It saves you money by increasing gasoline mileage. This has been demonstrated in tests representing over 150,000 miles of driving.

TROP-ARTIC is truly an all-weather oil . . . S.A.E. 10W through S.A.E. 30. Therefore it flows instantly for easy starting at sub-zero temperatures, and yet it retains the film strength necessary to prevent engine wear under high temperature driving conditions. It isn't just heavy duty. It's double duty.

Any car, in any climate, at any time of the year will perform better with Phillips 66 TROP-ARTIC. It is a worthy companion product to Phillips 66 FLITE-FUEL, the new high performance gasoline recently introduced by Phillips. It pays to stop at the station where you see the Phillips 66 Shield.

SPEAKING COLLECTIVELY

Mrs. Nettie Hamm is moving from Menahga to California, which is not too unusual. But Menahga will miss her in more ways than one. Mrs. Hamm is taking with her a most interesting collection of more than 350 salt-and-pepper shakers from all over the world.—Mrs. Bert Larson is staying in Staples with her remarkable collection of shakers—more than 800 of them.—For 56 years W. A. Rasmussen, Minneapolis locksmith, has been collecting celluloid buttons and their many humorous and commemorative kin: "Remember the Maine" — "23 Skiddoo" — proclaiming Dan Patch's preference for International Stockfood — and so on thru hundreds of 'em.—Probably the most generally appealing collectors' item is just plain money, with little regard to shape or age; Sandra Schramm of Appleton has a good start in that direction, a coin dating from around 250 B. C., found by a friend in the ruins of Pompeii, Italy.

Survey results show that transport companies operating buses on LP-Gas (liquefied petroleum gas) drove them to a new high of 60,537,417 total miles last year. By the end of 1951, it is expected that more than 2,000 buses will be using LP-Gas as a fuel.

It provides a special room for garden tools and flower pots. In one instance we know of it has been turned into a tiny guest room. This is another of the scores of individual garage designs in our office. With prompt action this may be completed before severe weather. The cement work should be done right now. Our price will be rock bottom and low monthly payments will add to income comfort.

Bear in mind that these OVERHEAD DOORS may be installed on existing buildings. Monthly payments, too.

Insulate the ceiling . . . warm the floors

Insulation holds the heat in. It brings MORE heat closer to the floor. If the roof of your home in winter is warm enough to melt the snow you NEED added insulation. Either the blanket or "pour" type . . . both are low in cost and easy to apply.

Before winter—
Glaze any broken or cracked windows—
Replace storm sash that is inadequate—
Inspect the aluminum combination Storm-Door—

Pay for home improvements on the monthly budget plan and keep a "cushion of cash" in the bank. It is the sensible way and involves no red tape. Up to $2500 and three years to pay.

Warroad Banker Is Released under Bond

Ben Bakken, 37, Warroad bank cashier who returned to give himself up to face a charge of embezzling $30,000 after a flight to Mexico, was free Wednesday after two stockholders in the bank furnished his $5,000 bail.

Bakken returned to his home and family late Tuesday after A. J. Landby, a leading Warroad business man, and Andrew Landin, a rural mail carrier, put up his bail.

Friends described him as "still very confused," but anxious to square himself, make it up to his family and start over again.

They said his family welcomed him and that it appeared that the town was ready to stand by him.

Until his disappearance Sept. 23, Bakken had been regarded as a pillar of Warroad community life. He had been associated with the Security State Bank of Warroad for 20 years.

He was reported to have told friends he had been under considerable strain for several months, but none was able to say what troubled him. He indicated that when he waived preliminary hearing before a U. S. Commissioner in International Falls Tuesday he had hoped for a quick trial. He was bound over to the St. Paul district federal court.

Bakken faces a maximum penalty of five years in prison or $10,000 fine or both.

New 'Leave' Policy for Air Force Men

Ray Dunn, Recruiter Here, Announces New Plan

T/Sgt. Ray Dunn, in charge of local Air Force recruiting with officers in the Elks Building in Thief River Falls, announced today that the young men of this area who enlist in the Air Force will now be given a ten-day "vacation" at the end of their basic training.

This delay en route, as it is known in military terms, not to exceed ten days plus travel time, will be granted all basic military training graduates, prior service airmen and Air Force ROTC enlistees, upon the completion of basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

The ten-day leave policy will become effective with classes graduating in December 1954. Those airmen graduating in classes prior to the date of the policy will be granted ordinary leave at the end of their training.

Travel in private automobile will be authorized airmen having automobiles in their possession at the time of departure and also for those who can show evidence that such travel should be authorized in accordance with travel policies.

All others will be required to purchase tickets to their point of leave, and from there to their next station.

Accrued pay and advance travel pay will be paid prior to departure from the basic training base.

Alumni to Rally at 'U' Homecoming Events Oct. 28-30

Chief Attraction to Be Minnesota-Michigan State Football Game

"Go-For-State" will be the cry of thousands of University of Minnesota alumni, students and friends at Memorial Stadium Saturday, Oct. 30, to urge the Gophers on to a Homecoming victory over the Michigan State Spartans.

The football game, which will begin at 1:30 p. m., will be the highlight to a three-day program of Varsity shows, alumni reunions, luncheon and coffee hour, dances, pep fests, parades and other special events planned to celebrate the University's 37th annual Homecoming.

Students will stage three Varsity shows, the first at 8 p. m. Thursday featuring the crowning of the 1954 Homecoming queen and the next two at 7 and 9 p. m. Friday in Northrop Memorial auditorium.

Alumni day will be Friday, Oct. 29. It will begin with the traditional parade at 11 a. m. through the Minneapolis loop and the campus. Theme for the floats, as well as for house decorations at the University, will be "Salute to the Big 10".

An alumni buffet lunch will be served before the football game Saturday from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m. in the main ballroom of Coffman Memorial Union. Welcoming the guests will be Francis L. (Pug) Lund, president of the executive committee of the Minnesota Alumni association. Other hosts will be University President J. L. Morrill, members of the Board of Regents and directors of the Alumni association. E. L. Haislet, director of the University alumni relations extends an invitation to alumni to attend. They may send their luncheon reservations at $1.50 each to him at 205 Coffman Memorial Union, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis 14.

After the two performances of the Varsity show Friday evening, Gopher fans will march in a torchlight parade from Northrop auditorium to the Fourth street parking lot for a pep fest, the lighting of the bonfire and a pep dance.

Climax to the Homecoming activities will be the annual dance, beginning at 9 p. m. in the main ballroom of Coffman Union.

Slow Down Car at Road Work Sites

Highway construction and maintenance crews of both contractors and the Minnesota highway department are now in their annual race against wintry weather which will force the cessation of construction and repair work on the trunk road system. The department today issued a plea to motorists to observe warning signs and flagmen at construction sites in order to prevent accidents to workmen or to themselves. Slowing down to posted speeds, carefully listening to and heeding flagmen's instructions and extra caution when approaching workers engrossed in their activities will help make their work and motorists' travel safer.

List Regulations for Overseas Mail

Army Headquarters Asks Mailing Oct. 15 to Nov. 15

Christmas packages for those in military service overseas should be mailed between October 15 and November 15, Fifth Army headquarters announced in Chicago.

The Army headquarters directed attention to the following requirements for mailing parcels overseas: They must be double-faced corrugated cardboard, strong wood, metal, or fiberboard. Each box should be securely tied with strong cord, and loose flaps sealed with gummed tape. Unless completely packed and tightly filled, boxes may be crushed. Boxes addressed to an Army Post Office (or Fleet Post Office) should not exceed 70 pounds in weight and 100 inches in length and girth combined.

In addition to the usual articles normally prohibited in the mails, matches of all kinds and lighter fluid are banned from all parcels.

Plumbing Must Meet Code

Subdivision 2. No part of any plumbing system shall be installed, constructed, altered or repaired in any building, structure, part thereof or premises in the City of Thief River Falls, except it be in conformity with the provisions of this code; and the rules and regulations of the Water Department.

Transfer Of License

Subdivision 8. Hence, if a member of a partnership who is the holder of a certificate under which the firm does business, or the officer of a corporation holding a certificate under which the firm does business, for any reason severs his connection, or for any other reason is no longer connected with such firm or corporation, such firm or corporation is automatically in violation of this ordinance until they secure a new license.

Inspection

Subdivision 14. The Water Department and the City Council will cause all work reported to be inspected, and the plumber will be notified of any work which has not been done in accordance with the ordinance and he will be required to remedy the same.

Subdivision 15. In all installations the plumber must leave his work exposed until such time as an inspection has been made and the work approved. This includes all exterior service pipe, which must be inspected before backfilling the trench, and all interior water piping, which must be inspected, and "tagged," approved by the inspector after it has been roughed in and before it is covered over or concealed in the floors or partitions. The plumber shall give due and sufficient notice when inspection is desired, and he shall call for inspection only when his work is in proper condition and stage of completion.

Water will not be turned on until after the report of such an inspection has been made, and the work accepted as satisfactory.

Plumber Cannot Shut-Off Or Turn on Water

Subdivision 16. No plumber or other person shall turn on or shut off the water supply at any stop-cock at the main or at the curb nor allow any person in his employ to do so, nor shall he have in his possession any tool or instrument for that purpose.

Tapping Of Mains

Subdivision 17. No plumber or other person except duly authorized employees of the Water Department will be allowed to tap any main or do any excavation or any street work in connection with the laying, installing, extending or repairing of any water service, water pipe or water appurtenances.

"SERVICES"

Definition Of Street Services

Subdivision 18. Services are defined as the water pipe which extends from the street main to the first stop ahead of the water meter or in the case of an outside meter box, it shall be defined as extending to the inside of the building serviced. The full size of the service approved shall be installed from the main to the first stop ahead of the meter, except that the Department may approve an exception when that part of the service in the street only or that part in the yard only is to be replaced, or when a new service is to be installed from an existing connection.

Rules Governing

Subdivision 19. It is the intent of this ordinance that every separate building must be supplied with water through its own separate service, connected directly with the main, except that:

Double Houses

Double Houses, under a single roof may be considered as a single building and be supplied with a single street service, if desired, in which case each half of the double house must be provided with a straight flow, full size stop and waste valve in the basement on independent risers.

Duplexes, Flats, Four-Plexes, and Apartments

Group Of Two or More Buildings

Subdivision 20. Groups of Two or More buildings, built on the same or on contiguous lots and under single ownership, and which are serviced with heat and hot water from a central point or plant, or a group of buildings which are in immediate vicinity of each other, where each is considered a part of one and the same plant and all operate under the same name and ownership, may, subject to the written application of the owner and the consent of the Water Department, be supplied through a single service pipe and single meter. The owner must agree to assume the water charge for all consumers in the group of buildings. Upon the termination of single ownership, additional services must be installed as required by the Water Department.

Group Of Two Or More Stores

Subdivision 21. A Group of Two or More Stores, built under a single roof, or housed in a single building or structure, may be supplied with a single service, as long as the group is under single ownership, or at the option of the owner, separate services may be installed to supply each or any one of the ground floor stores or shops. The sale of any one store or shop in such a group will require a separate service and meter to that store or shop, independent of all other services. Nothing in this ordinance shall be taken to indicate that permission will be given to supply overhead flats, stores, or offices with separate services. Only one service pipe shall be allowed to each permanent basement or cellar. When single ownership ceases, where two or more buildings have received service through a single connection, the Water Department reserves the right to permit the continuance of such single service if no water main is laid in the street or streets next adjacent to the property to be served.

Street Services Depth Of

Subdivision 22. Services must be placed seven (7) feet below the surface of the ground or finished grade where there is such, or six (6) feet. [illegible] must enter the front of the building nearest the sidewalk whenever this is practicable, and the plumber shall ascertain the proposed or final grade to be established.

Street Services In Sewers

Subdivision 23. Water service connections will not be permitted to be installed in sand-tuck sewer tunnels.

Water Service In Sewer Trench

Subdivision 24. No water service pipe shall be laid in the same trench with a building drain or sewer pipe, nor shall a water pipe be closer to a sewer than ten (10) feet at any point horizontally, unless such building drain or sewer pipe be cast iron soil pipe packed with oakum or hemp and secure with pure lead not less than one inch deep well caulked. This section shall apply only to that part of the service pipe and house drain from the building to the curb.

Street Services Installation and Material

Subdivision 25. All underground services, up to and including two (2) inches in size shall be of extra heavy soft tempered roll drawn seamless deoxidized copper tubing, having a minimum ultimate strength of not less than 30,000 pounds per square inch, except that the City Council may, by resolution, permit the use of extra strong lead pipe.

All underground services larger than two (2) inches in size shall be cast iron. Cast iron pipe shall meet the requirements of the American Water Works Association specifications for class B sand cast pipe and fittings or Class B centrifugal cast iron.

All joints made in copper services, one (1) inch and under shall be round wiped soldered joints. Joints in copper services over one (1) inch may be round wiped soldered joints or approved mechanical type joints, made with the proper flanging tools.

Street Services Installation and Material

No cup joints will be allowed and only a minimum number of joints permitted. All joints in cast iron services shall be standard bell & spigot type joints caulked with lead, or mechanical type joints with lead tipped rubber gaskets.

Size of Service Determined By Water Dept.

Subdivision 27. Based on the available water pressure, probable water demand and estimated losses in pressure due to the flow of water in both the exterior and interior piping and fixtures, and before a permit is issued, the Water Department shall determine the proper size of service which shall be installed between the street main and the meter. In no instance, however, shall the size of the service be less than ¾ inches.

Location Of Water Meter

Subdivision 28. The meter setting shall be as close as possible to the inside of the foundation wall at the point of entrance of the service connection, and all piping beyond the meter shall be carried above the basement floor; except that the Water Department may permit a special location of the meter in a basementless home or where necessary to avoid setting in a basement living or recreation room. Where such permission is granted, the pipe between the point of entrance and the water meter shall be as short as possible and may be run overhead or carried under the concrete floor. If carried under the concrete floor, it shall be installed in a vitrified sewer tile pipe, cement asbestos pipe or orangeburg pipe, or approved equal having a minimum diameter of four inches, laid continuous from a point twenty-four (24) inches outside of the foundation wall to the meter location, shall have tight joints, shall be laid sufficiently straight to permit the installation or withdrawal of the water pipe, and shall be laid to drain to the outside of the foundation wall.

And except further that a service pipe extended not to exceed a distance of four (4) feet inside of the outside face of the foundation may be installed without the use of the four (4) inch outside conduit pipe, provided in all cases that the pipe shall be at the full depth to prevent freezing.

Interior Piping Size

Subdivision 29. The interior piping continued from the meter shall be continued to the last take-off, the same size as the service except, in the instance when the service is one (1) inch, the Water Department may approve when and at what point such interior pipe beyond the meter may be reduced in size.

The minimum size cold water connection to a hot water heater shall be ¾ inch and the full size of such connection shall be continued to a point directly over the heater. In no case shall the cold water supply of more than three (3) fixtures be supplied from a ½ inch pipe and the hot water supply of no more than four (4) fixtures shall be supplied from a ½ inch hot water supply line.

Interior Piping Joints

Subdivision 30. Swedging or compression type joints shall be permitted on the house side of the meter only and only on exposed work. They shall be made by the use of the proper flanging and gauging tools only. No union or compression joint will be allowed on any concealed piping.

Interior Piping Installation

Subdivision 31. All interior piping shall be installed in a workmanlike manner. Horizontal piping shall be run to a practical alignment and at a uniform grade. The piping shall be well and sufficiently supported by approved hangers to prevent vibration due to water hammer or sagging. Pipes passing through walls shall be protected from breakage. All pipes imbedded in concrete or other corrosive material shall be protected against external corrosion.

Soft annealed copper tubing may be bent cold but must be supported in its entire length to prevent sagging or trapping and, except where exposed, must be joined with sweat fittings. Hard and semi-hard tubing must be adequately supported and may not be bent, and suitable fittings being used for changes in direction.

Interior Piping Branches

Subdivision 32. No branch will be allowed to be taken off the service except on the house side of the meter.

Meter Settings

Subdivision 33. The meter setting shall consist of the meter, valves and check valve. The normal setting for meters two (2) inches and smaller shall be approximately twelve (12) inches above the floor. The plumber shall install the entire meter setting, except the meter which will be installed by the Water Department. He shall determine and provide proper connections and spacing for the installation of the meter according to its size.

The size of the setting shall be the same size as the service, except that if there is already an existing smaller main run across the basement or if by special permission in the case of large services a reduction in the size of the main run to the last take off is allowed, a reduction in the size of the setting may be permitted. The meter setting shall be strong and securely attached to an adjacent wall to prevent sagging, swaying or undue vibration.

Large meters may be set directly on the floor when their weight can not be properly otherwise supported. Only by special permission may meters be set in a depression in the floor and then only in accordance with standards required by the Water Department.

Curb Or Yard Meter Setting

Subdivision 34. By special permission only, when a service supplies a building with no basement, two or more factory or industrial buildings, a group of educational buildings, railway yards, railway stockpiles, etc., the use of yard boxes for the meter setting will be allowed. When installed the meter box shall be constructed of brick, concrete, or other approved materials of a size and design approved by the Water Department. Yard boxes when permitted must be properly drained and the top set to divert surface drainage away from the box.

Meters Shut-off Valves

Subdivision 35. The plumber shall provide two (2) shut-off valves, one on each side of the meter. On services two (2) inches and under the valves shall be [illegible] brass, [illegible] gate type valves. On the house side of the check valve there shall be a waste, incorporated in the valve or otherwise provided.

Sprinkler Valves

Flush Valves

Subdivision 37. Flush valves will not be permitted if static pressure at the fixture is under twenty-five (25) pounds where water is furnished from water works mains or fifteen (15) pounds if water is supplied from an overhead tank for the buildings' exclusive use.

Check Valves

Subdivision 38. Check valves shall be of the swing type pattern and either the gate or the seat must be faced with a suitable composition. Metal to metal will not be permitted.

A check valve shall be placed on every installation between the meter and the second shut-off.

Relief Valves

Subdivision 39. All hot water storage tanks hereafter installed, replaced, repaired, or reclaimed, and every such tank to which a water heating device or appliance, capable of heating water above a temperature of 212 degrees Fahrenheit, is hereafter attached, shall be equipped with a temperature and pressure relief valve (either separately or in combination) of an approved type which shall effectively prevent the temperature of any water in the tank from exceeding 212 degrees Fahrenheit.

Temperature or pressure-temperature relief valves shall be installed directly in the tank in a tapping provided for this purpose, not over six (6) inches down from the top of the tank, or in the hot water supply pipe leading from the top of the tank, and within three (3) inches of the tank.

Pressure relief valves should be set to relieve pressure at a pressure of approximately twenty (20) pounds higher than the city pressure.

Pressure relief valves shall be installed on the hot water storage tank or at some point in the hot water supply system.

Relief Valves

Subdivision 40. The drip or discharge from pressure or temperature relief valves shall not be connected directly to a drainage system, but shall extend to an open fixture or to a point near the floor. The pipe shall be equal to or greater than the valve discharge outlet.

Temperature relief valves shall be rated as to their B.T.U. capacity and at 212 degrees Fahrenheit shall be capable of discharging sufficient water (hot) to prevent any further rise in temperature.

All relief valves shall be marked by the manufacturer by stamping or casting in the metal of the valve, or on a metal tag permanently attached to the valve as follows:

1. Manufacturers name or registered trade mark.
2. The type or style of the valve.
3. The pressure setting of the valve in pounds per square inch.
4. The temperature setting in degrees Fahrenheit.
5. Temperature relieving capacity in B.T.U. per hour.

All valves shall have been tested and approved by one of the following: The American Gas Association, The Board (National) of Boiler and Pressure Vessel Inspectors, The National Board of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, or listed under the Re-Examination Service of the Underwriters Laboratories, Inc., or as otherwise directed by the Water Department.

Whenever any existing hot water storage tanks and heater installation does not meet the specified requirements and which, on inspection, is determined to be dangerous, such tank and heater shall be replaced or changed to conform to the above safety requirements.

Water Heating Systems

Subdivision 41. In every installation of plumbing for the heating of water for domestic use or for house heating purposes, protection must be given the property owner against explosion and the Water Department against meter damage. No closed tank shall be directly connected with the house heating system.

Range Boilers

Subdivision 42. The range boiler or hot water tank must for ordinary residence, be at least of twenty (20) gallon capacity. For barber shops and business places using hot water in small quantities, intermittently, smaller tanks will be allowed. Roof Tanks Subdivision 44. Roof tanks must be provided with automatic devices for completely shutting off water when they are filled. They shall also be provided with ample size overflows.

Cross Connections

Subdivision 45. No licensed plumber or others shall cause a physical connection to be made between the City water supply and any other water supply for [illegible] fire protection or boiler feed purposes or for any other purpose whatsoever.

There shall be no connection or other arrangement from a plumbing fixture or device whereby unsafe water or other foreign material may be discharged or drawn into the City water supply system.

Cross Connection When It Does Not Meet Requirements

Subdivision 46. Provisions for a removable nipple in a new installation will be considered a physical connection, and does not meet the requirements contained herein.

Emergency Cross Connection When Approved

Subdivision 47. The installation of a removable nipple in a line which connects the City water supply with any other source of supply shall be done only with the written permission of the Water Department, and then only in the case of emergency, and the nipple shall not be left in place longer than the period of the emergency.

Water Meter May Be Ordered Moved

Subdivision 48. Where a water meter is set in the same box with the sewer clean-out, the Water Department may order the meter removed and set above the floor in accordance with the foregoing approved methods, whenever in its opinion there exists the danger of polluting the public water supply.

Violations, Penalty For

Subdivision 49. Violation of any of the foregoing rules and regulations is punishable by a fine not to exceed one hundred ($100.00) dollars, or imprisonment not to exceed ninety (90) days, or both. In case of licensed plumbers in addition to the above penalty, the City Council is hereby given the right and authority to cancel any licensed plumber's bond, and may refuse to grant him a new license for a period not to exceed one (1) year.

Subdivision 50. It shall be required that plans or specifications of all proposed buildings, structures or parts thereof or alterations to existing buildings, structures or parts thereof in excess of fifty ($50.00) dollars showing proposed water installations or alterations, be submitted and approved by the Water Department insofar as water piping and appurtenances are concerned, before approval and grant of a building permit by the Building Inspector, or before the Water Department permit is issued.

"THE WRITTEN MESSAGE LIVES"

Guess there wasn't any radio advertising in 1922. If there was, it probably would not be drawing replies in 1954, anyway—unless reduced to writing, the spoken word doesn't last long! A firm of New York jewelers advertised in a 1922 newspaper a gold Elgin pocket watch, knife charm and chain included, for $14.98, $2.00 down and $1.50 a month until paid. August 26, 1954, Donald Quinlivan answered the ad from Outlook, Wash., asking simply "Is it still good?" It Was. Watch, knife, and chain were promptly sent him on the advertised terms.

"Soil Erosion Protection

"My soil erosion protection policy more than paid for itself after the last heavy rain," Marvin Prink told Willis E. DeValois, Dakhue Soil Conservation District farm planner at Cannon Falls. Prink's area had five heavy rains this spring and summer and after each, he checked his terraces and contour strips to see how they were performing. He noted that from the terraced field water was leaving "clear" with no sign of silt. On the strips, there was some washing in the lower edge, but the soil was lodged in the hay strips just below and these hay strips filtered out the silt and slowed up the water. Prink says now he wouldn't give up his "Erosion Control Policy" for anything.

Plowville '53 Site Different

Plowville '53 near Buffalo is over a year old and the best is yet to come, Red Sather, SCS farm planner at Buffalo, remembers the beginning of the project. Then, he recalls, the furrows ran up and down hill intermingled with gullies and washouts. Now neat, green sod waterways and contour strips and terraces. Badly eroded areas, where only a weak covering of weeds and grass grew, now have neat plantings of soil-holding trees, and from soggy land that occasionally made Grade C pasture, a good crop of corn is being harvested. The "new look" will grow more beautiful each year — that's the best part, Red says.

Merchants Get View

Planners of a mid-summer tour of cooperators' farms in the Kanabeck Soil Conservation District invited area merchants to come along. On several of the farms visited, the farmer described his soil conservation plan to the group.

Plowing Contestants

Plowing contests are serious business, as any contestant knows. As soon as the skies began to clear Thursday, the day before Plowville '54, contestants were scouting the area for a practice plowing field.

Make Mealtime Enjoyable

Eating can be a lot of fun. And it should be. The enjoyment of the food is only part of it. Of course it's pleasant to taste good things to eat. But just as important is the enjoyment that can come from having the family all together around the table.

Mealtime is about the only regular time that most families really get together. That's why it's up to everybody, especially the parents, to try to make it an enjoyable time. One way to do it is to avoid talking about things that aren't of interest to the children. Save the adult "gossip" for after the children are in bed and give them the chance to talk things over at suppertime.

Another way to make eating fun is to try to make mealtime an informal and relaxing thing. It's all right to expect pretty good table manners at home, but you shouldn't make the children behave as if they were in a restaurant. So long as they show that they know how to really behave on special Sunday nights out, it's really better to let them relax and enjoy themselves at home.

Another way to make mealtime a happy time is to avoid stressing the clean plate rule too strictly. Perhaps the best way to prevent finicky eaters is to ask everybody to just taste a little bit of everything. Then, let each one choose the things he likes best for the big helpings, with smaller servings of the foods he's "learning" to like. If the child serves himself he can be expected to finish everything. You may make mealtime something to be dreaded instead of enjoyed, and that should be avoided if it possibly can. Life's a lot more fun if eating is fun.

Adam to Zeb

Adam was the first man to walk this earth. Zeb is a young fellow from the Middle West.

Centuries separate them from one another. But they have a great experience in common . . . Each has walked with God.

The names of Adam and Zeb are pages apart in the encyclopedia of human history. And in between them are countless millions of other names. Each belongs to a man who has lived, and who has had opportunity to walk with God.

Churchmen's Week, soon to be celebrated throughout our land, is the symbol of the unity of America's men in their worship of God, their Creator, and of Jesus Christ, their Saviour. Participate in the services and rallies which will mark this week of spiritual dedication in your community.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

FAMOUS TRICHOLOGIST WILL DEMONSTRATE HOW TO GROW THICKER HAIR — AND GUARANTEES IT

DEMONSTRATION TO BE HELD HERE

This new method of home treatment for saving and growing thicker hair will be demonstrated in Thief River Falls, Minn., Thursday ONLY, October 14, 1954. These private individual demonstrations will be held at the Pennington Hotel on Thursday ONLY, October 14, 12 Noon to 9 p. m.

OKLAHOMA CITY October 1—In an interview here today Mr. Wm. L. Keele, internationally famous trichologist and President of the Keele Hair and Scalp Specialists, Inc. said "There are 18 different scalp disorders that cause most men and women to lose hair. Using common sense a person must realize no one tonic or so called cure-all could correct all the disorders," he explained.

GUARANTEED

"The Keele firm, recognizing that most people are skeptical of claims that hair can be grown on balding heads, offer a guarantee," Keele said.

Once a person avails himself of the Keele treament his skepticism immediately disappears. To insure this, we offer this guarantee "If you are not completely satisfied with your hair progress at the end of 30 days your money will be refunded."

HOPELESS CASES DISCOURAGED

First the Trichologist is quick to tell hopeless cases that they cannot be helped. But the "hopeless" cases are few. Only if a man is completely shiny bald is he in this lost category.

If there is fuzz, no matter how light, thin or colorless, the Keele treatment can perform wonders.

FREE EXAMINATIONS

This examination is very thorough and highly technical. It requires 20 to 30 minutes. The Trichologist makes no charge for this examination and no appointment is necessary. After the examination the person is told the required length of treatment and how much it will cost.

After starting treatment, the person makes regular reports to the Keele firm at Oklahoma City to check the progress of the home treatment.

To spread the opportunity of normal, healthy hair to the thousands who are desperately looking for help, independent trichologists are visiting various cities throughout the United States to conduct examinations and start home treatment.

NO CURE-ALL

"We have no cure-all for slick, shiny baldness," Keele emphasizes. "If there is fuzz the root is still capable of creating hair and we can perform what seems to be a miracle."

There is one thing Keele wants to be certain every man and woman knows. If a recession appears at the temples or a spot begins to show up on the crown of the head, there is something wrong and it should be given immediate attention.

HAIR FOR A LIFETIME

"If clients follow our direction during treatment, and after they finish the course, there is no reason why they will not have hair all the rest of their lives," Keele said. "Our firm is definitely behind this treatment, it all depends on the individual clients faithful observation of a few simple rules."

HOW'S YOUR HAIR

"If it worries you, call Trichologist L. G. Evans at The Pennington Hotel in Thief River Falls, Minn., Thursday ONLY, October 14, 12 Noon to 9 p. m. The public is invited. You do not need an appointment. The examinations are private and you will not be embarrassed or obligated in any way.—Adv.

Attend Northern Region Firemen's School at Crookston

John Doran, Ray Elseth, Andy Bakke, Douglas Weber, Evonne Olson, Ben Nelson and Gordon Elseth attended the Northern Region Firemen's school at Crookston on Thursday, October 7th. They registered at 6 o'clock, then were guests at a chicken dinner, after which they were welcomed by Mayor Thomforde. Then there was a short business meeting, with election of officers, etc. Cyril Sheehan, State Fire Marshall, and Insurance Commissioner spoke to them, and had a fine message for them. A very good demonstration of the indirect application of fog was given by Chief Herbert and his boys (the visitors were taken by school bus to the site of the demonstration). Another interesting and instructive feature was given by a representative of the Liquified Petroleum Gas Ass'n of Chicago who showed them how to control a LP gas fire, and how to extinguish a fire of this type with both chemical and water. All in all, it was a very interesting and informative meeting, and the boys are looking forward to the next one.

Planting Bulbs

This is a good time to plant all hardy spring-flowering bulbs. However, tulips can be planted until the soil freezes. Besides tulips, daffodils, hyacinths and crocus, many lesser bulbs should be planted now—the snowflakes, snowdrops, grape hyacinths, chionodoxas, scillas and trout lilies.

• • •

Choose a sunny or partially shaded location where there is a good drainage. Almost any good garden soil will give excellent results. If the soil is heavy, it's wise to add organic matter such as leaf mold, well rotted manure or compost at the rate of 2 bushels for each 100 square feet of area. Apply 2 or 3 pounds of a 5-10-5 fertilizer to each 100 square feet before spading or tilling the soil. Spade to a depth of 8 to 12 inches if posible.

• • •

Mass plantings are much more effective than long single rows. Buy varieties in about half-dozen lots or more and group them in the border. For cut-flowers, plant in rows.

• • •

Be sure to plant bulbs so the pointed end is upright in the hole. Plant the lesser bulbs so the tops are covered with about 3 inches of soil. Tulips, daffodils and Dutch hyacinths should have from 6 to 8 inches of soil covering the bulb. In heavier soils, bulbs are not planted as deeply as in lighter, sandier soils. Plant tulips, daffodils and hyacinths from 4 to 6 inches apart and the lesser bulbs from 2 to 4 inches apart. Distance between bulbs should be about the same as recommended depth.

• • •

A mulch during winter isn't necessary, though frequently you'll get better results if you apply 2 to 3 inches of coarse hay or straw after the soil has frozen.

Experience is rarely valued by the ones who really need it most.

PUBLIC SERVICE

I shall forever be humbly thankful for the opportunity I had in bringing the Soil Conservation Service to our farmers in Pennington County.

It is one of the finest services offered the American farmer and the legislation was supported by good men of both parties in Congress.

I promised to explain the criticism leveled at the County Board in 1949 while I was Chairman of the board, by two county officials and a sharp editorial by the Times in what they termed "Deficit Spending."

Here are the facts. A payment was made on a Road Patrol of $8,000. This payment was made without authority by The Board and this was not in our 1949 budget and not due until 1950.

The County Engineer at that time seemed to have become confused about who he was serving under, The County Board or the Road Committee of the Civic & Commerce. A road brushing job was started and this engineer spent money so fast that Odin Hanson became alarmed and spoke to me about it. He had spent $8,000 at this time and we told him definitely that $12,000 was the extreme limit we would allow this one year. He paid no attention to our order and kept on until he had an expense of $18,000 against the county. The total amount transferred from the Bond & Interest fund was $15,000. The two officials were given front page space for their blast. We think it was only a cheap political smear.

A year or two previous to this when another man was Chairman a transfer of $40,000 was made. No comment by either the boys on the county payroll nor from the Editor

THE MINNESOTA STORY

Prepared by the
Minnesota Historical Society

WHEAT TO MARKET

The first concern of many of the early settlers of Minnesota was the growing of wheat. The virgin soil favored this grain. Fields on the prairies could be opened for it. Wheat kept well and was a staple crop, always in good demand. It could also be transported about as easily as anything that the frontier would produce. It could be made into flour in the many small grist mills that were built in all parts of the early state.

It is recorded that two men, Joseph Haskell and John Norris, broke up three acres on the St. Croix in 1840. The next year they planted and harvested 41 acres of wheat but could not sell what they produced. In 1849 the census recorded, possibly not too accurately, the raising of 1401 bushels of wheat in the territory. The production of both corn and oats was much greater.

Wheat found its way southward down the Mississippi. This was brought to the river by ox teams from the inland homesteads. At one time Rochester was the wheat center for Minnesota. Then the market was made at Red Wing. Minneapolis became the center of the wheat trade with the development of its great flour mills.

The first wheat from the great country upriver, above the Falls of St. Anthony, was shipped from St. Cloud in 1864. One hundred fifty sacks of it went down the river by steamboat to the falls. Thence it was transported by wagons to the levee at St. Paul. The price for it, delivered, was 35 cents a bushel.

THE GINSENG DIGGERS

The earlier people to Minnesota found that ginseng grew readily among the hill and woods. Just as the state was well underway the Chinese people created a great demand for this plant. Dug and dried it sold for what appeared to be a very high price. But though the price was high by the pound it took many roots to make 16 ounces.

In many parts of Minnesota many people gave time to seeking out, digging out and drying out the ginseng roots. In almost every community, it is recorded, there was an agent ready to buy this plant and put down the money for it. Whole families would go into the woods, in the meantime neglecting their work on their newly acquired homesteads.

In fact, there was quite a concern on the frontier that people were devoting too much time to genseng and not enough to more permanent activities. This fear was offset by the fact that ginseng brought in hard cash to the people very badly in need of that commodity. A new country is always hard up, for needs on an agricultural frontier are always greater, in the earlier years, than the income which new farms would produce. Back in the 1880ies it was recorded that many a prosperous citizens and many a growing community owed a great deal of their progress to the money that the Chinamen were willing to pay for a herb thought helpful to health and virility.

THE COUSIN JACK

The Cornishmen, better known on the iron ranges as the "Cousin Jacks," have had an interesting time in Minnesota.

These people were miners from Cornwall and wherever minerals were discovered in the early days of the United States they were found with pick, shovel, mules and know-how.

The Cornishmen came to Mineral Point, in Wisconsin, in 1830. They worked in the lead mines there. Using the limestone of that vicinity they built small stone houses similar to those in which they lived in their own land. Some of these old houses have been recently restored.

When iron and copper were found in Michigan the Cousin Jacks were among the first in. Then came the news of the iron mines on the Vermillion. Men from Cornwall helped to make Minnesota's first iron ore shipment in 1884. When the Mesabi came in as a producer the Cornishmen developed many of the great mines of this new range. For some years a large amount of Mesabi ore came from underground mines. The Cousin Jacks believed that this was the only real way to mine and they resented the open pits with their steam shovels and shrill speaking locomotives. The old Cornishmen did not think much of the mining engineer but many of their sons became distinguished engineers and open pit mine managers.

While the Cornishmen were the first in, the Swedes, Finns and the Slavic immigrants came soon thereafter and in a short time outranked in number those who first came to mine.

State Trust Fund Lands Being Sold

Annual Sale Is Now Being Held in Nearby Counties

The 1954 annual sale of state trust fund lands was started in Polk county October 4 and will continue in 13 additional counties until October 20, officials of the Division of Land and Minerals, Minnesota Conservation Department announced today.

More than 27,500 acres have been placed on sale at appraised land prices of $5 to $20 per acre. Buildings, timber and other improvements are appraised separately. The average land acre sale price is about $8.

The state land sales will take place in Marshall, Kittson, Roseau, Norman, Koochiching, Hubbard, Beltrami, Cass Aitkin, Pine, Carlton, St. Louis, and Itasca counties.

The policy of the department is to sell only lands which are best suited for agricultural use and well located with regard to roads, schools, and settlements.

The purchaser is required to pay cash for timber and at least 15 per cent of the total price of the land at the time of the sale. The balance is divided in 20 annual installments.

Amendment No. 1 Proposes Change in Probate Court

Measure Would Enlarge Jurisdiction of Probate Courts in Minnesota

Proposed Amendment No. One to the constitution of the state of Minnesota is offered to the voters for the purpose of enabling the legislature to revise and enlarge the jurisdiction of the probate courts of the state and also to prescribe, if advisable, the qualifications required for the office of judge of probate.

The constitutional provision creating the probate courts specifically limited their powers. It gave them jurisdiction over estates of deceased persons and persons under guardianship and restricted further jurisdiction except by constitutional amendment. In spite of this constitutional limitation, the probate court is now exercising such additional powers as that of commitments of mentally ill or retarded persons to state institutions and commitments in matters involving neglected, dependent and delinquent children and other powers not contemplated by the constitution.

Adoption of the proposed amendment will enable the legislature to clarify, by law, the jurisdiction of the probate court and bring the present practices of the probate court within the scope of the constitutional authority and further enable the legislature, by law, to revise and raise standards of the probate courts.

At the time the constitution was adopted, the population of the state was small and the judicial system, set up by the framers of the constitution, seemed ample for its needs. Changes in conditions have made changes in the system necessary. Provisions for other state courts have been elastic enough to permit the necessary revision and expansion but the restrictive clause applying to the courts as may be necessary to meet urgent needs.

This amendment has the endorsement of the State Bar association.

Doings of week at Rosewood

By Elaine Hellquist, Rosewood, Minn. Phone 191-J

Marilyn Hellquist was honored at a bridal shower Tuesday evening arranged by Mavis Kaushagen and Ardis Anderson held at the Emil Anderson home. A cleverly arranged story of the first meeting to the wedding of the honor guest and her husband to be, was told by way of pictures it was really delightfully done. Several contests with prizes were enjoyed. The door prize drawn by Jeannie Nelson caused a lot of merriment, after removing a dozen or so wrappings of various sizes, shapes and colors she found a cheese cutter, a clue to the prize, after another dozen wrappings there was the prize! A mouse trap. The honor guest seated in a decorated chair opened her many nice gifts from her assembled girl friends. Centering the lunch table was a lovely cake topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Sample Ballot Published in Times Today

Interest in Campaign Rising with Election Day only 2 Weeks Away

The publication in the Times today of the sample ballot for the general election Tuesday, November 2, serves as a reminder to local voters that Election Day is less than two weeks distant.

On the statewide level, chief interest has attached to the race between Hubert H. Humphrey, DFL incumbent, and Val Bjornson, Republican, for the U. S. senate; and between C. Elmer Anderson, GOP incumbent, and Orville Freeman for the governorship. All four are staging aggressive campaigns.

Another contest that has developed a good deal of interest is that between Harold C. Hagen of Crookston, GOP incumbent, and Mrs. Coya Knutson of Oklee for the post of Ninth district representative in Congress.

W. E. Dahlquist is seeking reelection as state senator from the 65th district, for which he is opposed by Roy E. Wiseth. Candidates for the two posts as state representative from this district are Walter E. Day of Bagley, veteran incumbent; and B. M. Wichterman of Plummer and Adolph Olson of Shevlin, who are seeking the seat being vacated by Mrs. Coya Knutson.

Judge Paul A. Lundgren is unopposed for reelection as judge in the 14th district.

Candidates for Pennington county offices include C. W. Rodekuhr, incumbent, and N. C. Lindberg for county auditor; A. R. Johnsrud, unopposed for county treasurer; Oscar A. Nelson, incumbent, and Fred D. Lorentson for register of deeds; Arthur Rambeck, incumbent, and Jorgen Austad for sheriff; L. W. Rulien, incumbent, and Stanley Mortenson for county attorney; Mrs. A. C. Matheson, incumbent, and Mrs. Rudolph Hanson for county superintendent of schools; and Dr. George B. Martin for coroner.

In the second commissioners district, a lively contest is being conducted between Don Olson, incumbent, and Lars Hylden, former member of the county board. Merle A. Lindberg is unopposed for reelection in the fourth district.

Ne[illegible]00 Attend County DFL Dinner Saturday Evening

Party's Candidates for Various Offices Speak at Affair in Zion Church

The Pennington county Democrat-Farmer-Labor Organization served a turkey dinner at a "Get Acquainted with Your Candidates" meeting at the Zion Lutheran church parlors on Saturday evening to a capacity crowd. Over 300 tickets were sold.

C. I. Richards, publicity chairman, called on Rev. Walter Pedersen for the invocation. He then introduced L. J. Lee, Bagley, 9th district DFL chairman, as master of ceremonies. Mayor Agnes Israelson extended welcome.

Lee called on Judge H. O. Chommie, who gave a talk on "Why the Republican Party Calls the Democratic Party the Party of Treason"; explaining "that the Democrats are not treasonable to our government but possibly to the Republican Party." Roy Wiseth, candidate for state senator, stressed the importance of party designation and party affiliation in the house and senate.

Rep. Walter Day, Bagley, up for re-election, and Ben Witcherman, Plummer, candidate for representative, gave brief talks.

Mrs. Coya Knutson, DFL candidate for Congress, gave a talk on "Importance of first vote in House and Senate," explaining that this is the vote that elects the speaker of the House, first step to organize the House on important committees. Mrs. Knutson also clarified the Hatch Act, stating that this law was placed on the statute books by the Democrats to protect the federal employees from politicians.

Council Gets Proposal for Trailer Court

Civic & Commerce Plans for Holiday Decorating Given Approval Tuesday

A solution to the lack of trailer park facilities in this city that will result when the temporary municipal court near the tourist park is closed down was proposed by two men at the October session of the city council Tuesday evening.

The two men, Del Seefeldt and Kenneth Berg, said they had obtained an option on a tract of land in the extreme southeast part of the city on Tindolph av. south of Tenth st., where they plan to set up a 20-unit trailer court, provided they receive assurances that the parking of house trailers in the city will be regulated, and that sewer and water facilities are made available.

The council voted to instruct City Attorney Robert Wurst to draft an ordinance regulating the use of trailers.

Following presentation of the matter by J. M. Roche, secretary of the Civic and Commerce association, the council voted to appropriate $1,000 to share in the cost of decorating the downtown district for the Christmas holiday season.

Roche said the merchants committee planned this year to decorate the new light standards and to set up small Christmas trees at intervals along the streets.

Mayor Agnes Israelson said she had been asked by Judge H. O. Chommie to bring up again the matter of a municipal court clerk to help handle the mounting work of the office. He recommended his secretary, Mrs. Patricia Thompson, for the post on a part-time basis, saying that to begin with she would be employed at the work in the Auditorium building only during the afternoon. The council approved the arrangement, subject to Mrs. Thompson's acceptance.

The council gave a first reading to an ordinance providing for setting up a special impounding lot to which automobiles could be taken when picked up by local authorities after being parked on the street for 24 hours or more, or when parked in such a manner as to interfere with traffic or snowplow operation.

Also given its first reading was a proposed ordinance restricting to southbound traffic only the narrow portion of LaBree av. S past Northwestern Hospital and as far as the elevator on the Great Northern right-of-way.

The assessment roll for the recently completed street lighting project was improved, and a hearing on the matter was set for November 16.

Heading the list of building permits granted at the meeting was one in the amount of $165,000 covering construction of the addition to Knox school, on which work is well under way. Permits also were issued to the Robertson Lumber Co. covering erection of three new homes in the $15,000 class on Maple av. S.

Airline Service May Continue for Months Says President Carr

Local airline service between Minneapolis-St. Paul and Grand Forks, N. D., via three intermediate Minnesota cities will be continued temporarily, according to action taken in Washington October 12 by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

North Central Airlines' authority to operate the route was previously scheduled to expire Nov. 1.

H. N. Carr, airline president, says service will be continued until the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) reaches a final decision on the company's application to provide service at these cities on a permanent basis. When a final decision will be issued is not known, but Carr believes it will require several months.

Meanwhile, local airline service between Minneapolis-St. Paul and Fargo, N. D., via St. Cloud, Alexandria and Fergus Falls, Minn., will be suspended Nov. 1 as scheduled as the result of a Sept. 3 CAB decision stating that public convenience and necessity do not require continuation of service by North Central over that route. The decision also called for suspension of the Grand Forks route.

North Central in July, however, filed an application with the CAB requesting continuation of the Grand Forks route under two conditions—(1) suspension of Northwest Airlines service at Grand Forks and (2) seasonal operation at Brainerd (June 1 through Sept. 30). Carr felt air service would be justifiable under these conditions.

Following the CAB's Sept. 3 de-

Gift Shop Being Organized by N. W. Hospital Auxiliary

Project Is Designed to Be Valuable Benefit to Patients in Hospital

Organization of a hospital gift shop in the new Northwestern Hospital is now underway, according to an announcement by the chairman of the gift shop committee, Mrs. M. D. Starekow.

Mrs. Starekow stated that the gift shop will provide a new and vital service not only for the comfort and convenience of the patients in the hospital, but also to relatives, visitors and service personnel.

Plans for the gift shop include a stock of gift articles for the sickroom, infant toys and books and magazines, stationery and stamps, toiletries, handkerchiefs, greeting cards and miscellaneous gifts. A flower ordering service also will be provided.

Proceeds from the shop will go toward providing articles of encouragement and cheer for patients without family connections, and conveniences such as room radios, and to make other improvements about the hospital such as furnishing the prayer and meditation room.

Mrs. Starekow further stated that the shop will not be self sustaining for some months and therefore gift donations of homemade articles to the shop were very welcome. She asked that the price of the materials in the gifts be included with the articles in order to list the retail prices according to their values. All donations should be in by November 15th for the opening of the shop.

Mrs. Ebba Sagmoen, president of the Hospital Auxiliary has arranged for the annual meeting of the organization to take place in the room provided for the gift shop on Monday, Oct. 25th, at 8 p. m. A short tour of inspection will preceed the meeting.

Flom-Rhodes Vows Pledged In Alabama

First Baptist church of Mobile, Alabama was the scene of a pretty wedding ceremony, Saturday, October 2, when Miss Barbara Frances Rhodes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Edward Rhodes of Mobile, became the bride of Ensign Hewitt Orland Flom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nels Flom of this city. Dr. Howard M. Reaves officiated at the double ring ceremony at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. William Schock played Schubert's "Serenade," Nuptials and Dubois' "Cantalene," and Gounod's "Sanctus." She also accompanied Miss Anna Cooper, who sang Stultz' "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" and Mall's "The Lord's Prayer." During the ceremony Mrs. Schock played "Leibestraum" and "O Perfect Love."

Give in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a formal gown of rosepoint lace over satin, featuring a scooped neckline, fitted bodice and a houfant skirt, extending into a chapel length train. Her sleeves came to points at the wrist and satin covered buttons extended down the back of her dress. The crescent shaped bouquet she carried was formed with feathered carnations and chrysanthemums, tuberoses, cybidium orchids, with a cascade of flowers that fell to the hemline of her dress. A white orchid centered the bouquet.

Mrs. Ed Davis of Baton Rouge, Louisana, was matron of honor and Miss Susan Daugherty of Tuscaloosa, Alabama, was Junior bridesmaid. Their Wedgewood blue silk organza gowns were princess style, with full skirts and ruffled bodices. Crescent shaped vanda orchids and pink tulle formed their bouquets. They wore matching hair arrangements of orchids.

Cynthia Ann Castle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Castle of Spring Hill, Alabama, was flower girl for the bridal couple. Her gown was of pink nylon taffeta, featured a drop shoulder, ruffled neckline and a full tiered skirt. She carried vanda orchids with blue tulle and wore a matching arrangement in her hair.

Attending the groom as best man was Lt. Maynard Wedul of Ellington Air Force Base, Texas. Other attendances were Edward Rhodes Jr. of Tuscaloosa, Alabama; Hal Daughterty also of Tuscaloosa, and John Howard Castle, of Spring Hill, Alabama.

Mrs. Rhodes chose, for her daughter's wedding, a teal blue crepe dress with a red velvet hat and bag. Mrs. Flom, mother of the groom, wore an aqua crepe dress with navy accessories. They both wore white orchid corsages.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Hal Daugherty cut and served the three tiered wedding cake embossed with white roses, and flanked with candelabra holding lighted candles frosted to match the cake. Mrs. Joe C. Bolton Jr., Mrs. Russell L. Scott and Miss Jerrall Moorer assisted with the serving. Mrs. John Howard Castle registered the guests.

For their wedding trip to Alameda, California, Mrs. Flom chose a mint green suit with matching hat and brown accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid.

The bride is a graduate of Murphy high school in Mobile, and has attended Alabama college in Montevallo, Alabama. She has been employed as a secretary at Berkley Air Base in Mobile, prior to her wedding.

The groom is a graduate of Lincoln high school and attended Moorhead state teachers college. He has been in the United States Navy for the past 28 months, recently returning from Japan. He will now be stationed in Alameda, California, where they plan to make their home.

Thursday evening, September 30, the bride was entertained at the Joe C. Bolton Jr., home by Mrs. Minnye Coker Daniels, Mrs. Russell L. Scott, Miss Anna Cooper, Mrs. Ruby Jensen, Mrs. Wilmer M. Scott and Mr. and Mrs. Joe C. Bolton Jr.

Friday evening after rehearsal hosts to the bridal party were Mr. and Mrs. John Howard Castle.

Out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Nels Flom of this city; Mr. B. C. Ward, Bruce Ward, Houston, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Rhodes, Jr., Mrs. T. B. Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs. George Underwood, Howard Rhodes, Latham Rhodes, all of Summerdale, Alabama.

Amendment No. 2 Passage Favored

Would Eliminate Double Liability on Bank Stock

A remnant of the days of cracker barrel banks will be modernized in our state constitution if Amendment No. 2 is passed by a majority of voters in the Nov. 2 general election, a state bankers committee asserted today.

The amendment authorizes the Legislature to regulate the double liability now placed on stockholders in state banks. Double liability means that a stockholder in a Minnesota state bank may lose double the amount of his investment in case of the bank's liquidation.

Minnesota and Arizona are the only two states left with double liability. When each state bank issued its own currency 90 years ago, double liability was a soothing balm to worried depositors. State bank currency was discontinued, long ago but double liability stayed. With modern banking methods, government supervision and federal insurance up to $10,000 for every depositor in an insured state bank, double liability is not only outdated but a handicap as well.

Minnesota's many growing communities find their banking service curtailed and financial aid limited because banks are unable to sell more shares to protect increased deposits. Many places are without banking service at all because of this factor.

cision, the airline requested a temporary exemption which would enable North Central to continue the Grand Forks route beyond Nov. 1 and until a final decision was reached in the July application.

"We are gratified that the CAB, in approaching this temporary exemption today, concurs with our company's position that service should be continued to Brainerd, Bemidji, Thief River Falls and Grand Forks until a full hearing has been held on our application to provide permanent service to these cities," Carr said today in Minneapolis.

Field Work Began Monday on Census of Agriculture

Sigvald Tveit, Bemidji, Supervisor, Emphasizes That All Data is Secret

Field work in the 1954 census of agriculture got underway locally Monday when a force of enumerators will start visiting every farm in the area, according to Field Supervisor Sigvald Tveit of Bemidji.

Farm census questionnaires have been mailed to all farm operators. The enumerators will visit all local farms to collect the questionnaires and, if necessary, assist the farmer in filling out the report form.

The 1954 census is the 16th in a series of nationwide farm enumerations, the first of which was conducted in 1840. The census is taken at five-year intervals to provide up-to-date statistical information about more than five million farms which supply food and raw materials for manufacture of goods used by the people of the United States, now numbering about 162.5 million.

The current census will yield information on the number and size of farms, acreage and harvest of crops, livestock production and inventories, selected farm facilities and equipment and selected farm expenditures.

Tveit emphasized that all information about individuals and their farm operations furnished to the census bureau is held in absolute confidence under federal law. It is used only to provide summary figures such as totals, averages, and percentages. The information on an individual report cannot be furnished to any one other than sworn census employees and thus cannot be used for investigation, taxation or regulation.

Washington PTA Presents Program Monday Evening

Open house and several piano selections rendered by Mrs. Robert Abbott, preceded the meeting.

Introduction of teachers and board members, was followed by a humorous skit. John Elsbrener portrayed the "dubious parent," and Rev. Robert Abbott, president, explained the 5 objectives of PTA.

A short business session was held, with a report, on the conference held at Fertile, Minn., given by Mrs. Wm. Soeby. The executive committee will select a delegate to represent Washington PTA at the state convention to be held in St. Paul on Oct. 25, 26 and 27th.

The hospitality committee, led by Mrs. Arthur Bredeson, was instrumental in getting the members better acquainted by having them play games. Mrs. Reo Olson, Mrs. Sande and Mr. Bob Nick were the lucky winners.

The 5th grade mothers, being the room with the least parents in attendance were penalized by having to present a musical charade.

Community singing, led by Rev. Robert Abbott, with piano accompaniment supplied by Mrs. Abbott, closed the meeting.

Lunch was served by the 5th grade mothers.

The next meeting, will be the joint PTA meeting, held at Lincoln high school, on November 15th.

All of 65 Entries Are Auctioned; Columbia Ram Tops Sale at $125

The registered ram sale conducted in the arena Monday afternoon proved to be a success, all of the 65 rams offered being sold for a total of $4,120, or an average of $62.50 each.

This compares with an average of $58 realized at the 1953 sale, one of three conducted last year in the area. The top price of $125 was paid for a Columbia ram consigned by Billberg and Dahlquist of Roseau county.

Nearly 300 prospective bidders and spectators attended the auction, which was conducted by Col. H. Earl Wright of Mount Gilead, Ohio. Stan Nelson served as sales manager, and the Northern State and Union State banks clerked the sale. Fred Bruggeman and Andy Anderson served as ringmasters.

The rams were judged in the morning by W. E. Morris, livestock specialist with the U. of M. extension service, and Carl Spong of the Central Livestock Shipping association in Fargo.

Smitty's Not-So-Silent Partner

Dropped into Smitty's gas station last week and met his new partner who turned out to be a real talker.

"What'll it be?" asked Smitty. Before I had a chance to answer I heard a strange voice "Fill her up! Fill her up!" And there was Smitty's partner — one of those parakeets perched next to the gas pump.

"Took me a month," Smitty said, "but I finally taught him to say those magic words. It's sure paid off — he's had a good influence on my customers."

From where I sit, Smitty's bird may be good for business — and may get him a few laughs. But when people act like parakeets, they're not so funny. For instance, those who keep insisting over and over again that their neighbors shouldn't have a glass of temperate beer with their supper now and then. They're simply repeating their own ideas, without any regard for the rights of others.

Prowlers Overwhelm Ada 53 to 7; to Play at Bemidji Friday Night

Coach Ralph Skjod's Prowlers made a simple chore of winning their Homecoming tilt here on Friday night, rolling up a 53 to 7 victory over the Ada Vikings on the Lincoln field.

This week the local squad will engage in the game that will decide the eighth regional football championship when they play coach "Red" Wilson's Bemidji Lumberjacks on the B.S.T.C. field at Bemidji on Friday night.

Both teams are entering the fray undefeated, and rated among the top ten prep teams in the state. Last year, in an epic game played here, the Prowlers snapped a 23-game Bemidji winning streak by scoring a 6 to 0 triumph.

The Prowlers moved into the lead on Friday night when they scored a touchdown on the first play from scrimmage. Ada, defending the west goal, kicked off to the Prowlers, with the ball going out of bounds. Putting the ball in play on the 40-yard line of the Prowlers, Sid Vraa cut out around left end and ran 60 yards for a touchdown. Vraa placekicked the conversion for the point, and the locals led, 7 to 0.

Minutes later the Prowlers had their second touchdown when, after holding Ada for a couple of yards in two running plays, the Vikings kicked to Vraa, who made a 10-yard return to the Prowler 45-yard line. Three running plays carried to the Ada 24-yard line. Vraa circled right end, sprinted down the side-line and crossed the goal-line for a touchdown. Vraa's placement for the point was blocked.

Harold Placek recovered an Ada fumble to set up the Prowlers' third td, covering the ball on the Vikings' 39-yard line. With fullback Pete Froehle pounding through the line, the Prowlers, in seven plays, moved to the 1-foot line, and then Froehle plunged over left tackle for the score. Vraa's placekick gave the locals a 20 to 0 first period lead.

The Prowlers added a pair of touchdowns in the third period, with Froehle blasting through left guard and breaking loose for a 23-yard touchdown run; and a short while later, Vraa, on a sweep around left end, went 23 yards for touchdown. Vraa, after missing the placekick following Froehle's td, booted successfully after his touchdown, to boost the Prowler lead to 40 to 0.

Early in the fourth period, the Ada Vikings, using an effective passing attack, with Mike Simpson throwing to rangy end Sherman Moe, moved down to the Prowler 2-yard line, having first down and goal to go. That threat was halted when Dick Miller recovered an Ada fumble on the 3-yard line. The Prowlers kicked out to their 42-yard line, and then Ada uncorked their scoring play. Simpson hit Sherm Moe with a pass, and Moe, from the 30-yard line, tossed a lateral to Marlin Ness, who was away for a touchdown. Ness placekick the extra point, giving Ada their seventh point.

The Prowler "first stringers" moved back into the game, and in five plays they carried the ball from their own 26-yard line to the Ada 12. Vraa passed to Jim Sauve for the score. The placement for the point was missed.

The final Prowler score was registered on the first play from scrimmage following the kickoff, with Rodney Collins intercepting an Ada pass on the Viking 34-yard line and racing across the east goal for the score. Larry Jorgenson dove through right tackle for the point, and the Prowlers had their 53 to 7 win.

CUB SCOUT PACK NO. 60 TO MEET NOVEMBER 8TH

Cub Scout Pack No. 60 meeting date previously announced for October 23rd has been postponed until November 8 according to Millard Nelson, cubmaster.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

Could be the Game of the Year

As far as eighth regional football is concerned, the game coming up on Friday night, between the unbeaten Prowlers and the unbeaten Lumberjacks, on the B.S.T.C. field in Bemidji in the "game of the year." And in state high school competition, the game is surely to be rated as the "game of the week."

Last Friday night, when the Prowlers played Ada here in a Homecoming tilt, and won by a 53 to 7 score, one of the interested spectators was the papa Lumberjack himself, Kenneth "Red" Wilson. Red has been receiving scouting reports from his assistants Bun Fortier and Jack Louma, who have watched the Prowlers several times, but he, Red, apparently wanted to look over coach Ralph Skjod's squad himself before making final preparations for this week's "crucial" clash.

Friday night's game means plenty to the Lumberjacks, for the memory of last year's game, when coach Skjod's squad scored a 6 to 0 win, is like a canker to the Bemidji boys. Do you realize that there are, and were, Bemidji boys who are playing their third year of varsity football, and who played three years of varsity football, and the only defeat they experienced was that 6 to 0 loss to the Prowlers? That fact just about brings tears to the eyes of Lumberjacks.

All year, coach Red Wilson has been attempting to "talk down" the abilities of Lumberjacks, but the record reveals that Bemidji will be fielding one of their stronger teams on Friday night, and it will be a team that will enter the game as a favorite to defeat the Prowlers. While the Jacks lost a number of their "starters" from last season's club, they were well-supplied with holdover reserves, and they were especially well-stocked with backfield material. In fullback Jack Whiting and halfback Don Brown, Bemidji has the nucleus for a powerful and versatile offense. Not once this year has that duo been stopped, and Bemidji has played such teams as Moorhead, East Grand Forks, Park Rapids, Grand Forks Central, and Superior East.

Whiting, a workhorse, does the bulk of the ball-handling from his fullback position, spinning into the line or handing off to Brown for shots around the flanks. While Whiting and Brown are the "big" men in the Bemidji backfield, Dick Carter, and Corky Johnson are better than average high school backfielders, and they give the Jacks a stronger attack than the Prowlers have faced this season.

What impressed Red Wilson by the play of the Prowlers on Friday night, was the all-round team speed of the locals. And that factor, team speed, will be vital on Friday if the Prowlers are to defeat Bemidji. The Prowlers will be giving away quite a bit of poundage, both in the line and the backfield, and they will have use their speed as the "equalizer."

Getting Organized

The directors of the Thieves senior hockey club, at a meeting held last week elected the officers that will direct the team during the 1954-55 season. Chuck Krause was named president; Charley Smith was elected vice president; Orrin Hall was chosen treasurer; and Swede Hendrickson was named secretary. Harry Hendrickson, manager of the team last season, was again chosen as team manager.

Hendrickson informed the group that he had made a trip to Winnipeg, and that he had conversations with a number of hockey players, but that only Church Russell and Ron Castelane gave definite statements on their availability to play with the Thieves this season. Bill Juzda, the colorful blueliner, explained that he was undecided about playing hockey this year, but that if he was to return to action he would inform the local officials. Dan Summers, a stand-out defenseman who played here a couple of seasons ago, has returned to the Eddie Shore organization of the American Hockey league.

Bill LaFave, the retiring president of the Thieves hockey club, stated that arrangements had been completed for a showing here, on Thursday night, Nov. 18th, of the famed Harlem Globetrotters basketball team. The Trotters, who will put on their exhibition in the High school gymnasium, will have the high-scoring Bevo Francis as an added attraction this year. The hockey club will sponsor the appearance of the Globetrotters here.

Plans Made for 1955 RRV Livestock Show

Directors and advisory board members of the Red River Valley Livestock association met for their annual fall meeting last Wednesday in Crookston and completed plans for the 1955 livestock showing at the Red River Valley Winter Shows on Feb. 21-25, says the Crookston Times.

Officers reelected for the year are President, T. M. McCall; vice president, Bill Strickler, Angus; secretary, O. M. Kiser, Crookston; treasurer, Don Lawler, Crookston.

Department superintendents and assistants reelected include: Cattle department, Howard Balk, Bagley, assisted by Sherman Mandt, Perham; sheep, Oscar Nelson, Mahnomen, assisted by Charles Campbell, Kittson county; swine, Harold Rosendahl, Ada, assisted by Eldon Senske, Detroit Lakes; futurity, Nick Weyrens, Fergus Falls, assisted by Harley Shurson, McIntosh.

Frank Forbes, former superintendent of swine, now county agent supervisor for the Red River Valley counties, becomes a member of the Winter Shows board of managers. Carl Ash, Crookston, was named general superintendent of livestock.

Otto Schroeder, East Grand Forks, chairman of the sales committee of the livestock association, reported that plans were underway for the two-day livestock sales to be held Feb. 24 and 25 at the Winter Shows. Schroeder announced that some 200-225 head of animals out of the best herds and flocks in the Red River Valley, would be sold at the 1955 sale. The traditional sales days of former years will be followed in 1955, with the swine and sheep to be sold on Thursday, Feb. 24, and the cattle sale on Friday, Feb. 25.

A. J. Dexter, St. Paul agricultural development agent for the Northern Pacific railway, was reappointed as sales manager for the livestock sales committee.

Directors, advisory board members and other Winter Shows officers present for the meeting were Milton Marmorine, Gonvick; William Strickler, Euclid; Theo. C. Smith, Greenbush; Arthur Ladwig, Barnesville; Benton Rindahl, Barnesville; Odin Hanson, Thief River Falls; Roy Lerud, Twin Valley; Wayne Ewing, Beltrami; Otto Schroeder, East Grand Forks; T. M. McCall, J. H. Sargent, D. T. Lawler, J. E. Wilder, all of Crookston; Lloyd Stuhr, Moorhead; Lloyd Speelman, Twin Valley; Sam Strand, Trail; Paul Engelstad, Thief River Falls; Eddie Gronseth, Rothsay; Howard Balk, Bagley; G. C. Nornes, Warren.

The Quebec Bridge spanning the St. Lawrence River in Canada, is the world's largest cantilever span. Completed in 1917, it contains over 16,000 tons of structuran nickel steel.

Hogs are able to trample and eat snakes because their thick layer of fat protects them from bad effects of poisonous bites. Deer also trample snakes and leave the flattened carcass.

Heart Ailments Caused 53 Deaths in County in 1953

President of Minnesota Heart Association Gives Advice on Precautions

Citing the fact that 53.5 per cent of all deaths last year in Pennington county were caused by heart disease, the president of the Minnesota Heart association today cautioned "let reason rule your heart."

Current MHA president Dr. Charles N. Hensel of St. Paul reported that 99 deaths were reported in Pennington county last year.

"Of these," he added, "a total of 53—or 53.5 per cent—were caused by heart disease. This ranks above the national average of 51.6 per cent."

"As in virtually all things," he stated, "common sense applies when it comes to caring for your heart."

Rules for respecting your heart given by Dr. Hensel included:

1. Have a physical examination each year, and follow your doctor's orders.
2. Avoid overexertion. Though few activities strain a healthy heart, overexertion can aggravate damage already present.
3. Get eight hours of sleep every night; take naps when possible.
4. Don't get fat. Extra pounds make extra work for the heart. If you must eat a lot, eat less at one sitting and eat more often.
5. Watch out for infections. Guard against upper respiratory infections especially. If they do develop, get prompt treatment.
6. Don't worry. Anxiety places an extra load on the heart.

Skunk Population Down, Lessening Danger of Rabies

Thanks to the cooperation of sportsmen's clubs, the skunk population is down considerably in Minnesota, lessening the chance of rabies being spread through a bite from the "polecat," Game and Fish Director Frank D. Blair pointed out today. He suggested however, that hunters continue to kill all skunks encountered, and to refrain from handling any sick or injured animal.

Through September 15 of this year, the Minnesota department of health reports, 137 positive cases of rabies had been reported, with 60 of these in skunks. Sportsmen have been warring on the striped animals since a drive was launched in 1952, with excellent results.

The spread of rabies is by no means limited to skunks. Hunters have been warned to avoid being bitten by trapped or injured squirrels. Any person bitten by any kind of an animal should go immediately to a physician. If animals are bitten, a veterinarian should be consulted.

Dogs and cats should be vaccinated against rabies to give them as much protection as possible. It is advisable to vaccinate dogs before taking them on hunting trips where there is danger of their being bitten by rabid wild animals.

256 Lose Permits During September for Poor Driving

Penalized after Mishaps Causing Death, Injury or Property Damage

Driving licenses of 256 Minnesota motorists were suspended during September because they had been adjudged as negligent drivers in accidents resulting in personal injury, death or serious property damage, according to Earl M. Larimer, director of highway safety.

"For the great majority of these motorists," said Larimer, "it was the first and only blemish on their driving records. In fact, statistics show that more than 80 per cent of the accidents now occurring on our streets and highways are caused by persons who never before were involved in an accident."

"What is the reason for these accidents, and isn't the policy of suspension pretty severe?" Larimer was asked.

He replied that most of the traffic accidents in which these previously accident-free motorists are involved are caused by momentary inattention, carelessness or thoughtless driving.

"Yes, it's a rather severe penalty to lose your driver's license because you 'slipped just once' and because of that were involved in an accident," Larimer stated. "But I believe the penalty was made severe by the Legislature in order to encourage every driver to be constantly alert when operating a motor vehicle and thereby avoid involvement in an accident."

He went on to say that suspension is made in every case where a driver has been convicted in court for violating any provision of the highway traffic regulation act or a city ordinance regulating traffic, and where the violation was a a contributing factor in the accident. Orders of suspension are not issued, however, where the personal injury amounts to only very minor cuts and bruises requiring only first aid or a doctor's examination, or where the property damage is less than $100.

Wages and salaries paid to employees in the United States increased by $142 billion in the period 1938 through 1952.

HUMPTY DUMPTY'S FALL

"Humpty Dumpty had a great fall" and according to the old nursery rhyme "all the king's horses and all the king's men, couldn't put Humpty Dumpty together again."

The recent drop in egg prices is an equally tragic incident in terms of the Republican party and its prospects in the rural areas of the country in the coming election. Secretary of Agriculture Benson's decision not to support egg and poultry prices has added immeasurably to the unpopularity of the administration's farm program among farmers.

There is a big slice of rural income involved in egg and poultry prices. Last year these products brought the farmers 3.8 billion dollars, compared to 2.5 billions received for food grains, including wheat, rye and rice; and 3.2 billions as their take from the cotton crop.

And in terms of the number of producers involved, in all parts of the country, more farmers have been adversely effected by the skidding of these prices than by a drop in the price of any other one crop. So in terms of votes in the coming election the damage is done. The decision not to support this market, when other markets are being supported and the authority for price supports is clearly established, must therefore be written down into the record as a political blunder. Not all the king's men can put this Dumpty back together again by November 2.

STILL A LOCAL PROBLEM

Speaking of the problem of financing our schools, the St. Paul Pioneer Press makes this observation:

> "It is well recognized now that the rising population wave must be met by more classrooms and more teachers than are presently available. How the money is to be provided offers the main problem.
> "There is another side to the financial puzzle besides raising additional funds. This is to increase school efficiency wherever possible so that dollars will not be wasted. One of the recognized causes of waste in this state is the great number of small, ineffective rural school districts. Their operating costs per pupil are too high and their educational opportunities for the pupils are too low. Responsibility for this situation rests with lay citizens, and the Legislature, not with the educators."

While the Press is right in general in this statement, let's keep in mind that the "small, ineffective, rural school districts" are not placing an undue financial burden on the rest of the state and are not contributing unduly to the problem of financing education at the state level.

With few exceptions these small rural districts receive no more state aid per pupil than does the city of St. Paul. Because of the low average daily attendance they qualify only for basic aid, and the attempts that have been made, and probably will be made again, to withhold all aids from these small schools is an approach to the problem that would appeal only to the uninformed. That is not the solution.

To say that the five-pupil school, in terms of per pupil costs, is too expensive is correct, but the heavy burden of that high cost falls on the taxpayers of the school district rather than the state. In most instances where progress is not being made in district reorganization there are reasons for it, and in the north section of the state, where distances are great and the population is more scattered, the reasons are quite obvious.

We are making progress in reorganization. This progress is coming gradually, and that is the way it should come. To attempt to force reorganization in areas that are not ready for it would be most unwise.

ONCE-IN-A-CENTURY EXTREMES

Up to ten inches of rain fell in Chicago last week, the heaviest downpour in 69 years. Damages totalled in the hundreds of millions and power shortages forced curtailment of industrial operations down to 50% of normal. It was a costly experience.

Chicago was not prepared for such a flood—and Chicago will not be prepared for the repetition of this deluge that probably will come again sometime in the next hundred years. And that points up the unpleasant certainty that we too will have floods again that will do great damage.

We do a pretty fair job of providing for the conditions that reoccur with regular frequency. We can anticipate and prepare for most of the unusual conditions that come at ten and twenty year intervals. But for those once-in-century extremes there is no adequate defense. A ten-inch rain in Thief River Falls, as in Chicago, would make us very wet.

STORM WARNING SERVICE

Back in 1928 a hurricane swept over Florida, taking a toll of 2,000 lives. The reason for the high death toll was the suddenness of the storm. It came unexpectedly and people were not prepared for it.

Last week Hurricane Hazel made her appearance down in the West Indies, moved northward to Carolina and swept over several states and into Canada, doing a great deal of damage and taking some lives. But the damages and death toll were greatly reduced by warnings of the approach of the storm. People knew twelve hours in advance what to expect, and because they were prepared hundreds of lives were saved.

In 25 years we have made progress in weather forecasting. It still isn't an exact science, and probably it never will be, but as time goes on and our facilities for observation improve we gradually will reduce the hazard of weather disturbances.

Flying saucers are making the headlines again and once again we will make a special effort to remain calm as we await the day when the space travellers drop in for a formal introduction. One of these days, surely, a saucer will be forced to set down for repairs. Then, when there no longer is room for doubt, we will of course join the ranks of those who knew all the time that the saucer stories were true.

A BIG garage so you can save things you never use!

The garage foundation, whether cement blocks or a slab floor should go in fairly soon if you want fine car cover before winter. We have scores of designs to help you and we'll construct in harmony with adjoining buildings . . . right down to the final coat of paint. Make the garage big enough for garden tools and hobby activity.

By all means, let us include the big easy-to-operate OVERHEAD DOORS.

Important to all of us . . . the low monthly budget plan. No down payment, as much as three years to pay. Keeps your "cash cushion" in the bank.

Ceilling insulation pays two ways—

If the heat cannot get out above then the home floors gain in warmth. If more heat stays in, the fuel bills are reduced. The cost of insulation is low. You can, if you wish, do the job yourself. And this work can be merged with other improvements on the budget plan.

Whether farm buildings, kitchen units or a home addition our finance service submits a sensible manner of getting improvements done promptly, at low cost and without financial discomfort.

Before winter—
- Clean the gutters and down spouts—
- Build a bird feeder using plywood shorts from our bargain bin—
- Replace storm doors with the new Dua-Door Combination—

"DO IT YOURSELFERS" SHOULD BE CAREFUL

Breaking down the imposing figures for the whole nation, in proportion to Minnesota population, we come up with rather an alarming array of possibilities for those "eager beavers" who like to "do it themselves." 540 are likely to get hurt handling storm windows, another 860 fixing broken window panes, 900 are awaiting a knockout either by a brick falling from a chimney under repair, or tumbling themselves from the chimney; 1,180 get themselves in good shape to watch tv by getting hurt putting up their own aerials, 1,440 wouldn't qualify for the carpenters' union by reason of injuring themselves with hand tools, and quite a city full of 1,620 are likely to rue the day they started to do their own house painting.

Some of our tall and sturdy poles go as deep as eight feet into the earth, but the business they symbolize penetrates far deeper—to the very heart of the community.

You don't see all this telephone system at any one time or any one place, for most of it doesn't show. The cables are often underground, and the precision-made switching equipment is hidden away inside telephone buildings.

But telephone lines that tie our community together reach into nearly all homes, all places of work, all businesses. The service is everywhere, bringing together town and country—serving you 24 hours every day and at low cost.

And in many other ways, the telephone business reaches deep into the community. The men and women who furnish your telephone service include many of your sons and daughters. They are the folks who work at your side in the civic activities you undertake.

Their pay checks are largely spent with local merchants, helping create other jobs. And taxes paid by the company and by telephone people help make good schools, good roads, good governmental services.

Telephone service, telephone people and the telephone company together form a business that has grown with your community through the years. We pledge our continuing effort to make this community a fine place in which to live, work, and raise your family.

IT'S FOR YOU . . . A partner in the progress and growth of Minnesota . . . providing a service high in value, low in cost.

STASSEN
ANDERSON

For 16 years you have chosen for your leaders men of action. Men who have worked to bring progress and prosperity to you and your state.

You chose these four great leaders because they were typical Minnesotans—typical Americans.

- Each was born into a hard-working family of modest means
- Each helped to earn his own way through school
- Each in his own community showed qualities of great leadership
- Each was a man whose honesty had never been questioned—a man of vision—of sound moral principles—of unselfish devotion—of firm convictions and the courage to stand up and fight for them.

To these men you have entrusted your government—your tax money—your future. They have been faithful to that trust.

As your governor, each in turn made you this pledge:

- "We will treat every citizen alike."
- "We will spend your money as carefully as we do our own."
- "We will root out any corruption that may sneak into our state government."

Each has kept that pledge.

Three of these great Minnesotans have already been called to wider service. Through former Governors Stassen, Thye and Youngdahl you and your state today take part in the great councils of your country and of the world.

For 16 years these men have served your state and your country. They have been subjected to the bitter criticism that all public men have to take. Yet no one has ever questioned their personal honesty.

Today more than ever before your state and your country need men of integrity—men of vision—men of convictions—men of moral courage—men of unselfish devotion to their state and nation—MEN OF ACTION.

For 16 years you have chosen such men as your leaders. In 1954 the Republican party again offers you such men.

For your own sake—for Minnesota's sake—for your country's sake—

And you can have the Thunderbird with the transmission of your choice—Conventional, Overdrive, or new Speed-Trigger Fordomatic.

Ford's Ball-Joint Front Suspension not only velvet-cushions your ride, it also allows the Thunderbird to handle with utmost ease—to corner with greatest stability.

Proposed Amendments
Constitution of Minnesota

J. A. A. Burnquist, Attorney General
State Capitol, St. Paul, Minn.

March 15, 1954

Honorable Mrs. Mike Holm
Secretary of State
Dear Mrs. Holm:

Pursuant to Minnesota Statutes 1953, § 3.21, you are hereby furnished a statement of the purpose and effect of each of the following proposed amendments to the Constitution of the State of Minnesota. They are to be submitted to the voters for their approval or rejection at the November 2, 1954, general election as directed by Laws 1953, Chapters 759, 760, 761, and 762.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT RELATING TO PROBATE COURT JURISDICTION AND QUALIFICATIONS OF JUDGE

The only two existing sentences involved in the proposed amendment are those of art. 6, § 7 of the State Constitution, the first of which relates to the office of probate judge and the second to the jurisdiction of the probate court, which read as follows:

> "* * * It shall be held by one judge, who shall be elected by the voters of the county for the term of four years. * * * A probate court shall have jurisdiction over the estates of deceased persons and persons under guardianship, but no other jurisdiction, except as prescribed by this Constitution."

If the proposed amendment is adopted, the first provision above quoted will read as follows:

> "* * * It shall be held by one judge, whose qualifications may be established by law. The judge shall be elected by the voters of the county for a term of four years."

> "* * * A probate court shall have jurisdiction over the persons and estate, either or both, of persons under guardianship and over estates of deceased persons; and such further jurisdiction as the legislature may from time to time establish by a two-thirds vote."

The purpose of the amendment is to empower the legislature to prescribe by law the qualifications of a probate judge and, by a two-thirds vote, to extend the jurisdiction from time to time of the probate court. The effect of the adoption of the proposed amendment would be a change in the probate court section of the Constitution to enable the legislature to enact laws to prescribe the qualifications of the probate judge and, by a two-thirds vote, to extend the jurisdiction of the probate court.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT RELATING TO LIABILITY OF STOCKHOLDERS IN CERTAIN CORPORATIONS

This proposed amendment involves art. 10, § 3 of the State Constitution, which in its existing form reads as follows:

> "Sec. 3. The legislature shall have power from time to time to provide for, limit and otherwise regulate the liability of stockholders or members of corporations and cooperative corporations or associations, however organized. Provided every stockholder in a banking or trust corporation or association shall be individually liable in an amount equal to the amount of stock owned by him for all debts of such corporation contracted prior to any transfer of such stock and such individual liability shall continue for one year after any transfer of such stock and the entry thereof on the books of the corporation or association."

If amended as proposed, said section will read as follows:

> "Sec. 3. The legislature shall have power from time to time to provide for, limit and otherwise regulate the liability of stockholders or members of corporations and cooperative corporations or associations, however organized."

The purpose of the amendment is to delete from the section as it now exists the provision that "every stockholder in a banking or trust corporation or association shall be individually liable in an amount equal to the amount of stock owned by him for all debts of such corporation contracted prior to any transfer of such stock and such individual liability shall continue for one year after any transfer of such stock and the entry thereof on the books of the corporation or association". The effect of the adoption of the proposed amendment would be the termination of the specific individual liability of every stockholder in a banking or trust corporation or association in so far as the same exists by virtue of the above quoted § 3 of art. 10 of the State Constitution. However, the proposed amendment does not deprive the legislature of the power of enacting laws to provide for, limit, or otherwise regulate the liability of stockholders or members of a corporation or association, however organized.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT RELATING TO REVISION AND ADOPTION OF NEW STATE CONSTITUTION

This proposed amendment would add to art. 14 of the State Constitution a third section, which would read as follows:

> "Sec. 3. Any convention called to revise this constitution shall submit any revision thereof by said convention to the people of the State of Minnesota for their approval or rejection at the next general election held not less than 90 days after the adoption of such revision, and, if it shall appear in the manner provided by law that three-fifths of all the electors voting on the question shall have voted for and ratified such revision, the same shall constitute a new constitution of the State of Minnesota. Without such submission and ratification, said revision shall be of no force or effect. Section 9 of Article IV of the Constitution shall not apply to election of the convention."

The present Constitution does not provide that a revision by a convention shall be submitted to the people for approval or, if submitted, by what vote it shall be ratified. The purpose of the proposed amendment is to provide that a revision of the State Constitution by such convention shall be submitted to the people for their approval or rejection at the general election held not less than 90 days after the revision by the convention and that the affirmative vote of three fifths of all electors voting on the question shall be required for its adoption. The further purpose of the amendment is to provide that § 9 of art. 4 of the Constitution, which, among other provisions, forbids a member of the legislature from holding any other office during the time for which he is elected, shall not apply to the election of members of a constitutional convention.

The effect of the amendment, if adopted, will be the adding to art. 14 of the Constitution of a third section, which will provide that, before a convention revision of the Constitution shall go into effect, it shall be submitted to the people in manner above stated and be approved by three fifths of all electors voting thereon at the general election and further provide that a member of the legislature may serve as a member of the constitutional convention.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT RELATING TO FILLING VACANCIES IN ELECTIVE OFFICES BY GOVERNOR

The provision in art. 5, § 4 of the Constitution relating to the filling of such vacancies by the governor reads as follows:

> "* * * He shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed. fill any vacancy that may occur in the office of secretary of state, treasurer, auditor, attorney general, and such other state and district offices as may be hereafter created by law, until the next annual election, and until their successors are chosen and qualified."

If the proposed amendment is adopted, the provision in question will read as follows:

> "* * * He shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed. fill any vacancy that may occur in the office of secretary of state, treasurer, auditor, attorney general, and such other state and district offices as may be hereafter created by law, until the end of the term for which the person who had vacated the office was elected, or the first Monday in January following the next general election whichever is sooner, and until their successors are chosen and qualified."

The purpose of the amendment is to eliminate the so-called "short term" which prevails under the present Constitutional provision, as thereunder the appointment by the governor continues only until the next general election and until a successor is chosen and qualified. As, under the present provision, the person elected for the long term does not assume the office in question until the first Monday of January following the election, there is a short term between the general election and the first Monday in January following. The effect of the adoption of the proposed amendment will be to enable the person appointed by the governor to fill the vacancy to continue in office until the first Monday in January following the next general election.

Very truly yours,
J. A. A. BURNQUIST,
Attorney General

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Q—Is it possible to obtain additional Korean GI training allowance because I am supporting my parents? Or are the extra amounts limited only to married veterans?

A—It would be possible to obtain the higher rate of GI allowance if you are supporting your parents, and are single. They will have to fill out a VA form, "Statement of Dependency," which may be obtained at any VA office. You must submit a certified copy of the public record of your birth, or of the church record of your baptism.

Q—I want to study law under the Korean GI Bill. Would I be allowed to take a bar review course after I complete my college work?

A—Yes. On your application form, list "Lawyer" as your objective. And put down both "Bachelor of Laws degree" and "Bar Review Course" as your training program leading to the objective.

Q—A friend of mine is a totally and permanently disabled World War One veteran who is receiving an extra pension allowance because he needs regular aid and attendance of another person. He has just been admitted to a VA hospital. Will his extra allowance continue while he is hospitalized?

A—No. The higher pension rate for regular aid and attendance does not apply when the veteran is hospitalized by VA.

Q—Is it possible to get a loan on a GI term insurance policy?

A—No. A GI term insurance policy has no loan value. A GI permanent plan, on the other hand, does have loan value after it has been in effect for one year.

Liquor Vote Sought in Marshall County

Petitions calling for a vote thruout Marshall county to legalize liquor were presented Friday, Oct. 8th at the office of the county auditor, it was reported by Auditor Levi G. Johnson.

Representing the petitioners in making the presentation were Ken Nelson and Bob Fillipi, both of Warren. Auditor Johnson reported, according to his tabulations, the petition contained the signatures of 1967 voters.

According to legal interpretations of the law, in order to call for a county election on the liquor question, 25% of the voters who voted in the last gubernatorial election, must be represented by signers on the petition. In the 1952 gubernatorial election the total ballots cast in Marshall county were 7,040. Twenty five per cent of this total brings a figure 1,760. Accordingly, the petition contains 207 signers over the absolute minimum required to bring the issue to a vote thruout the county.

The figure may, however, be changed slightly should some of the signatures be incorrect or challanged. This contingency, Auditor Johnson reported, exists and could proably reduce the number of petitioners somewhat. But it would appear highly improbable, that with a margin of over 200 signatures to go on, enough opposition could be mustered to cast out the entire petition.

Legal requirements setting up the exact date for the election, after the presentation of the petition, reported the Auditor, are so involved that legal interpretation of the law will be required. Ordinarily the date would be set 90 days after the presentation of the petition, but if a general election falls within that period the picture is altered and a different law is applicable. Hence, at this time, no definite date for the election can as yet be set by the Auditor.

Mrs. Leonard, representing nearly nine million members of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, will appear as the principal speaker at the first evening session in St. Paul Auditorium.

Her subject, "The Responsibility of the PTA", will point up the convention theme of "Learning For Living" around which the three-day program will consider how well our schools, our homes and communities are preparing our young people for life.

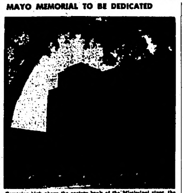
MAYO MEMORIAL TO BE DEDICATED



Towering high above the eastern bank of the Mississippi river, the new Mayo Memorial stands on the campus of the University of Minnesota as a monument to the memory of Drs. William J. and Charles H. Mayo who contributed so greatly to the advance of medicine in Minnesota and in the world.

Dedication ceremonies will be held Thursday and Friday, October 21 and 22, for this impressive, fourteen-story addition to the University's medical center. Tours of the building are scheduled from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on each of the two days. A dedication banquet will be held in Coffman Memorial Union at 6:30 p.m. Thursday. A series of lectures on the theme "Medical Education and Research: Freedom and Progress in Mid-Twentieth Century" will be presented in the Mayo Memorial auditorium throughout Thursday and Friday and will be open to the public.

The new Mayo Memorial represents a pledge and a living token of the determination of Minnesota's private citizens, medical men and elected officials to continue the lifelong effort of the Brothers Mayo to provide better medical care for all people.

'U' Mayo Memorial Dedicated Oct. 21

Huge Medical Structure to Be Research Center

Official dedication ceremonies for the new Mayo Memorial of the University of Minnesota Medical Center will be held Thursday and Friday (Oct. 21 and 22) with public tours, a two-day lecture program and a dedication banquet.

Dr. Leonard A. Scheele, surgeon general of the United States, will be the principal speaker for the U. S. Public Health Service at the banquet at 6:30 p. m. Friday in the main ballroom of Coffman Memorial Union.

Construction of the Mayo Memorial, a monument to the contributions of Dr. William J. and Charles H. Mayo toward the advance of the medical sciences, was begun in July 1950 with funds contributed during the previous six years by interested private citizens, the Minnesota Legislature and various health agencies. The Mayo brothers died in 1939 after achieving worldwide fame as surgeons.

Now dominating the University skyline is the 14-story tower of the new Mayo building. Facilities of the Memorial include classrooms, clinical and administrative offices, research laboratories, operating rooms, patient facilities, service departments, a 550-seat auditorium and a two-level underground garage with parking space for 200 cars. The building is connected with the existing University Hospitals by six-story wings. Together they form a complete medical center—virtually under a single roof—dedicated to furthering research, training and service in medicine.

The tours, which are slated for 10 a. m. to 1 p. m., will be open to the public. They will last for approximately one hour.

Good Vision Held First Necessity for Safe Hunting

That statement was made yesterday by Dr. Leo. A. Meyer, St. Paul, president of the Minnesota Optometric Association, as the first rash of accidents caused by carelessness and improper vision was noted with opening weeks of the hunting season. A good number of hunters opened the season — about 8 million throughout the nation, a high percentage of those in Minnesota.

Dr. Meyer emphasizes that a hunter's vision must meet unusually exacting requirements. "One of the many seeing problems of the hunters is that he must be able to focus and see easily at all distances from the rear sight of his gun, past the front sight and out to the target many yards ahead."

Gov. Anderson to Dedicate Warren School October 25

Open House Scheduled in Large New Building Next Sunday Afternoon

Plans for the dedication festivities for the new Warren high school building were revised slightly at a meeting of the board of education committee when it was decided to hold the open house at the school on Sunday, October 24 between the hours of 2 and 5 p. m., D. S. Elkenes, superintendent of schools, announced.

By holding the open house on Sunday afternoon, it was felt more Northwest residents would be given an opportunity to go through the modern structure, said Mr. Elkenes. Light refreshments will be served during the afternoon.

The formal dedication of the building will take place as scheduled on Monday, October 25 at 8 p. m. with the dedication address to be given by C. Elmer Anderson, governor of Minnesota. This will be Governor Anderson's first address in Warren.

BULLSEYES, FROM WHATEVER ANGLE

131 may not be a winning score in a bowling tournament, but it isn't bad for a lady bowler, and it's a mark of distinguished consistency when rolled three times in succession—the feat of Mrs. Carl Speak, North St. Paul.—George Holmes was dealt three fives and the jack of diamonds in an Ortonville cribbage game; that's right the 5 of diamonds was turned for that coveted perfect 29.—Uncle Sam did himself proud and a Minnesota newspaper man a distinct honor when he properly delivered to Walter K. Mickelson, publisher of the New Ulm Daily Journal, a letter from a Centennial fan, addressed to W. K. Ulm.

- President gave assurance that U. S. will not go to war without consent of Congress.
- Bipartisan foreign policy restored as result of more than 100 consultations with Congressional leaders of both parties.

Here's the 3-Way Bonus

BUICK BONUS — Record-making allowance in October

One look at the national sales figures tells you this: Buick is outselling every other car in America — regardless of price class — except two of the "low-priced three." And just to keep sales soaring - we're willing to give a whale of an allowance this month - to keep success rolling in high. So come in - get a car and a deal that are too good to miss.

BUICK BONUS — Higher resale value

Year after year, Buicks have always carried a high resale value. But the 1954 Buick has an even bigger edge in its year-ahead styling. It will still be fresh and new-looking when other '55 models come out. So the new Buick you buy today will keep you plenty of dollars ahead when you trade it in.

BUICK BONUS — Tomorrow's styling today

You can see it on every new Buick on the road—glamorous new-day styling keynoted by that broad panoramic windshield that most other cars won't have till 1955 or later. And with this advanced styling, you get Buick's record-high V8 power, luxurious room and comfort, that famed Million Dollar Ride—and all for prices that start just a few dollars above those of the so-called "low-price three." Result: Buick is now outselling all other cars in America except two of these "low price three"!

The spectacular 200 hp Buick Century—America's highest horsepower per dollar car—and priced next to Buick's lowest.

Buick Sales are Soaring

In A Legislative Body
SENIORITY and EXPERIENCE ARE VALUABLE
Both to the Individual Member and to the District He Represents

In the State Senate I have excellent committee assignments, with membership on the following standing committees:

Finance, Education, Public Welfare, Highways, Municipal Affairs, Liquor Control, Civil Defense, Dairy Products and Livestock

I also am chairman of the Committee on Towns and Counties, to which is referred legislation effecting township and county government. During the past five sessions I have also served as chairman on a special Senate committee on Claims.

With one exception these are busy committees that meet regularly. Most of the work of a member of the Legislature is in committee. That is where most questions are decided, and that is why good committee assignments are helpful to effective representation.

THE MINNESOTA STORY

Prepared by the

THESE WERE THE FIRST

The Minnesota Historical Society has records which give the names of nearly all of those who early came to Minnesota. In later years that record is found in the census reports. But long before the establishment of government in Minnesota and the first census of the territory, many hardy people came into the great area which was later to become the state.

The records of the fur trading companies describe the various posts of the very early days, the appearance and facilities at the outlying stockades and give the names of many who were employed. In 1830 traders were licensed by the military authorities and for this very early day there are the names of many of the first men in.

Among the licensed traders with the Chippewas are found the names of five men, Lyman Warren, William Aitkin, W. Davenport, John H. Fairbanks and B. F. Baker. The Fairbanks name is quite a common one among the Chippewas of today. Aitkin county was named after this early trader.

At important places on the rivers and among the lakes other traders were licensed in 1830. Alfred Aitkin was the trader at Lake Winnibigoshish. At Cass Lake was to be found one J. Ermatinger. Leech lake had two traders, Pierre Cotu and G. Bungo. Mills Lacs had four men licensed to trade. They were J. Belanger, Charles Chabattio, Allan Morrison and J. B. Roy.

It is probably true that these men may well be considered the first citizens of record in the whole Chippewa country which then comprised more than half of the area of later Minnesota.

OLD DAIRY TROUBLES

The pioneer dairy farmers of Minnesota were having their troubles eighty years ago. There was a surplus of butter and cheese on the Minnesota market. Prices were very low. There was complaint that some of the difficulty in butter was due to the increasing use of oleomargarine.

All of this appears in a story of the development of the dairy industry as it was written by Merrill Jarchow and presented in the quarterly publications of the Minnesota Historical Society.

The first substantial markets for Minnesota dairy products appeared in the early 1870ies. There was demand for Minnesota cheese and butter in New York and California. Dairy products could be put onto the market at less transportation cost than gain and beef. Before the seventies, butter was made on the farms and it was not of uniformly good quality. The increased production depressed the market at about the same time that the panic of the middle 1870ies depressed the country. Butter sold for five and seven cents a pound and cheese was proportionately low.

By 1880 Minnesota had 49 cheese factories. At about that time creameries came into existence and a better product resulted. In 1883 there were 70 creameries in Minnesota. The dairy industry received a large amount of support in its early efforts to diversify agriculture and the arguments of those times did much to establish the great dairy industry of today.

FINNS IN THE SOUTH

Contrary to the general impression, the first Finnish settlers in Minnesota did not go into the north and wooded country. This interesting fact is set out by John Kolehmainen in a study of migration of the Finnish people, published ten years ago by the Minnesota Historical Society.

The first permanent Finnish settlements in Minnesota were established in 1865 at Franklin in Renville county and in 1866 at Holmes City in Douglas county. At about the same time the Finns appeared near Cokato. These early settlements were led by men who had gone to both St. Peter and Red Wing in 1864.

By 1879 there were 450 Finnish people near Cokato. They had cleared 1500 acres of land and owned 126 oxen, 231 cows and 56 horses.

The Finnish people came from other states and from their homes across the ocean. They moved northward as their numbers increased. In 1873 they were found near Brainerd and two years later they began the very prosperous and permanent settlement at New York Mills. At about the same time they started settlements along the Kettle River and in St. Louis county with its logging and mining industries. By 1930 there were more than 20,000 Finnish people in Minnesota and more than half of them in St. Louis county.

URANIUM BRINGS FORTUNE . . . Walter C. Barnes, 36, looks for uranium at mine near Bakersfield, Calif., where he and five partners found "hot rocks" which will earn them $1,000,000.

Guardsmen Compete for New Orleans Trip

Twenty-seven Minnesota guardsmen will see the Sugar Bowl Game in New Orleans, Louisiana on January 1. The twenty-seven fortunate men will make the round trip by air as a reward for their efforts in the statewide recruiting campaign now under way and which continues until December 4.

Twelve of the guardsmen making the trip to New Orleans will be selected in six drawings to be conducted by various units throughout the state. Every guardsman who obtains an enlistment during the campaign is eligible for the drawings, according to the contest rules announced by the adjutant general's office in St. Paul. "Every man get a man", is the theme for the campaign which has created much enthusiasm among guardsmen in Minnesota.

The other of the Sugar Bowl viewers will be the top recruiters selected from the men who secure the greatest number of enlistments during the campaign.

Units attaining a strength of 100 or more men during the campaign will be awarded membership in a Minnesota Guard organization known as the "Century Club"; those units that attain full strength during the campaign will be awarded bronze plaques for their achievement. Units surpassing the recruiting quotas assigned will be recognized with certificates of merit.

It is expected that the recruiting drive now under way will increase guard strength in Minnesota by 1880 men bringing the total strength of Minnesota Guard units to approximately 9000 men by December 4.

N. W. County Agent Leader Promoted

Roland Abraham Named Asst. Extension Director

Roland H. Abraham, district county agent supervisor for Minnesota's northwestern counties since 1952, Saturday was named assistant director of the University of Minnesota's agricultural extension service.

Announcement came from the University's board of regents. Abraham succeeds Skuli H. Rutford, former assistant director last month.

As assistant director, Abraham will act as liason between extension and state and federal agencies and help in the development of the state extension program.

Born in Olivia, Renville county, Abraham is 41 and a 1938 graduate "with distinction" from the University. He began his extension career in 1938 as assistant Marshall county agent at Warren. In 1939, he was named Big Stone county agent at Ortonville and on January 1, 1942, he was appointed Jackson county agent at Lakefield where he remained until being chosen northwest district county agent supervisor in 1952.

Acknowledged one of Minnesota's leading young agents, Abraham won recognition as a livestock authority, helping develop many lamb feeding shows, beef tours, swine institutes and similar events to show farmers improved feeding and management methods.

He holds a master's degree in public administration from Harvard university, granted him in the spring of 1951. During his year's study under a Carnegie fellowship at Harvard, he was on leave for 18 months from the University staff.

A Little Bit of Heaven

Look into her eyes. I see no anguish, no worry, no fear of what tomorrow will bring. I see faith, pure and shining.

Look into her eyes. I see the peace our world longs for. I see joy and happiness. I see God's hand upon her.

Look into her eyes. I see love and trust and hope. I see a child of God.

O little child, I look into those eyes, and I hear our Lord say: "Unless you become as little children you shall not enter into the Kingdom of God."

Let us go to Church this Sunday. Let us pray for child-like faith. Let us bring a little bit of Heaven to our world.

There will be no parade of cars hauling voters to the Polls this year. At the City Election a year ago a request was made to the City Attorney for a statement as to the legality of this traffic. He came up promptly with the answer that it is a violation for groups to furnish free transportation and the cars were pulled off the streets at 2 P. M. that day.

I have never thought nor said that Don Olson at the election 4 years ago had any part in the slanderous, whispering cruel personal campaign waged against me then.

However that seemed to do the trick and Don was elected.

At the organization meeting on Jan. 2, 1951 Olson made a motion which was passed that the Board recind the action made at a Board meeting Aug. 9, 1950 that $28,500 was offered the School Board for the Central School grounds for Court House Site.

Every member of the School Board agreed to call an election to let every voter express thru his vote what he wished to have done with this property which solely belongs to the taxpayers in Dist. No. 18.

By the passing of that resolution, Don Olson has clearly shown that he did not intend to let the voters have their say but took the advice of a few individuals who want to be the dictators.

When Don became Chairman in 1952 he and another County official refused to have the minutes of the meetings read.

This is a deliberate violation of the law which requires minutes to be read at every meeting. The only exception is when a member makes a motion for suspension and this must be seconded and passed.

There is a serious doubt whether or not there was any motion made for designating the present Court House site as the permanent one at the Board meeting on June 5th, 1951.

Here is why it looks pretty fishy. One member was absent out of town. 2nd member says positively there was no motion made while he was in the room, and a third says that if there was a motion made he did not vote for it, leaving only two including Olson who could have voted for it. There was no roll call.

HI FOLKS!

I would like very much to call on you folks in Thief River Falls and Pennington County personally in order to get your ideas and to state my personal ideas on State and National legislation. It is impossible to see you all so I am taking this means to set out my past record and to ask for your support and vote on November 2.

We are just plain folks, you and I, most of us were born in Pennington County. Labor — Farmer — And the Business man, living and doing business here, we are all striving for a same living. What is good for one should be good for all. To the laboring man. I wish to state that I have been and am a life long farmer but I have also worked out for a living. I know labor problems. My record can be checked, with my past as State President of the Farmers' Union and Labor Organizations and you will find that I have always done everything that I possibly could to promote legislation favorable to labor. To the Farmer, you Farmers should know my views as I have been around the last 20 years spouting off at meetings of all kinds and types. However, as you know, I was raised from childhood on a farm by Goodridge where I farm now. I have been and still am active in most of the local organization, township, church, school, and other farm organizations. I understand farm problems and will if elected do all that possibly can be done to hold the line on 100% Parity and other farm problems favorable to the farmer. To businessmen, to you, the businessmen of our County, you and I are living in a farm area. We the Farmer Laborer Businessman living here are all one large family getting our living all from the same source; our problems are the same. The Betterment of the Farmer and Laborer would be to your betterment and I am asking for your vote and support as any legislation that I am instrumental in promoting favoring farmers and labor in this community would also favor the businessman.

This is not idle promises as people who know me know that I do not make promises and then break them. I am no politician, just one of you folks, a plain dirt farmer from Goodridge, Minnesota.

Halloween Festival for Children of TRF Community Saturday

Youngsters of Thief River Falls and the surrounding community will be guests of the local Lions club at its traditional community Halloween festival, scheduled this year on Saturday afternoon and evening, October 30.

Children of all ages from pre-kindergarten thru high school are invited to share in the program, which, according to Sig Quam, appointed by Lions President M. D. Starekow, to serve as general chairman, will follow the plan of last year's festival, except that there will be no window-painting contest this year as a result of several windows having been broken last year due to the sun shining on the paint-covered glass.

The first event Saturday will be a free movie show in Lincoln high school auditorium at 2 p. m. for youngsters of pre-kindergarten age thru the third grade. Treats will be distributed following the program by a committee headed by Neal Fox.

A highlight of the festival will be the annual costume parade, which will start from the arena promptly at 7 o'clock and end at the Lincoln auditorium where prizes will be awarded for the most original costumes. In charge of the parade is a committee headed by Dr. W. P. Kaisler and Dr. O. D. Beich.

The evening's festivities will close with a teen-age dance in the National Guard armory for high school students, starting at 9 p. m. Bob Carlson is chairman of the dance committee, with Walt Kavanaugh in charge of decorating and Ernest Johnson arranging for refreshments.

Council Lets North Water and Sewer Job

Huge Project to Cost Total of $91,818, Close to Advance Estimates

The city council, at an adjourned session Tuesday evening, awarded contracts for a large sewer and water main project for the area north of Eleventh st. which was annexed to the city a few years ago.

Lyons Construction Co. of Grand Rapids, on its low bid of $67,768.49, was given the contract to install 15½ blocks of sewer mains and ten blocks of water mains, in addition to service connections. The contract to install the necessary sewer lift was awarded to Barbarossa and Son, Inc., of St. Cloud on its low bid of $24,050.

Total cost of the project thus will be $91,818.49, in addition to engineering costs. City Engineer Douglas Stewart had estimated that the project, without service connections, would cost approximately $76,800. Adding the expense of service connections, he said, would bring the cost estimate up to about $89,000, which is not far from the successful bids.

In awarding the contract for water mains, the council chose an alternate calling for the use of Transite asbesto cement pipe instead of cast iron. While the cost of the material installed is about the same as cast iron, Transite pipe has the advantage of being free from corrosion. Stewart and Harold Johnson, water department superintendent, both reported that the city has had favorable experience with Transite on previous installations.

Bids of the Barbarossa and Lyons firms were exceedingly close on the mains and sewer lift, their total bids being only a little more than $100 apart. A third bid, that of John Dieseth Co. of Fergus Falls totaled $101,307.20.

The contracts as awarded call for work to start on the mains next May and for completion before November 1, while the sewer lift contract calls for completion by June 1, 1955.

Engineer Stewart informed the council he had been advised that the state highway department is prepared to improve the surfacing of Main av. starting north from about Ninth st. The department, he said, would bear most of the cost. Stewart was instructed to secure the necessary forms and further details.

Roy Langevin, building inspector, told of plans of the Pure Oil Co. to erect a new service station on the site of its station on Main av. S. recently destroyed by fire. The council indicated that it would approve permit at its next regular meeting.

Candidates Ending Drives with Election Day Set for Tuesday

Alfred Solem Gets Purebred Buck

The Solems now farm 600 acres in Excel and are making Columbia sheep and Angus cattle their main projects. They now have 130 purebred Columbia ewes and intend to build their flock up to about 200. There are 40 purebreds in their present herd of Angus cattle and this will be increased to a herd of about 50.

They have moved into these projects gradually and are now far along to be making rapid progress. It was slow going to start with Mr. Solem remembers.

Lively Campaign Draws to a Close; Polls Open in City 7 a. m. to 8 p. m.

Candidates for state, local and congressional offices this week are putting the final effort into their campaigns previous to the general election next Tuesday, November 2.

Based on DFL strength shown in the September primary, together with rural dissatisfaction with the farm program of Ezra T. Benson, secretary of agriculture, DFL leaders express confidence that they will make inroads on the Republicans, both in Minnesota and nationally.

The Republicans, on the other hand, are making a hard fight to retain control of the state administration, in GOP hands for nearly 20 years; and on a national basis to retain its majority in Congress so that President Eisenhower may continue to carry out his program.

In Thief River Falls the polls will be open in the municipal auditorium next Tuesday from 7 a. m. until 8 p. m., and in the rural areas of the county voting also will continue until 8 o'clock.

Harold C. Hagen, veteran GOP representative in Congress from the Ninth district, is opposed for reelection by Mrs. Coya Knutson of Oklee, and both are winding up energetic campaigns.

In the statewide races, most interest has been centered on the contest for U. S. senator between Hubert H. Humphrey, DFL, incumbent, and State Treasurer Val Bjornson, his GOP opponent; and the battle for the governorship between C. Elmer Anderson, GOP incumbent, and Orville Freeman, DFL.

A good deal of interest also is being shown in the contests for the state legislature in the 65th district, embracing Pennington, Red Lake and Clearwater counties. W. E. Dahlquist, incumbent, is opposed in the senate race by Roy E. Wiseth of Goodridge.

Candidates for the two posts as state representative from this district include Walter E. Day of Bagley, veteran incumbent; E. M. Wichterman of Plummer;

Sen. Humphrey and Freeman Talk Here

Address Large Crowd on Street Last Wednesday

Several hundred people assembled late last Wednesday morning on Second st. at Horace av. to hear talks by DFL candidates who visited this city in the course of a tour of this section of the state.

Principal speakers, who were introduced by Roy E. Wiseth, were Senator Hubert H. Humphrey, seeking reelection, and Orville Freman, DFL candidate for governor.

Humphrey delivered a scathing attack on the present national administration, and called attention to his own record in the senate during the past six years. The government, he said, is for all the people, and he is on the side of Santa Claus rather than Scrooge.

Freeman attacked the record of Governor C. Elmer Anderson, and criticized the operation of the state conservation and highway departments. He also accused the present state administration of favoring the enactment of a sales tax.

CO-INCIDENTALLY

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Jante, Evansville, are on the way to some sort of record. A daughter, Eileen, was born October 1, 1949; she was joined by a baby sister, Shirley, October 1, 1953; on October 1, 1954 along came Baby Brother David.—When Oliver Truesdell's "appendix moved out" 19 of his neighbors "moved in"; the Manyaska farmer's operation interrupted his fall work, which kindly neighbors completed. — Without a word of thanks a woman walked out of a Fairmont filling station where the attendant, Duane Wickert, had returned a purse she left in the washroom containing $1,100. — David Polman and Raymond Ebnet, 10-year-old Milroy schoolmates, not only go to school together, play together, work together, but they go to the hospital together; within minutes after David entered a Marshall hospital for an appendectomy, Raymond was checked in for the same purpose.

Jr. High Chorus to Offer "Emperor's Nightingale"

Local residents are invited to watch such a transformation on Tuesday evening, November 9, in the Lincoln high school auditorium, when the junior high school chorus presents the operetta, "The Emperor's Nightingale."

The plot of this operetta is based on a fairy tale by the greatest of all story tellers, the Danish author, Hans Christian Anderson. Helen Windsor has woven into the story many delightful songs with a Chinese flavor which help bring to life happenings in the court of the emperor of Cathay. The emperor, prime minister, music master, and chorus, plus two nightingales, will help one another unfold the plot.

There will be no advance sale of tickets.

At a well atended meeting of the Civic and Commerce association last Thursday evening in the Elks club rooms, Rudy Larson showed excellent colored movies taken by him of the recent 50th anniversary parade and pageant. The parade pictures showed up well despite the handicap of being taken at night under floodlights, and the views of the pageant were outstanding.

Homer Matheson, Grand Forks accountant, was the guest speaker. He chose for his topic the new income tax law enacted this year, which he said was the first complete overhaul of the act in history. He pointed out numerous changes in the law affecting individuals and business firms, and stated that the date for filing returns has been changed from March 15 to April 15.

Randall Noper announced that plans were under way for the establishment by Ded Seefeldt and Kenneth Berg of a much-needed trailer court on a six-acre tract in the southeast corner of the city.

County Agent Wm. Penning thanked the C. and C. membership for its cooperation in the successful ram sale held at the arena October 18.

V. C. Noper, who assisted in welcoming the huge throngs of visitors from Winnipeg and the Thief River Falls community at a Sunday morning breakfast in the Eagles auditorium October 10, declared that this was one of the most appreciated events ever staged by the C. and C. association. Noper, who now lives at Hot Springs, Arkansas, the greater part of the year, also got in a plug for his new home town.

Political Roundup

By Arthur Naftalin

National observers are virtually unanimous in predicting Democratic control of Congress, with a likely margin ranging from 45 to 80, depending on the size of the Democratic trend. As election day approaches observers lean, too, towards predicting a Democratic Senate, with a margin of from one to six.

In Minnesota the opinion polls and observations of the experts all favor the re-election of Senator Hubert H. Humphrey by a comfortable margin, with the Congressional and statewide contests heading for a tossup scramble, which could result in substantial Democratic-Farmer-Labor gains.

Humphrey's Margin Crucial

Th crucial factor in the Minnesota election is the size of Humphrey's margin over State Treasurer Val Bjornson, the GOP nominee. If Humphrey should win by a 200,00 margin (He won by 243,693 in 1948), he would very likely sweep in with him the entire statewide ticket and at least two additional Congressmen over the four now held by the DFL.

A breakdown of two recent Minnesota Polls indicates that, as of the time of the polling, Humphrey's margin was closer to 170,000. This is based on an estimated turnout of 1,200,000 voters, which would be a relatively larger off-Presidential year vote than is customary but which seems indicated by the large primary vote this year.

In September there were 642,006 votes cast in the Minnesota primary, which was only 10,000 votes less than in the 1952 primary and in that year the general election total was 1,460,326. Thus, an estimate of 1,200,000 for this year does not seem unreasonable.

Leads by 15 points

The most recent Minnesota Poll gave Humphrey 56 per cent of the total of those who expected to vote next Tuesday, with 41 per cent for Bjornson and the other 3 per cent undecided or refusing to say. Barring a sudden and dramatic shift, Humphrey would seem, on the basis of the poll, to have an unusually strong lead.

Humphrey's margin is reinforced by several other factors. For one thing he is shown as having 60 per cent of the male vote as compared with Bjornson's 36 per cent, and men are known to vote in larger percentage than are women, thus the Humphrey margin may be higher than the 56-41 division. Also, if the Democratic trend is as strong as many observers claim, this means that more DFL'ers will vote than customarily and this can send the Humphrey total up even more.

Anderson, Freeman Close

As election day approaches the margin between Governor C. Elmer Anderson and his Democratic opponent, Orville L. Freeman, has narrowed to the point where the experts regard this race as exceptionally close, although the Minnesota Poll indicates that Anderson has, again based on a 1,200,000 vote, as of the time of polling a margin of 64,000.

The latest poll gave Anderson 51 per cent to Freeman's 45 per cent, with the rest undecided or refusing to say. An interesting point here, too, however, is the fact that 50 per cent of the male voters favored Freeman as compared with 46 per cent for Anderson.

Congressional Shift

If the Democratic trend is as strong as many observers believe, the DFL will not only hold the four Congressional seats it now has, but it stands a strong chance of winning in at least the Seventh District where Judge Douglas P. Hunt is challenging Representative H. Carl Andersen. In fact, some pollsters have already written this district off as lost to the Republicans.

The next best bet for DFL gains is presumably the Ninth District where Mrs. Coya Knutson, of Oklee, is challenging Representative Harold Hagen. Hagen's margin of 25,000 votes of two years ago would seem to put him out of danger, but the persistent reports from this district are to the effect that he faces the battle of his political life.

In the midst of their optimism, however, DFL'ers are worried about the Third District, where Representative Roy W. Wier is locked in a tough fight with his Republican challenger, Ed Willow. Experts say the DFL could win big over the state, and still lose this seat.

Legislature Up, Too

Lost in the excitement over the big contests are the 198 elections for seats in the state house and senate. The nonpartisan nature of these elections makes it difficult to analyze possible trends but it is not unlikely that liberals may amass sufficent strength in next Tuesdays' election to take control of the house. They can make gains in the senate, too, but not enough to take control of the upper house.

FHA Chapter Carries on Diet Experiment

Jon Metusalem, Lincoln high school agriculture instructor, and Mrs. Margaret Race, school nurse, are shown above holding two of ten white rats being used by the local Future Farmers of America chapter in a nutrition experiment financed by the Thief River Falls Dairy club.

The ten rats, Metusalem explained, are being raised in pairs, one of which is fed a balanced diet and the other an incomplete diet. The purpose of the experiment, which will continue for eight weeks, is to teach the students the value of a proper diet, emphasizing the importance of dairy products in human life. This practical demonstration is designed to supplement book learning.

Other instructors assisting with the project are John Eisbrener, Philip Beadle, Miss Edna Tandberg and Miss Olga Bloomaness.

ago, a committee had investigated rest homes operated by Wadena county at Wadena and by Becker and Clay counties at Lake Park. They reported on their findings at Monday's meeting, indicating that the homes were found to be largely self sustaining.

Appointed on a committee to make preliminary plans for the new rest home were Carl R. Anderson, representing the Pennington county board; Andy Erickson, Roseau county; Les Grange, Marshall county; and Omer Houle, Red Lake county.

A joint meeting of the Oakland Park and Sunnyrest sanatorium boards has been set for next Wednesday, November 3, at which time further details will be worked out in connection with the transfer of patients from the local institution to Crookston.

1955 Chevrolets Shown Thursday at Northern Chev. Co.

Lower Body Lines and Entirely New V-8 Motor Features of New Models

The new 1955 Chevrolet models featuring pronounced mechanical advances and a complete re-styling of bodies will go on display Thursday at the Northern Chevrolet company in Thief River Falls.

Alvin Holzknecht, manager, stated that a registration will be conducted Thursday, Friday and Saturday for $100 in merchandise certificates.

All roofs on the new models have been lowered with a corresponding reduction in hood and belt lines to accentuate a longer, fleeter appearance. Overall, sedans have been lowered two and one half inches, station wagons as much as six. At the same time, passenger room has been increased.

First V8 engine is offered on a Chevrolet in 35 years. Profiting by recent research in combustion and manufacturing techniques, the V8 is unveiled as precisely built and efficient in performance. Named the "Turbo-Fire V8," the V8 delivers 162 horsepower.

Higher horsepower ratings and new smoothness are promised in two "Blue Flame" sixes. Engines are of the traditional valve-in-head design, which in the last few years won virtually 100 per cent acceptance by other makes.

Brand new among 14 bodies on the One-Fifty, Two-Ten and Bel Air series are two door station wagons. The complete line up shows two and four door sedans in all series, two-door station wagons in the One-Fifty and Two-Ten, four-door station wagons in the Two-Ten and Bel Air, a utility sedan in the One-Fifty, a club coupe in the Two-Ten and sport and convertible coupes in the Bel Air series.

Even more appealing colors than the array of 1954 are available. Of 14 solid color options, ten are new. All 21 of the two tone paint combinations are new except one.

State High Court Justices Backed by Local Lawyers

Attorneys Endorse Dell, Knutson, Gallagher and M. A. Nelson Candidacies

The terms of Chief Justice Roger L. Dell of Fergus Falls and Associate Justices Thomas Gallagher of Minneapolis, Oscar R. Knutson of Warren and Martin A. Nelson of Austin, will expire this year. All are candidates to succeed themselves. Only two, Chief Justice Dell and Associate Justice Knutson have opposition.

In a recent poll of all lawyers in the state, both Dell and Knutson were overwhelmingly endorsed. No vote was taken on the other two justices who have no opposition. The result of this poll was:

For Chief Justice Dell	2,250
For his opponent	122
For Assoc. Justice Knutson	2,184
For his opponent	173

Local lawyers direct public attention to the fact that the present Justices by virtue of their training, many years of judicial and legal experience, educational background and their demonstrated fairness and impartiality are best qualified to serve in these important positions.

Eggs Freeze Successfully

Since this is the season of high egg production, freezing a few of the surplus eggs might be a good idea. Freezing is a good way, also, to keep those extra whites you have on hand or to preserve the yolks you have no immediate use for after making an angel cake. They will keep well for six to 12 months.

Freeze only fresh, good quality eggs. Eggs can be placed directly into containers for freezing; they need no special processing. Egg yolks, however, are usually tough and cheesy when thawed after freezing, so it is necessary to add salt, sugar or corn syrup to yolks or whole eggs which are to be frozen.

Use a fork to break the yolks and stir the mixture slightly but do not beat. Add ½ teaspoon sugar or syrup per egg yolk or whole egg, or 1 teaspoon of salt per 12 yolks or 5 whole eggs.

Glass jars, waxed cartons or metal cans are all suitable containers for freezing eggs. Label each container with date, number of eggs, and amount of sugar or salt added. Whole eggs may be mixed according to the above directions, frozen separately in paper baking cups and then stored in a plastic bag.

One standard cup equals five whole eggs, 12 yolks or eight whites.

Tips on Freezing Cakes

It's a problem to wrap a frosted cake for freezing. It will help to freeze the cake first, and then wrap it. After it's frozen, put it into a box, then wrap the box with moisture-vapor-proof paper. Thaw it in the wrapping to prevent drying out.

Fudge frostings and powdered sugar frosting freeze well. However, a frosted cake will not keep as long in a freezer as an unfrosted cake.

The recruiting drive is still under way, but the Company still finds itself short of its goal. Remember all men reaching the age of 18 years finds himself with a eight year obligation to his country. Why not drop down and talk to us about it? Maybe we can help you decide how you plan to fulfill this obligation.

The October 18 meeting was used in moving equipment form the Auditorium to the Armory, instead of the regular training. This didn't seem to make any of the boys unhappy and most equipment got moved.

Easy on the pocketbook
The more grain you can feed to your hens, the less out-of-pocket cash is needed for egg mash.
That's why the Archer Poultry Balancer feeding plan makes such good sense. Here's a plan that's really easy on the pocketbook. For example, with a 20% mash, you need two parts grain to two parts egg mash. With Archer Poultry Balancer you need only one part Balancer to THREE parts of grain.
In other words, you need only about half as much supplement when you buy Archer Poultry Balancer. Buy a supply. It's economical . . . and it's a work-saver because it's made for free-choice feeding.

Softly lighted by a brilliant sun shining through the new stained glass windows at the beautiful Assumption Catholic Church at Florian, the wedding of Miss Beverly Blaze of Strandquist and Raymond Gajeski was solemnized at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday, Oct. 19th in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives. Rev. Fr. Patnode of Thief River Falls was the officiating clergyman and the church choir furnished the music. Baskets of fall flowers decorated the front of the church.

The wedding procession entered to organ music and was led by Miss Barbara Blazejewski, cousin of the bride, as maid of honor. She was followed by bridesmaids, Delores Gajeski, sister of the groom, and Janice Johnson, a close friend. They wore gowns of hunter green, old gold and American Beauty shantung, strapless with jackets of shantung, bouffant skirts with net nylon over skirts and hooped petticoats.

Large bows of self material formed bustle effects in the back and headdresses of shirred shantung matched the gowns. They wore their gifts from the bride, triple strand rhinestone chokers and bracelets and carried crescent shaped bouquets of white mums and yellow roses.

Nylon and scalloped lace formed the gown for the beautiful bride who was escorted to the alter by her father. The bodice was of lace with sheer yoke and lace Mandarin collar. The long sleeves of net were pointed and fastened with rows of delicate lace covered buttons and a long row of the same extended down the back of the gown. The full skirt was made of two layers of nylon net over heavy ivory satin and a peplum of net and lace ended in a bustle in the back. The double net fingertip veil fastened into a beaded crown, and she wore her wedding gift from the groom, a double strand rhinestone bracelet and earrings. She also carried out the traditional "something old and something new, something borrowed and something blue." Her crescent bouquet was of orchid mums and yellow roses.

Preceding the bride down the aisle was little Timothy Mankowski, in a dark suit, who carried the rings for the double ring ceremony on a white satin, lace edged pillow.

Virgean Blazejewski was the flower girl. Her gown was of deep rose and she strewed rose petals along the bridal path from a flower bedecked straw basket. They are cousins of the bride and groom, respectively.

All the men wore tuxedos and white boutonnieres. Best man was Rudolph Gajeski, brother of the groom, and groomsmen were two friends, Evald Kaljava and Edmund Borowicz. Frank Gajeski and Ludvig Donarski ushered. The bride presented the groom with a set of cuff links and the groom gave his attendants cuff links and tie clasps.

Mrs. Blaze, mother of the bride and Mrs. Gajeski mother of the groom, were both attired in grey suits with floral corsages and navy accessories.

A bridal luncheon was served in the church parlors following the ceremony and in the evening a large number of friends and relatives were guests at a wedding dinner. A large reception and dance were held in the Florian hall in the evening. Mrs. Stanley Chwialkowski, aunt of the groom, cut the beautifully decorated wedding cake and Jeanne Nelson and the groom's sister-in-law, Mrs. Leonard Gajeski, assisted with the gifts and guest book. The waitresses were cousins and friends of the couple.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Blaze of Strandquist and is a 1953 graduate of the high school there. She has since been employed with the Bell Telephone Company at Thief River Falls and will continue to work there. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gajeski of Aurora, Minn., formerly of Florian, and he attended the rural school at Florian. He is employed by Raymond Hougard of Stephen as a trucker.

Those who came from a distance were Mrs. Chester Mankowski and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Casale of Duluth, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gajeski, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gajeski and Lynnette and Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Borowicz of Aurora, Minn.; Mrs. Mary Wild and Clarence Otto of Ardock, N. Dak., James Hurd of Bemidji and Ken Johnson of Bagley.

The young couple are spending a week's honeymoon in Wisconsin Dells, Milwaukee, Chicago and on the North Shore. On their return they will reside in the Mousley apartments in Thief River Falls.

The Prowlers will conclude their 1954 schedule on Friday night when they play coach Al Drown's Crookston Pirates in a 31st district conference game on Crookston's Highland Park field. A win for the locals would give coach Skjod's team the district title, while a loss would drop the Prowlers into a first-place tie with the Pirates.

Friday night's Prowlers vs. Lumberjacks tilt was decided by the superior pass defense of the Bemidji club. Two of the Bemidji touchdowns were the direct result of pass interceptions, with Jack Whiting returning one of the pass interceptions for a touchdown, and the other interception gave the Lumberjacks possession on the Prowler 41-yard line, from where, a pass, from Whiting to Darrel Erickson, scored the Jacks' first touchdown.

The Prowlers, after stopping a Bemidji threat on the Prowler 20-yard line in the first period, moved down to midfield by picking up a pair of first downs. Gaining five yards in three plays, the Prowlers kicked to Ross Fortier, who was downed on the Bemidji 25-yard line. Bemidji, failing to gain, and being assessed a 15-yard holding penalty, were forced to kick, with the Prowlers taking over on their 38-yard line. Mark Bjorkmon gained a yard at left tackle, and then Whiting intercepted a short over-the-line pass on the Prowlers' 41-yard line. Whiting, fading back to his right, tossed a pass to Darrel Erickson, who was in the clear on the Prowler 35-yard line, and Erickson sprinted down the north side-line and crossed the east goal-line with the game's first touchdown. The try for the point, on a pass, was incomplete and the Jacks led, 6 to 0.

Bemidji picked up their second touchdown when, midway in the second period, Whiting knifed through the line to block Vraa's kick, with Dale Lauderbaugh recovering on the Prowler 11-yard line. The scrimmage line had been on the Prowler 40-yard stripe.

Whiting threw a pass to Lauderbaugh and which was completed n the end zone for the touchdown. Following that touchdown the Prowlers made their most serious drive of the game, picking up three first downs, with Froehle piling thru the line for consistent gains, to the Bemidji 31-yard line. Three plays carried to the Jacks' 22-yard line, and on a fourth down play, Vraa stumbled and was downed at the scrimmage line with Bemidji gaining possession.

On the first play from scrimmage in the fourth period, with the ball in possession of the Prowlers on the Prowlers 31-yard line, Whiting intercepted a pass and side-stepped down the south side-line and crossed the east goal line for a touchdown. A pass, from Whiting to Fortier, added the point, giving Bemidji a 19 to 0 lead.

A long-pass play, which carried from the Bemidji 32-yard line to the Prowlers 10-yard stripe, set up the final Bemidji score. From the Bemidji 32-yard line, third down and 20 to go, Whiting heaved a long pass down the field and, on a nifty catch, Lyle Schmickle made the catch and was downed on the Prowler 10 yard line. Four plays gave the Jacks a score, with Dick Carter driving over from the 1 foot line for the six pointer. A place-kick try for the point was blocked.

In the final minute of the play, the Prowlers, on a pair of passes, from Vraa to Sauve, and from Vraa to Jones, carried to the Bemidji 21-yard line, with the locals running out of time before they could run off any more plays.

'U' M. Now Selling Milk at Gopher Football Games

The University of Minnesota is offering milk for sale in automatic merchandising machines on the campus and at athletic events, President J. L. Morrill of the "U" today advised Rep. Harold C. Hagen of Crookston.

Hagen wrote Dr. Morrill on October 9 calling his attention to the fact that crowds of 60,000 at football games could not get milk, since none was offered for sale. Hagen suggested that milk be made available, with signs notifying the public of its availability in order to help create a consumers market, which, Hagen wrote, is the "ultimate solution of our surpluses."

Dr. Morrill wrote Hagen that the milk sale plan, when complete, "will offer milk on a campus-wide basis to students, visitors and staff" through the automatic machines. "The dispensing of milk," Morrill added, "offers special problems particularly those of refrigeration and proper handling." Sale of milk in the football stadium began with the Illinois game, October 16, President Morrill notified Hagen.

Hagen said that promotion of milk sales through merchandising machines could solve the butter, cheese and powdered milk surpluses now plaguing the government.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

The Better Team

We'll agree that the Bemidji Lumberjacks had a better all-round football team on last Friday night, and deserved to win the game and defeat the Prowlers; but the Jacks weren't twenty-five points to zero better than the Prowlers. A touchdown or two at the most, would have been a fair difference between the teams; and Bemidji's edge was due to the more diversified attack of the Jacks, and particularly on their ability to gain yardage through the air and on the end sweeps of Don Brown.

The Lumberjacks, with Jack Whiting doing the passing, completed seven passes for a net yardage of 155, and two of these pass completions were for touchdowns. Coach Ralph Skjod's Prowlers have shown a weakness on pass defense all season, and Bemidji, who has scouted the locals a number of times, exploited this weakness to the fullest.

And, too, Bemidji took advantage of the few "breaks" that occurred during the game. For instance, on the first scrimmage of the game, Pete Froehle knifed through the line, smeared Whiting in his tracks, forcing a fumble, and it was only a "break" that permitted the Jacks to recover the ball for a couple of Prowlers had shots at the pigskin. A Prowler recovery on the Bemidji 35, would have changed the complexion of the game. Whiting's interception of a Prowler pass, on the locals' 41-yard line, set up Bemidji's first touchdown, and gave the Jacks the opportunity to uncover their first aerial effort, with Erickson catching a pass and running 36 yards for a score.

A blocked kick, in the second period, gave Bemidji a second touchdown. Whiting was given an opening in the Prowler line and he raced in to block Sid Vraa's kick on the Prowler 30-yard line, with the ball bounding back to the Prowler 11 before being downed. A pass into the end zone gave Bemidji the six-pointer.

A "break", too, halted the Prowlers one sustained drive when, in the late minutes of the second quarter, coach Skjod's club had moved to the Bemidji 22-yard line, needing less than a yard on a fourth down try. Vraa, on a play that was to be a hand-off to Froehle, stumbled over the outstretched foot of a team-mate and was downed for no gain.

And it must be considered as a "break" when, on the first play of the fourth period, Whiting intercepted a pass and sprinted 36 yards for a touchdown. Whiting, an all-state selection in basketball and possessed of sure pair of hands, must be given credit for alert defensive play, and it probably was poor strategy to try passes in his direction.

It must be remembered, too, that the majority of the Bemidji plays were being called from the side-line, with quarterbacks Dick Carter and Ross Fortier being alternated in carrying instructions into the huddle. The rules permit such substitutions in high school football, and it does simplify the work of the quarterback to have coaches "call" the plays.

The Prowlers will wind-up their 1954 schedule on Friday night by playing the up-and-coming Crookston Pirates at Crookston, and the locals aren't a "cinch" to win. Not since 1949, when the Pirates defeated the Prowlers 18 to 7, has Crookston bested the locals in football, but this year they'll have their finest chance to gain a win. Crookston has been rebuilding their athletic program and the dividends are about due. The Prowlers should win Friday night's game, and with such a win coach Skjod's squad would have a clear game to the district title, but the boys will have to play all-out football.

By the way, do the Civic & Commerce organizations of the two cities, Crookston and Thief River Falls, still have a felt hat wager on the outcome of the game. Or has Crookston run out of hats, having lost the last four times.

Venison on the Rack

A couple of the city's able archers—John Anderson and Mrs. Ruth Legvold—have been successful in bagging deer via the bow-and-arrow route. A week ago, John, hunting in the Norris Camp vicinity, brought down a yearling buck with a neck shot at forty-two paces. It marked the second time that John had been successful in filling his deer limit with a bow and arrow, but this time the "kill" was much more effective, with the young buck being dropped in his tracks.

Mrs. Ruth Legvold, who is a tournament veteran with the bow and arrow, shot her deer on October 19th, hunting in the Vilas county region of Wisconsin. Ruth sent her arrow into the lung cavity of the deer.

As far as Dr. Jim Diase is concerned, his stories only bring tears to the eyes and no meat to the table. Jim, who is the city's ranking trap shooter, apparently can't hit a standing target with a bow and arrow, for we've learned that he had a broad-side shot, at about twenty-five yards, and missed.

Bombers Gain the Playoffs

The Winnipeg Blue Bombers just squeezed into the WIFU semi-finals, edging out the fourth place Calgary Stampeders, and on a Saturday night, at Winnipeg, the Bombers (who have such former Minnesota stars as Bud Grant, Billy Bye, and Stav Canakes in their line-up) will meet the Regina Roughriders in the first game of a home-and-home total points series. The winners of the Bombers vs. Regina series will meet the Edmonton Eskimos for the right to represent the WIFU in the Grey Cup game for the Canadian football championship.

According to all reports, the Minnesota contingent has been doing all right with the Bombers this season, with Grant being rated among Canada's best ends. Billy Bye has seen much service at halfback for the Bombers, and in a couple of games he has been a winning factor for Winnipeg.

State Teachers Hear Former UN Official

More than 15,000 teachers attended the two-day Minnesota Education association meeting in Minneapolis last Thursday and Friday.

The educators Friday night packed Minneapolis auditorium in the convention's last general session to hear Trygve Lie, former secretary-general of the United Nations.

To cut off the roots of communism, Lie said, the free world must provide more than a rugged military defense and discussions in the U.N.

"Most people in the world are hungry most of the time, are illiterate, are in ill health, are poor and lack clothes and housing," he told the delegates.

"Here are the roots of communism. We must work to give all aid we can to those people who live under conditions we cannot even fully understand.

"If they decide for communism, we are lost," Lie warned.

He said he is more than ever convinced that the U.N. is essential to peace.

Maurine Walker, Austin, Tex., as president of the National Education Ass'n., said Thursday that, as schools opened this fall, they lacked 121,000 needed instructors. She said the annual need for new teachers is 200,000 while only 85,000 were graduated from colleges last year.

Carl J. Megel, Chicago, president of the AFL American Federation of Teachers, addressed a Minnesota Federation of Teachers parley, held in connection with the MEA session. He said this state has more than 23,000 qualified teachers who are not teaching "because of unattractive salaries and other hazards of the profession."

Another speaker at the main meeting, Carlos Romulo, Philippine representative to the United States told the some 15,000 delegates that democracy was being imperilled in the Orient. He advised his nation to make the same friendly approach to other Asiatic countries as it had in the case of the Philippines.

Minnesota Banks Given Top Award for Farm Service

For the 16th consecutive year Minnesota Bankers Association has earned the top 1,000 point rating in national competition measured by the agricultural commission of the American Bankers association. The award certificate was presented by Jesse W. Tapp, chairman of the commission, at the recent 80th annual convention of the bankers association in Atlantic City, and was accepted by William G. King of Grand Rapids, president of the Minnesota Bankers association.

Mr. Tapp, who is vice chairman of the board of the Bank of America, Los Angeles, pointed out that this high rating can be achieved only by an Association whose member banks have been of exceptional service to agriculture during the preceding year, both in the high quality of their regular banking service to farmers, and through especially meritorius activities in the field of agriculture. Program points are awarded for the promotion of soil conservation, and management, cooperation with the extension service of the state agricultural college, support of farm youth organizations, and other fields of banker farmer cooperation.

George M. Robertson, president of the First National Bank, Winona, is chairman of the agricultural committee of the Minnesota Bankers association. His annual report drew special attention to the tree planting project of the state association, bank participation in Keep Minnesota Green, the statewide $10,000 agricultural scholarship program, pormotion and support of dairying, bank participation in the annual Junior Livestock Show, and general support of the interest in all manner of farm youth groups. Mr. Robertson also pointed out the volume of farm loans perennially on Minnesota bank statements.
